HEALTH DEPARTMENT NEWS—PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS

Each year in this county pre-school clinics have been held for the benefit of all the children who will start to school the following August. We shall continue to follow this practice.

These clinics are to help you to know if your child has any defects that might delay him or interfere with his ability to learn. You will be advised of these defects and as to whether they need immediate attention. Also the needed vaccinations will be given. As you know, all children must be vaccinated against diphtheria and smallpox before they can enter school.

The schedule is as follows:

March 14th: Busick school, 9:00—10:00; Locust Creek, 10:00—12:00; Harvard School, 1:00—2:00; Celo School, 2:00—3:00.

March 15th: Big Creek, 9:30—10:30; Little Creek, 11:00—12:00; Piney Hill, 1:00—2:00.

March 17th: Bald Creek, 9:30—10:30; Clearmont, 1:30—3:30.

March 28th: Beonford, 9:00—10:00; Micaville, 10:30—12:00; Burnsville, 1:30—3:00.

March 29th: Fee Log, 9:30—11:30; Pensacola 1:30—3:00.

March 30th: Hortons Creek, 9:00—10:00; Prices Creek, 10:30—12:00; Banks Creek, 1:00—2:00; Bakers Creek, 2:00—3:00.

March 31st: Double Island, 9:00—10:00; Brush Creek, 10:30—12:00; Bee Branch, 1:00—3:00.

April 4th: Seven Mile Ridge, 9:30—10:30; Shoal Creek, 11:00—12:00; Burnsville (Col.) 1:30—3:00.

April 6th: Lost Cove.

This schedule will be followed as stated. Please be on time because we have only a limited time to spend in each place, and if every one is not prompt, somebody will fail to be seen. Keep in mind where your child will go to school and note the date of the clinic at that school. The principal of the schools will have a copy, if you are in doubt.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Hanging in mid-air from a flak-hit bomber in Italy, Lt. Joseph R. Cook, Erlton, New York, struggled to kick the nose wheel loose after its mechanism had jammed. Unable to beat the wind pressure on the wheel, he was drawn back into the plane to help the wounded pilot make a desperate belly landing safely. Don't turn your back on the Front—Buy More War Bonds.

HEALTH NEWS

The Health Department is pleased to announce the appointment of Mrs. Alma Banks Shepard as Clerk for the Central office at Burnsville. Mrs. Shepard recently passed the State Merit examination. She was formerly employed by the Feldspar Milling Company of Burnsville.

FARM NOTES

MILK SALES

During the month of January farmers of the county sold 62,756 pounds of market milk to the two milk companies operating five routes through the county. This is an average of 180 gallons per day for the month.

It is easy to look at a list of the pounds of milk sold by each producer and tell if he has a silo or not. If he does, his milk sales will run more evenly from month to month, while the farmer without a silo has to take considerable variation in his total milk sold.

Also, one will find upon investigation that the man with the silo is producing milk at a much cheaper cost per 100 pounds of milk than the man who does not have silage to feed. At present 14 of the 104 farmers selling milk have silos. A renewed drive will be made in 1944 for more silos.

The Demonstration Farmers' association of the county will again loan its ensilage cutter to any farmers in the county who need to fill silos at a very nominal charge. Last year this cutter filled 15 silos for 14 farmers, cutting 286.4 tons of silage in eight of the 11 townships in the county.

VETERANS URGED TO APPLY FOR JOBLESS INSURANCE

W. R. Curtis, Acting Chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, today issued a notice to all veterans who are returning after a discharge from military service that in order to establish their benefit rights they must apply for unemployment insurance within six months of release from the armed forces.

The Unemployment Compensation Law of North Carolina includes a special provision for workers who enter and return from military service. Wage credits established in their unemployment insurance accounts while they were working during the two years before entrance into the armed forces may be brought forward and made available to them as veterans during at least two years following return to civilian life; but only if each veteran files a claim within six months of his military discharge.

Not all returning veterans will have wage credits available for unemployment insurance. The only way a veteran may determine the status of his account is by filing a claim with the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

To make the transfer of his previously earned unemployment insurance credits, a veteran should apply soon after his discharge from service to a claim-taker of the Unemployment Compensation Commission, or to an interviewer of the United States Employment Service, at one of the local Employment Offices throughout the state.

Boiled fish is more tender and delicious if not boiled but simmered instead, report home economists.

WAC RECRUITING

"Members of the Women's Army Corps don't shoot down enemy planes, but they play vital roles in support of the men who do," says Lt. Opal E. Brindle, assistant recruiting officer from the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, Asheville, who visited this week with Sgt. Marie MacFelly, also of the Asheville station.

Lt. Brindle went on to say, "WACS construct accurate models of all types of enemy aircraft, as well as models of our own allied planes for use in aircraft recognition courses. The models are used by aviation cadets, airplane gunners, anti-aircraft gunners and plane spotters, who memorize the characteristics of each type of plane."

The women soldiers fill a total of 239 different kinds of army jobs in the Army Air Forces, Army Ground Forces, and Army Service Forces. Recruits in the WAC now may designate which branch of service they prefer and also may select the particular type of duty they will perform, providing they are qualified for such work. Recruits also may choose service at any particular army station within the geographic limits of the Service Command in which they enlist.

WACS who have no special skill qualifying them for army jobs are given training by army experts. The woman soldier may attend a Photographic school, Code Clerk school, Finance school or an enlisted Technicians' school. She may attend a motor transport course, Cooks' course or Clerks' course.

Just like other soldiers, WACS may compete for selection as an officer candidate. A WAC may apply for officer candidate school after she has completed three months active duty."

Seventy million pounds of extra poultry meat was saved last year in the U. S. because farmers reduced their poultry losses by three per cent.
