TOPDRESS SMALL GRAINS EARLY

Small grains in most sections of North Carolina should be topdressed between February 1 and March 15 for best yields, reports W. H. Rankin, agronomist of the Agricultural Experiment Station at State College.

"Tests have repeatedly shown that late applications of topdressing after April 1 result in lower yields than if the same applications had been earlier," says Rankin. "Last year early topdressings with 16 pounds of nitrogen per acre gave an extra 8 bushels of wheat, for example, while late topdressings gave only 3 bushels."

There should be ample nitrogen materials for topdressing small grains this year, according to the agronomist. Nitrate of soda, calnitro, and ammonium nitrate will be available in most areas and one may be substituted for another. To give 16 pounds of nitrogen 100 pounds of nitrate of soda, 80 pounds of calnitro, or 50 pounds of ammonium nitrate can be used.

As to amounts of nitrogen per acre, Rankin recommends 16 to 32 pounds. He also recommends extra potash along with the nitrogen where heavy crops of legume hay have been removed.

He reports that the condition of small grains is spotted and that where stands are poor, the crop can be reseeded by running the drill across the rows. In such cases the crop will have to be used for hay rather than for grain.

Where there is a complete loss of stand and extra feed supplies are sorely needed, he recommends 3 bushels of Fulgrain or Fulghum oats per acre, put in with a drill, and 300 pounds of fertilizer per acre where no fertilizer was used in the fall.

This farm boy stopped bullets intended for you! . . .

JOE MARTINEZ, Colorado farm boy, his battalion bogged down under withering fire from Jap positions on Attu, arose alone and advanced into a hail of bullets to clean out trench after trench so his battalion could advance. He died with his rifle at his shoulder, pumping lead into the enemy, while his mates were able to move up behind him and successfully take the pass. For this, Joe Martinez has been posthumously awarded the Nation's highest military honor. Let every man who was once a farm boy himself buy an extra War Bond in Joe's honor . . . for Joe took the bullets aimed at the heart of America!
