Yancey County Is Still Free of Polio

Quarantine Still in Effect

There are no cases of polio in Yancey county, according to a check this morning with the district health office.

The District Health Department advises all residents of this county that the quarantine on children under sixteen years of age is still in effect. This quarantine also means that children from other counties are not to enter this county without permission from the local Health Department. The practice of taking children from one part of the county to another is probably why infantile paralysis is spread to different sections, and the quarantine was placed in effect here with the view of keeping this county free of this disease if possible.

The only case reported thus far from Mitchell county, Mrs. Ella Jean Willis of Wing, is recovering at her mother's home, having had a very mild case of polio. However, two new cases have already been reported from the southern part of Avery county, bringing the total for Avery county to four cases. All of these are now in the Asheville Orthopedic Home except one, who is convalescing at home after a few days in a hospital. The latest case from Avery county had no muscle weakness and should be home in a few days. A quarantine on all children under sixteen has been imposed in Avery County.

George Brown Home Completely Destroyed By Fire

The home of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown a mile west of Burnsville was completely destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. All furnishings were also burned except a refrigerator.

The cause of the fire was unknown as no one was at home when it caught. Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Baggett were visiting Mrs. Jimmy Smith in Rock Hill, S. C.

Within a few minutes after the blaze was discovered the fire truck was at the house, but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save it.

The house was purchased several years ago from the late J. P. Gibbs and was a large two story frame building. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Methodist Church

The subject sermon for the morning service will be "A Word Fitly Spoken". W. C. DeVeny will be soloist. In addition to this service, the pastor will preach at the Concord church at 3 o'clock, and at the Bolens Creek church at 7:45.

Baptist Church

At the morning service the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Holy City", and W. C. DeVeny will be soloist. At the evening service the subject will be "Christ and the Tumult".

At the evening hour the program of music will include a solo by Mr. DeVeny, a quartet by Betty Lee Fox, Mrs. Dewey Bailey, Jr., Bobby Ruth Banks and Helen Westall, and an organ and piano duet by Mrs. Madge Taylor and Evelyn Hamrick.

SILEX COFFEE SHOP SOLD TO FLOYD KING

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burton have sold the Silex Coffee Shop to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd King, and the Kings took over the management on Wednesday.

The Silex has been very successfully operated by the Burtons for the past two years, and the Kings plan to offer the same service to the patrons. The same staff remains with the shop.

Mrs. S. T. Bennett who suffered a stroke Saturday at her home in east Burnsville is slightly improving.

ANNUAL MEETING POSTPONED UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE

The Board of Directors of the French Broad Electric Membership Corporation, on August 3, in a special meeting voted to postpone the Annual Meeting called for August 7. This action was taken in order to cooperate with the Board of Health in postponing large gatherings of people until late fall when it is hoped that the danger of infantile paralysis is passed.

Presbyterian Church

August 8, morning worship at 11 o'clock. Adult Bible class at 10:15. Dr. Harris' subject for the 11 o'clock service is, "You May Be Protected". A cordial invitation to visitors.

Presbyterian Church

There will be two weeks of Revival services during the month of August under Presbyterian church, USA auspices. Revival services will be held at the Presbyterian church at Higgins, Monday through Friday, August 9-13, and at the Lower Jacks Creek Presbyterian church, Monday through Friday, August 16-20. All services will begin promptly at 7:45 p. m.

Ministers in charge of both series of revival services will be: Mr. Eugene Stallings, a Southern Baptist minister working with the Presbyterian Board of National Missions for the summer, and Mr. Frank Caughey, Presbyterian minister who has been serving the six rural Presbyterian churches in Yancey county this summer.

Preaching services Sunday, August 8 will be held in the Lower Jacks Creek church at 11 a. m.; Upper Jacks Creek church at 3 p. m. and at the Mine Fork church at 8 p. m. Mr. Caughey will preach on the subject: "You Owe It To God" and the text will be Luke 20:25.

PARKING METERS ARE REMOVED FROM THE TOWN STREETS

This week, by order of the town board, the parking meters are removed from the streets of Burnsville.

The meters were installed on a nine-month trial basis as a means of solving some of the traffic problems and of paying the costs of traffic regulation within the town. Sometime ago the board agreed to have them removed when the trial period was ended.

