JUNIOR DAIRY SHOWS WERE HIGHLY SUCCESS

One of the most successful Junior Dairy Cattle Show years since they began in 1941 was recently closed by North Carolina junior dairy farmers, says J. A. Arey, in charge of Dairying for the State College Extension Service.

In the eight district shows which were staged, five of them by white 4-H and FFA members, and three by Negroes, 1,225 head of dairy cattle were exhibited, and $10,000 in prize money were offered by the sponsors.

The shows were held to stimulate greater interest among young people in the development and care of good dairy cattle, Mr. Arey said. In his praise for this year's shows, Mr. Arey said, "more shows have been held more cattle have been exhibited, more money was paid out as premiums, and the average quality of the animals shown was better than ever before."
