Through This Preacher's Study Window

D. B. Alderman, Pastor
 Burnsville Methodist Church

When you are reading this I will be out from Mocksville preaching in a revival meeting. I will be meeting all kind of people just like they are around any Church or community. Some of them will be like a man Jesus was talking to one day when he said, "One thing thou lackest."

Jesus knew life was made up of two extremes. People were either for Him or against Him. Literally, people were a friend or an enemy to Him, there was no in-between. It was a case of nothing or all, because there is no compromise in living the Christ-way of life.

Not only to Christ is man called to totally dedicate himself. Parents are many times called upon to risk all for their child. A bride and groom are called upon to "forsake all others" in dedication to each other. A Christian convert is asked of Jesus to forsake the world and follow Him. But the "Rich Young Ruler" didn't want to go all the way. He didn't give anything, because he would not give all.

Speaking of being a Christian Steward, a Christian Trustee, as we have been talking about for the last two weeks, we today have another thought that is very important especially in today's living. We have gotten to the place where we try to convert God, instead of letting God convert us. We are trying hard to compromise with God. We think we can hoodwink God and it gives us an idea that we are getting by with it. Not so. We are only packing back sin under the surface of our soul. We are not hiding it from God. Our lives will be just like the world crises one day, it will explode in our faces.

Nothing must be allowed to stand in the way of our complete, all-out dedication of self and substance to Christ. Anything less makes us unworthy followers of Christ.

WOOD THRUSH

I hear the thrush's liquid song
 Poured out upon the breaking day.
 In silvery tones it floats along
 To greet the sun's advancing ray.

Sweet singer of the leafy wood,
 Such soul you pour upon the air
 Did you in forest solitude
 Attain the wealth you daily share?

Or do you by instinct repeat
 The song by some bright spirit
 given
 To you in woodland's wild retreat,
 An echo of a voice from heaven?

DUPLAN NEWS

Modern textile research and manufacturing have made changes in the famous Bermuda ocean race, which was won a few days ago by "Carina," owned by Richard S. Nye of Greenwich, Conn., who sailed her under the flag of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club.

Three new synthetic fabrics—made of Dacron, Orlon, and Nylon—were used for the "Carina's" sails. The Duplan Corporation, which wove and popularized the first nylon sail-cloth made after the end of the war, was represented by the large Dacrin mainsail and the numerous nylon spinners, genoa jibs and other light sails. The mizzen sail was of Orlon.

Sailmakers, Hathaway, Reiser & Raymind, fitted the choice of fabric to the particular use of the sail, using light, extra strong nylon fabrics for those that might require frequent handling. Other sails needed non stretching Dacron fabrics which would hold their shape, even in heavy winds, so their sailing efficiency would remain high.

The sailing of these long ocean races, as well as those on the small lakes of the country, have become battles of sail fabric weavers and sailmakers, in addition to the boat builders and skippers who torferly mere given most of the credit for winning. Yatching seems to be getting to the point where chemists in laboratories and fabric weavers in textile mills may become deciding factors in the great sport of sailing.

WED.-THU. — JULY 30-31

THE TRUE LIFE STORY OF A GREAT CAROLINIAN! David Marshall "Marsh" Williams of Godwin, Cumberland County, North Carolina, in defiance of his family, went to prison for a crime he never committed. He overcame the shame of it, won fame and a pardon by perfecting a daphne gun while in solitary confinement. It is a wonderful story of a fighting spirit and through it all is his romance with a girl who never lost faith in him. One of the most illustrious pages from the history of the men who have done so much to make this nation great.