GOOD ATTENDANCE IN EXTENSION CLASSES

Attendance has doubled over last year in the education classes offered here by the extension department of Woman's College according to a statement today by C. W. Phillips, director of extension work of the college.

The courses that are being taught at the present time are Guidance with Mr. Phillips as instructor, Reading with Miss Edith Huffman as instructor, History with Dr. Bardolph, music with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. DeVeny, and the drama courses under the direction of W. R. Taylor.

A total of seventy students are enrolled in the teachers courses, and in the veterans class in history. There are 14 taking private voice lessons, 40 enrolled in the choral group and sixteen are enrolled in the drama courses.

The education classes scheduled for the last two weeks of the summer session are Problems in Elementary Art and Religious Education in Public Schools.

The four weeks music course which was added this year to the school of fine arts curriculum will close next week. A concert will be given in the Playhouse on August 14.

Annual Dinner Meeting Will Be Held Friday

Kerr Scott Will Be Guest

Over one hundred students in the Extension Division and the School of Fine Arts of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, will be guests of the College at the annual dinner meeting of the schools on Friday evening at 6 o'clock in the school lunch room, according to C. W. Phillips, director of the college extension division who will serve as master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Dr. Jackson Will Speak

Dr. W. C. Jackson will be the main speaker at the meeting which will also be attended by alumnae of the college, the board of directors of the Burnsville Playhouse, Inc., and several state and county officials. Dr. Jackson will tell the assembled group of the work of the College in Burnsville and the growth of the projects through the helpful cooperation of the citizens of Yancey county.

W. Kerr Scott, Democratic candidate for governor, will sing several choral heads the list of state officials who will be present for the dinner and the performance of "Years Ago". Mr. Scott will also say a few words to those present at the dinner.

W. R. Taylor, director of the Burnsville Playhouse and member of the Woman's College faculty, will introduce Dr. Jackson to the crowd assembled at the Playhouse where the group will adjourn after dinner for the performance of "Years Ago".

Dr. Frank P. Graham, president, W. D. Carmichael, comptroller and Samuel Selden, head of the drama department of the Greater University of North Carolina have also been invited to attend the meeting and inspect the work of the Woman's College in Burnsville.

The Burnsville Chorus of the School of Fine Arts, directed by W. C. DeVeny, head of the voice department at the Woman's College, will make its first public appearance at this time. The chorus, part of the School of Fine Arts, will sing several choral numbers at the close of the meeting.

Second Playhouse Production Is Ready

"Years Ago" Will Be Given

The curtain will rise this evening at 8:30 on the Burnsville Playhouse production of "Years Ago", second production of the season by the local summer theatre group. The autobiographical comedy by Ruth Gordon is directed by W. R. Taylor, and will also be presented on Friday and Saturday nights.

A local resident, Mrs. Exam Lewis, fourth grade teacher in the Micaville school, will play one of the leading roles in the comedy. All local citizens who wish to participate in the activities of the Playhouse will be admitted to the performance this evening free in exchange for any old clothes, furniture, crockery or any other sort of bric-a-brac, which the Playhouse technicians will transform into stage props as the occasion arises.

Gordon Bennett, technical director, has transformed the stage of the Playhouse into the dining-sitting room of the Jones' home in Wollaston, Massachusetts, where all the family activities are carried on in a most amusing manner. It is in this room that the family eats, Ruth receives her beau, the drayman stops to have a piece of pie, Mr. Jones grudgingly sits down to pay the family bills, and Punk, the family cat, hides under the register in cold weather.

Hilmar Sallee of the University of Miami, who was with the Playhouse last year, has arrived and has added his finishing touches to the setting.

Other members of the staff for "Years Ago" include Bill Cornell of Washington, Pa., stage manager; Dolly Davis of Atlanta, Ga., master electrician; Anna Graham of Oxford, costumes; Virginia Hauser of Pfafftown and Peggy Sutton of Clinton, properties, Janet Jones of Wilmington, production secretary; Dixie Lyon of Allenhurst, New Jersey, sound effects, Claude Rayborn of Greensboro, business manager and Barbara Sutlive of Savannah, Ga., publicity.

Assistants to the technicians are Larry Lambeth, Greensboro; Doris Justice, Rutherfordton; Tresca Spain, Durham; Anne Edwards, New Bern and Alice Brumfield of Yadkinville.
