NUMBER FIFTY-ONE

Off-Campus College Unit Is Proposed Here

Supt. Frank W. Howell announces that he is planning to establish, if the need is found, an "Off-campus" unit offering college work at freshman level in Burnsville.

He makes the following statements: "We plan to work in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction and the Steering Committee as set up by the Governor of North Carolina in working out this program of education."

"We are urging that every boy and girl, veteran and non-veteran, living within the radius of ten or fifteen miles of Burnsville, to report to my office on July 22 and 23 for the purpose of registering for this work. It will be necessary to have at least 30 registering in order to make application to the Steering Committee for the establishment of an "Off-Campus" unit.

"I am suggesting that, should there be any veterans who have completed their freshman college work and have been unable to enroll in college, that they report at this time and my office will make every possible effort to arrange with some college unit to accept these veterans for training.

Sgt. Edward Pipes has recently been discharged from service. He entered the army in July 1943. During these 3 years he served in the 252nd AAA Bn. and 46th FA Bn. and was stationed at various camps throughout the States. He was artillery Radar repair man. Mrs. J. B. Hensley of Asheville is visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hensley this week.

"The pupils doing freshman college work in this "Off-campus" unit will receive the same credit as though they were taking the work on campus in the institution offering the work in Burnsville. There is no difference between the value of work done in this "Off-campus" unit than that the veteran does in regular college classes and the credit may be transferred to any other institution, should the pupil be able to enroll next fall as a sophomore in an on-campus course of study.

"Since I must report to the Governor's Steering Committee immediately, it is urged that the registration be completed on the 22nd and 23rd of July, as indicated above.

"In undertaking to offer this special educational program for the boys and girls in and about Burnsville who have been unable to enroll in college this fall, I urgently request the aid and cooperation of all interested citizens in this area."

Home Food Preservation Week

July 15-22 has been designated as National Home Food Preservation Week by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and farm families participating in the FSA program are already hard at work preparing for the coming winter, says G. Irene Edwards, FSA home supervisor for Yancey county.

A week has been set apart to focus attention upon the necessity of home canning and preservation of food at a time when supplies are badly needed throughout the world, and will inaugurate the beginning of intensive food preservation efforts through the summer and fall, Miss Edwards said. Home preservation will increase supplies for American families and at the same time release additional foods adapted for shipment to famine areas abroad.

Homemakers in the FSA program make canning budgets for what their families need to carry them through the winter. Many of them can relatively small quantities every few days, rather than make such a chore of canning all at one time. Homemakers also know Johnson, Day Book; Mrs.

MINUTE MAN

The Minute Man, symbol of savings bonds and stamps since 1941, has turned from war to peace. One of the most widely publicized trade marks of all time, it has appeared on hundreds of millions of defense and war savings stamps, on bill boards, on posters, in sponsored and donated bond advertisements, on leaflets, stamp books and stationery its separate reproductions running into the billions.

A new Minute Man design has now been adopted. The Minute Man has been shown facing to the right, turning away from the plow as he grasps his musket: a symbol of the nation turning from the pursuits of peace to take up arms for freedom.

In the new design the patriot faces to the left, bringing the plow into the foreground; the musket is grounded but still in his grasp. On the base of the statue, is the word "Security."
