BURNSVILLE "So They Say"

The weather: Perfect! Never a March like this, say old timers and young folks alike. Pear trees and plum trees white, apple trees showing the first pink blossom, and lilacs just beginning to scent the air with their indescribable fragrance. . . .

About town: Both Teresa and Frances Coletta (the twins) now home and gaining weight nicely. . . . Rebecca King also home from hospital. . . . More signs of spring: The first ramp, displayed by Grady Bailey who says he gathered it near the Buck home at Bald Mtn. . . . boys playing marbles and soft ball, the shrubbery so attractively set at Taylor home (they bought from the W. M. Englishs), and the English house now almost complete on Summit Street. "Showers", but these are the kind that every spring bride adores and Lucille Gillespie is the favored bride-to-be now. . . . Cute shop: Carl McIntosh's, built next door to Dr. Bennett's office. It looks like a play house but is well equipped for radio repair. Fine to have some where to keep busy on work you like. . . . Moving: the Horace Riddles back home, and now we'll see that picture garden growing again! Vegetable gardens can be beautiful if you have one like this has been each year. . . . The Berrymans to Blowing Rock next week, and we hear that the Nels Kings will move to Gibbs house opposite English home in west Burnsville. . . . Catherine Cherry and children have moved to Troy Ray house nearby. . . . Congratulations to Ruby Glatly who has completed the 80 hour Red Cross Nurse's Aid course at the Florida Sanitarium in Orlando, and received cap in recognition of this! We don't know of any other work that is more needed and more worthwhile at the present time. . . . Remember about Thursday afternoon closing in town. Troy McIntosh says the committee didn't contact him but he's cooperating too, and if there are others we'll let you know about them. . . . Sophomore class of Clearmont entertained Seniors yesterday with theatre party to see "White Cliffs of Dover". Thoughtful of the Sophs and a wonderful picture you still have time to see (on tonight) . . . and if "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" is as gay a movie as the book proved to be, that's something to look forward to also. . . . We didn't have press pass & didn't look in on that Men's Club meeting Monday night but the reports we hear! . . . Forty men present, nearly all of them members, a grand get-together and enthusiastic plans for things they hope to do. . . . Most fortunate that Judge Warlick could be present and his after dinner speech was tops, president Reece McIntosh and secretary Troy Ray report. . . . You won't have to look hard to locate the county library. Thanks to Ike Laughrun there's a most adequate sign to direct you. Haven't checked up on the adults who are taking advantage of the treasures of the library but it is surely popular with the youngsters. . . .

Never thought that the Record would get in the "million" class in anyway, but here we are! Letter

RIVERSIDE NEWS

Miss Tincie Ball of Cromwell, Conn. is here for a few days visit.

It is said that a soldier in wartime wears out shoes ten times as fast as a civilian. His shoe soles are made from leather tanned with chestnut extract.

Chestnut from Western North Carolina is today the world's most important source of tannin for sole leather.

from Royce Brinkley incloses 500,000,000 marks to pay for his subscription to the Hometown paper! . . . He writes: Record: Am inclosing 500,000,000 marks (five hundred million) for which please renew my subscription to the Yancey Record. I love to read and I can't read German. The last news I heard was that the German forces on the western front were advancing "EAST". Meanwhile, in perfect coordination, the German forces on the Eastern front were advancing "WEST". Would like to hear more of the home front.

The following tribute, taken from the Waynesville paper, says just the things about the late Harry Rotha that we would like to have said:

"The ability to say the right thing at the opportune moment is a gift few of us possess, yet all desire. Most of us mean well but go bungling along missing golden opportunities to give verbal proof of our sentiments. We don't think we ever heard more fitting remarks at a funeral service than those of Rev. M. R. Williamson during the last rites for Harry Rotha.

Mr. Rotha lived richly in the friendship of those who knew him and in his family circle, which radiated cheer, not only to its own group, but to outsiders who were fortunate in sharing at times their hospitality. Mr. Rotha was a modest person and never pushed himself forward. Yet he was a person if you had ever known him you did not forget him. With dry wit that took conversation with him out of the rut, and with charity to all he was a good companion. There was no pretense about Mr. Rotha and one felt at all times his sincerity."

MEN IN SERVICE

Wins Citation

With The Americal Infantry Division in the Philippines.—To veteran soldier Pfc. Willis Fields of Burnsville, goes the credit for probably saving a good many of his buddies lives.

His unit, after making a beachhead, was advancing in a skirmish line, cautiously feeling for the main Japanese defenses. Fields suddenly spotted a Japanese machine gun pillbox and shouted a warning. The skirmish line hit the ground and in a few seconds ripples of enemy machine gun fire whistled angrily over the prostrate GIs.

"From then on," said Fields, "It was a free for all. The Japs had more men and more fire power, but we had pretty much surprised them. They had at least three heavy machine guns and several lights cleverly concealed around a Filipino schoolhouse. Fortunately for us, they only had time to man a couple of them. We shot half of them down as they tried to reach them. I was lined up with one Jap crew trying to put a heavy in action. I killed two of them and wounded another. The climax of the action came when about 15 Japs ran into their powder dump and blew themselves up with it. After the smoke cleared away we counted 47 dead Nips—not counting the 15 who had vanished in the explosion. Our casualties were only 5 men wounded. The higher ups said it was a exemplary action."

Fields is the son of Willis Fields of Burnsville.

Following removal of prisoners of war from eastern Germany to camps farther west, and to prepare for epidemics threatening from overcrowding in camps receiving the prisoners, the American Red Cross is increasing in volume and speed of medical shipments and supplies from reserve stocks in Geneva are being rushed to Germany for American and Allied prisoners of war.

Salvaging chestnut acid-wood is essential war work.
