Tobacco Acreage Reserve Compliance Explained

There are three main ways in which a tobacco farmer may bring his 1956 tobacco acreage into the Acreage Reserve program of the Soil Bank, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation, Committee Chairman Alvin Pate said today.

He explained the three actions as follows:

1. The farmer may underplant his tobacco acreage allotment and certify that this was done in anticipation of complying with the 1956 Acreage Reserve or because of adverse weather conditions at planting time.
2. He may refrain from harvesting the crop on a portion of his tobacco acreage allotment because of destruction by natural causes.
3. He may plow or otherwise physically incorporate an agreed-upon acreage of the crop into the soil or clip, mow, or cut it before an established final date, which in no case may be later than July 31.

Points 2 and 3, Mr. Pate pointed out, are special provisions for the 1956 crop year because of the late enactment of the program. He said it is anticipated that different provisions will apply to 1957 and succeeding under the Soil Bank.

Tobacco land placed in the acreage Reserve in any of the above ways, Mr. Pate said, may not be cut for hay or cropped for the entire 1956 calendar year and may not be grazed after June 22. Noxious weeds must be controlled on the acreage.

Participation in the Acreage Reserve program under the Soil Bank will not affect the tobacco grower's future acreage allotments, Pate said today.

Even though the farmer reduces his tobacco crop to earn Soil Bank acreage reserve payments and help with surplus adjustment, he will receive credit for having planted the full amount of his acreage allotment. In that way, his tobacco history will be protected for allotment purposes.

Mr. Pate pointed out that farmers have only until July 20 to sign agreements for participation in the tobacco Acreage Reserve program.

Raleigh, N. C.—The State Highway Commission completed 57.6 miles of improvements on roads in the Thirteenth Highway Division during June, Commissioner J. Fleming Snipes said today.

An experienced roadbuilder, W. M. Corkill, is Division Engineer, and J. T. Knight is Assistant Engineer. B. S. Connelly is District Engineer for Yancey, Buncombe, Madison and Mitchell counties.

In Yancey County, State forces graded, drained and surfaced with a bituminous surface treatment US 19-W from the junction of US 19, north for five miles. The highway is 18 feet wide. The 16-foot wide Hardscabble Road was graded, drained and surfaced with traffic-bound macadam by State forces for 0.5 mile.

DOCTORS, HEALTH OFFICERS URGE VACCINATION FOR PERSONS UNDER 21

The third dose of Salk vaccine is now available to all children who have had the first two, according to the District Health Office. This dose should be given from seven to nine months after the second, it was pointed out; but even if a longer interval has elapsed, it is still effective and should be given. The Health Department here has asked that this announcement be repeated for the benefit of those who may have missed seeing it in this newspaper two weeks ago.

All persons under twenty who have not had the vaccine, or who have had only one dose, are also urged by the Health Department to go to the Burnsville health office or to their family doctor's office to receive this protection while it is available. Health Department Clinics are held every Monday from 1:00 to 5 p. m. The vaccine may be given to children as young as six months. Expectant mothers are the only adults eligible to receive it.

Dr. Melvin W. Webb, Burnsville physician, also stated this week that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has directed letters to all physicians in general practice, requesting that they urge the people in their respective districts to sponsor and encourage the use of the Polio-melic vaccine which is now available in plentiful amounts.

Now is the season of greatest incidence of the dreaded disease, Dr. Webb said, and inoculation now could easily prevent the disease in our county.

The U. S. Public Health Service, The American Medical Association and all other medical organizations have concurred in the opinion that it is both safe and desirable to use, Dr. Webb said. He pointed out that over thirty million children in the United States have been inoculated without any ill effect since May, 1955. It has been proven in 23 test areas that the vaccine is at least 75% effective in preventing the paralyzing form of the disease, he said.

The vaccine is available at the Public Health Office or from your private physician.

"It is my personal feeling," Dr. Webb said, "that everyone should be vaccinated, from the old to the young; it is particularly urgent that all children and expectant mothers receive the vaccine."

Scouts Aid At Easter Seal Camp

Scout Master Herman Bostain and four Scouts of the Burnsville Troop took part in the opening of the Crippled Children's Camp at South Toe River Sunday. Scouts joining in aiding the handicapped campers to get settled for the four-week period of camping were David Boone, Robert Allen, Clarence Hall and Douglas Huskins.

The Easter Seal Fund of the N. C. Crippled Children organization made the camp possible for handicapped children this year, which is the first time such a project has been carried on in this section. The camp is owned by the Optimist Club of Asheville and was leased by the Easter Seal Organization for the children.

Mr. Bostain said the Scouts worked several hours aiding the campers to get settled in their quarters, and one Scout, David Boone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Boone, was selected by camp officials as junior counselor at the camp.

