The summer painting classes, conducted by Frank Stanley Herring and Edward Swift Shorter, began Saturday with students registered from many sections of the states. Dr. and Mrs. Irving Ritter of New York City have arrived to attend the classes. Dr. Ritter is professor of mathematics at New York University. Mrs. Elizabeth Colin and Miss Stella Henoch of New York are also registered as students in the art classes.

Mrs. Charlton Hudson of Columbus, Ga., Mrs. Waldemar Busing and Mrs. Ray the wrecking of an explosives-laden train, and many others. The picture is filmed against natural backgrounds of stirring ruggedness and a new high of excellence in capturing the pastel colorings of deserts and mountains. Majestic as the film is as a yarn of bygone frontiers, this serves only as a framework for a drama, tragic and intense, played by an all-star cast. Included in the cast are Jennifer Jones, Gregory Peck, Joseph Cotten, Herbert Marshall, Lillian Gish, Lionel Barrymore, Walter Huston, Charles Bickford, and many others. The full flavor of the old southwest is caught in many of the stirring scenes of "Duel in the Sun", and the cast, settings, photography and musical score are incomparable. It is a rare opportunity for local movie-goers to see one of the great pictures of the year before it is released in many large cities throughout the country.

Premier Showing of "Duel In The Sun" Scheduled July 30-31

Great Epic of Old Southwest Will Be Shown Here

The premier showing in Western North Carolina of the super-film, "Duel in the Sun", will be held at the Yancey Theatre on July 30 and 31. David O. Selznick's long-awaited epic is heralded as the most costly motion picture ever produced. It is a story of Texas during those days following the Civil War when the Lone Star state was the scene of million-acre ranches, owned and operated by ruthless land barons, and their armed resistance to progress in the form of railroads and settlers. So, first and foremost, "Duel in the Sun" is a western. The picture's spectacular filming prove to be one of its greatest appeals. The scenes attain indescribable magnitude in several breath-taking sequences—the ride of hundreds of armed cowpokes to stop the progress of an expanding railroad, and the timely arrival of a regiment of cavalry; a bordertown fiesta;
