BURNSVILLE - "So They Say"

The weather: Much rain during the week end, then down in the low 20s. So perhaps this is the winter weather we've been expecting for so long.

About town: Schools have two-day holiday, and business offices, bank, post office, stores, etc. closed for a quiet observance of Thanksgiving. . . Community Thanksgiving service on Sunday evening with Dr. Harris speaking on "This Is a Good Day." Again, we were reminded that there are many great blessings we enjoy, and also many small things for which we should be Thankful. . . Weddings and coming weddings are very much in the news! Elizabeth Bennett Hughes and Clyde J. Clapp were married November 8, there are several "Thanksgiving or Christmas" ones scheduled. . . and when we wrote several weeks ago about Eloise Bennett's pin she didn't tell us about the beautiful diamond she's wearing! She and Ernest really kept that from us! . . . Bernice Hodge also has new diamond to add a sparkle to the holidays. . . Birthday celebration: Cute young Gene Higgins who was 7 last week. . . Lib Galloway and new son home from hospital. . . and the Edgar Angel's have a new son also. . . Letter this week from Lou Etta, out in Portland, Ore. Said tell every one Hello, and that she still likes to hear all the news about the Hometown. The great Northwest is fine, she says, but they've had the rainiest season in 65 years! . . . New coat of paint for City Cafe building, and the Main Street Texaco station is undergoing complete redoing. . . Wonderful get-together last night for Legion members and members of their families. The annual supper and membership roll call. . . Congratulations to Bess Lewis who is winning much recognition as poet! We had brief account which we printed on page 3 first, then learned more about her more recent honors, and that's on page one of this issue. . . Note: Take time off to read President Truman's Thanksgiving Proclamation. We take too little time, perhaps to think of the real meaning of the day, and he has expressed for all of us the spirit of this, our peculiarly American observance of a day of Thanks.

(More About) Local Poet

er, O. R. Lewis, who was publisher of the Burnsville Eagle until his retirement a few years ago.

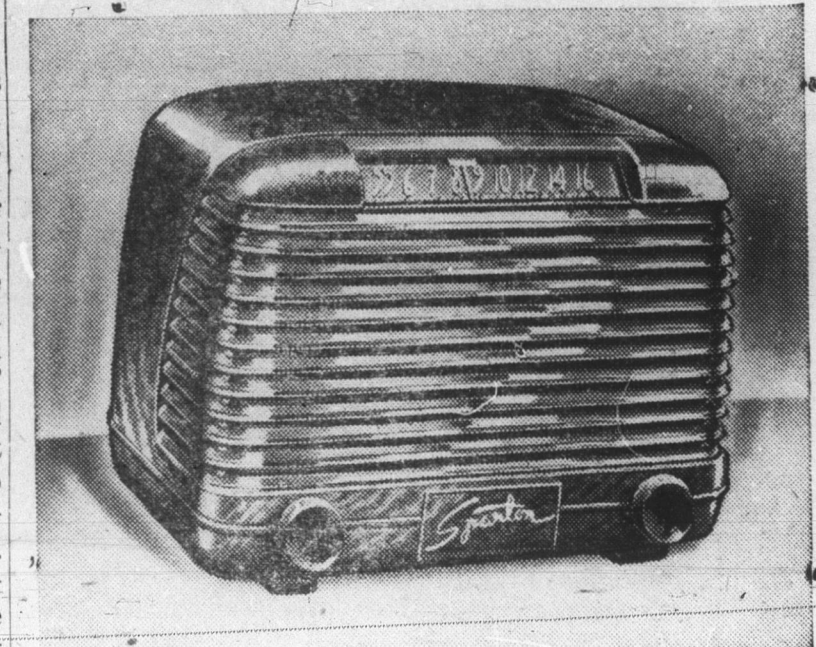

She received her education at Asheville College, Western Carolina Teachers College, Appalachian and the University of North Carolina. She is a life member of the National Poetry Group of New York City, and honorary member of the Eugene Field Literary society, of St. Louis, Mo.

On Thursday evening, November 20 she was honored at a banquet given by R. L. Wiggins, principal, and the faculty of the Pleasant Gardens school.

One way to take out "life insurance" on your electric appliances is to store them in a clean, handy, dry place where they will be protected from falls.

NEW FINISH
A finish for interior surfaces that will withstand marking by water, heat, alcohol, acids and grease seems a possibility, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, as a result of recent research which has developed from sugar a new produce known as allyl sucrose.

SOIL CONSERVATION IS VALUABLE ASSET DECLARES BANKER

Soil is not listed as an item under a bank's inventory, but every banker knows that it is as much an asset to their business as if it were capital stock, says G. C. Hunter, executive vice president of the Peoples Bank in Roxboro and chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the North Carolina Bankers Association.
