EDITORIAL COMMENT

After World War II a young man was discharged from an Army hospital with both legs amputated. His future looked so black that he gave up all previous dreams or ambitions. Since he had not completed high school, he settled down to living on his pension and earning a few cents selling newspapers on street corners. One day a man, a total stranger urged him to finish his high school training. After much urging and persuasion, he finally agreed to complete his high school work by correspondence. He made such high grades that he received a scholarship to a small college.

A few years later, the stranger wrote, "This is a red letter day. The young handicapped soldier whom I talked into finishing his high school, just graduated from one of the country's leading universities with a doctor's degree."

This is a true story and an example of what a little education counseling can do. Undoubtedly a number of very bright youngsters in our own county are missing an opportunity to get started just for the want of a little encouragement and guidance on a brilliant career. Who knows but that one of the boys or girls in Yancey County who is allowed to drop out of school this year might, if encouraged to continue, become a person of whom we would say proudly, "He came from our county."

MATERIAL GOODS

I shall not see again, nor many another,
That cloud so frail in gold and rose,
As the lacey wisps evaporating
Faded forever where beauty goes.

Material gains and the work accruing
Has place, but backs bend under its size.
The fragrance of lilies, the magic of nature
Puts blood in man's bones and joy in his eyes.

DECORATION

There will be a decoration at the Smith Cemetery, 1 mile East of Burnsville, Sunday, Sept. 4th at 10 o'clock. All relatives and the public are invited.

Are your pastures good this fall? The cheapest source of feed for a dairy cow is good pasture but in the fall they get tough and it is harder for cows to get enough to furnish as large a part of the necessary nutrients as earlier in the year. Dry cows are often neglected and they actually need better feeding and care than one that is milking. She has a big job to do then—the calf to be grown and her body to be rebuilt for a long lactation. Don't neglect this important time. I mentioned Wentz McIntosh last week. He religiously feeds his dry cows on D&F and his cows are beginning to show results that were hard to imagine a year ago. His dry cow feeding is paying big dividends.

WHEN SOWS FARROW

1. Wash and disinfect hands and all instruments to be used in Purina Disinfectant solution. Dip again before each use.
2. Take up each pig, wipe away slimy mucus, especially from nose and mouth.
3. Clip needle teeth, using sharp clippers, to prevent pigs from injuring each other and sow's udder and teats.
4. After they are clipped, paint gums with iodine-glycerine mixture. If ear are notched, paint notches with iodine.

5. Keep each litter in crate or box first 2 or 3 days. Place with sow every 2 or 3 hours.
6. Keep pigs warm, clean, dry.
7. Remove damp bedding and manure daily.

"Fast-Start" Twins right

Start for Baby Pigs

Work on more than 200 litters of pigs at the Purina Research Farm over a 5-year period proves that new and super palatable Baby Pig Chow is right for starting pigs. It tempts pigs to start eating and gaining early, has just the growth booster young pigs need.

New Baby Pig Chow and Pig Startena have now teamed up to become Purina's "Fast-Start" Twins. We'll bet you grow and wean heavy pigs on these fine products, too.

- Q—Can you tell me what a death tax is?
- A—The inheritance tax is regarded as a death tax since it becomes payable, only upon the death of a person.
- Q—Were all the recommendations of the Joint Committee on Organization enacted into law by passage of the Legislative Reorganization Act?
- A—No. Some of the important recommendations not adopted included a joint legislative-executive council; a Congressional personnel office; a stenographic pool; an administrative assistant for every member; creation of a formal policy committee.
