Atkins Introduces School Bill

Representative Bill Atkins introduced legislation in the House of Representatives last Friday to name the Yancey County Board of Education. This is the first bill to be introduced concerning schools during this session of the General Assembly.

The bill would appoint three men to the board of education who were nominated in the Democratic convention for the county held last summer. The men nominated were Jobe Thomas, Mark Bennett and Clyde Ayers. If the legislation passes, the men will take office at the regular date for installation of the board in this county, the first Monday in April.

The bill would change the date the superintendent takes office to July 1 instead of the first Monday in April.

The measure would provide for appointment of a three member school committee in every school district in the county to serve for two-year terms. School committees would elect teachers for their respective schools subject to the approval of the board of education and the superintendent.

The legislation followed

Town To Get $4,058.00 If Bill Passes

Basing the population on the 1940 census, Burnsville will receive $4,258.00 from State funds for city streets if the municipal aid bill passes the General Assembly, according to W. D. Snider, Information Director of the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

Thirty of North Carolina's largest cities would get approximately $3,000,000 and the remaining $2,000,000 will be divided among 353 other cities and towns under provisions of the Powell municipal aid bill, according to preliminary estimates made by the Division of Statistics and Planning of the State Highway Commission.

The bill, which is now in the Senate Appropriation Committee, would allocate $5,000,000 directly to each town's governing body for use on streets which do not form a part of the state highway system or county road connections. The State Highway Commission would continue to maintain all streets forming part of its highway system inside municipalities.

The State Highway Commission opposes allocating $5,000,000 annually for street purposes unless additional revenue is made available. In a hearing on the bill this week, Commission officials said all current highway funds are badly needed for $300,000,000 worth of deficiencies on the state's primary highway system. None of the $200,000,000 bond issue funds may be used on primary highways.

The $5,000,000 breakdown estimates are based on the 1940 census since 1950 figures have not yet been released by the federal government for all cities and towns. The accompanying list shows the approximate breakdown of the municipal fund for each municipality eligible for funds if the bill should pass.
