FARM NOTES

The members of the Yancey Artificial Breeders Association, Inc., are improving their dairy herds by taking advantage of the opportunity offered them through artificial insemination. By using bulls whose ability to transmit desirable characteristics in their offspring has been proven, the daughters are almost certain to be an improvement over the dam. This is true even if the dam is a grade cow.

Anyone who wishes to take advantage of this method of herd improvement may do so by contacting any of the following men:

C. B. Gillespie, Rt. 2, Burnsville; Blake Ray, Rt. 1, Burnsville; B. B. Hensley, Bee Log; C. M. Deyton, Green Mtn.; Rotha Bailey, Rt. 1, Burnsville; Grover Robinson, Rt. 2, Burnsville; Harmon Edwards, Cane River; Yates Randolph, Rt. 1, Green Mtn.; Gaw Sparks, Rt. 1, Green Mtn.; R. N. Silvers, Micaville; Paul D. Geouge, Celc; County Agents Office, Phone 2, Burnsville.

WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA
TOBACCO QUEEN CONTEST

The Asheville Tobacco Market

RULES

Any unmarried girl, 16 years or over on Nov. 1, 1948, who has an active part in the raising of tobacco, is eligible. She becomes a candidate for queen by filling and mailing this official entry blank, and also agreeing to these rules. After becoming a candidate, she will be supplied with post-card ballots that she may use to secure whatever vote she can. The voting ballots in The Asheville Citizen, The Asheville Times, and the Farmers' Federation News may also be used for voting. Only Tobacco Growers are entitled to vote (not their entire family.)

Each grower may vote for only one candidate. The votes will not count unless they have been properly filled in, and signed.

No past queen of the Asheville Tobacco market is eligible for this year's contest.

All votes must be in, or postmarked by midnight, Nov. 10.

A candidate must agree that if she is elected queen she will be present for the opening of the Asheville Tobacco market and the other functions and celebrations in connection with the Asheville Tobacco market unless some unforeseen difficulty should prevent her from doing so, and also allow her name and photograph to be used in connection with these events.

Should a candidate use all her ballots, she may secure additional ballots by writing to the Tobacco Queen Contest, Box 449, Asheville, N. C., and requesting additional ballots.

Prizes worth over $300 will be awarded the queen and she will be honor guest at a number of events.