Members of the Legion and Auxiliary, their guests, and all veterans are urged to attend.

"Sabrina Fair" Will Open Drama Season Here This Week

Ed Downes Directs First Production

Ed Downes, now of Miami, Florida, will be with the Parkway Playhouse company this summer to direct "Sabrina Fair," which will mark the opening of the 1956 season.

Prior to work on radio and television, Downes worked with a number of New York theatre productions. He began his theatrical career as a stage manager, one of the most important figures in the production of a stage show, and later established himself as a most capable director.

He directed a number of road shows of Broadway productions in which he had originally worked. These include "Street Scene," "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," "Two On An Island," and "Strip For Action."

After fifteen years of theatre he entered the fields of radio and television. In radio he directed "The Aldrich Family," "The Kate Smith Hour," and many of the day-time serials. Among his experiences on television was that of serving as production manager for the Somerset Maugham Theatre.

In later years he became instrumental in establishing the Coconut Grove Playhouse in Miami. The Grove is now recognized as one of the leading off-Broadway theatres in the nation.

A down-to-earth personality and a wonderful sense of humor make him a favorite with actors working under his direction. His interpretation of "Sabrina Fair" can't miss as one of the highlights of the Burnsville season.

The Playhouse presents Downes' sparkling version of "Sabrina Fair" on July 20th and 21st. Curtain at 8:00 p. m.

MRS. J. B. TRAMMEL PASSES AWAY

Mrs. J. B. Trammel, mother of the Rev. Charles B. Trammel of Burnsville, passed away early Wednesday morning in the Rutherford Hospital, Rutherfordton, after a long illness. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

John Stephen and Dick Gallo-way of Austin, Texas, are spending the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George V. Anglin, in Burnsville. John Stephen visited his aunt, Mrs. J. C. Pleasant of Marion, last week.

The Parkway Playhouse of Burnsville opens their 1956 season with Samuel Taylor's modern comedy, SABRINA FAIR. Under the direction of Edward Downes, of New York and Miami, the production promises to be the first "hit" of the season. Downes is well-known in N. Y. theatre and radio, having directed many productions in both fields.

Included in the cast of twenty are: Sharron Frye, of Miami, Fla., as "Sabrina"; Warren Hansen, Watska, Ill., as "Linus Larrabee, Jr."; Grace Klein, Tampa, Fla., as "Maude Larrabee"; Jim Reynolds, Miami Beach, Fla., as "David Larrabee"; Robert Gwaltney, Miami, Fla., as "Linus Larrabee"; Barbara Foosner, Brooklyn, N. Y., as "Julia McKinloik"; Roberta Hyland, Flushing, N. SENSATIONAL PICTURE AT YANCEY THEATRE NEXT WEEK

One of the starkest, most sensational and uncompromising novels of the last decade, Nelson Algren's "The Man With the Golden Arm," has been brought to the screen by Otto Preminger. The film will be shown Tues. & Wed. at the Yancey Theatre, released by United Artists.

Frank Sinatra is starred in "The Man With the Golden Arm" as Frankie Machine, "golden-armed dealer" and drug-addict; Eleanor Parker plays Zosh, his embittered, wheel-chair ridden wife; and Kim Novak is Molly, the voluptuous cabaret dancer of the novel. The strong supporting cast is headed by Darren McCavin, Arnold Stang, Robert Strauss, John Conte, Doro Merande, George Matthews, Emile Meyer and George E. Stone.

Sharron Frye, Robert Gwaltney, and Jeannie Hotard return to the Playhouse for their second season. Sharron will be remembered for leading roles in LO AND BEHOLD, SUDS IN YOUR EYE, and for her brilliant portrayal of "Emily Webb" in OUR TOWN. Robert Gwaltney appeared as the villain in DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS and was booed and hissed appropriately for his talented interpretation. Jeannie Hotard appeared as one of the ghosts in LO AND BEHOLD, as the ingenue in SUDS IN YOUR EYE, and as the heroine in DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS. She received much praise for her work in all three shows.

SABRINA FAIR is the story of Sabrina Fairchild, the chauffeur's daughter, who returns to the U. S. from France where she has been going to school and learning the ways of the world.

No longer a child, Sabrina becomes involved with the sons of the wealthy tycoon for whom her father works. As she flits from one amusing situation to another, Sabrina, whose only talent is that of living life to the utmost, completely captures the attention and the hearts of everyone she encounters.

This highly provocative comedy will be presented on July 20th and 21st at the Playhouse. Curtain at 8:00 p. m.

Memorial Books Added To Library

Memorial books honoring the late Garrett Wray of Burnsville and Albuquerque, New Mexico, have been presented to Yancey County Public Library at Burnsville by Mrs. Karl Bellack and Mrs. Ruth T. Wray. The books have been chosen to represent some of Garrett Wray's wide interests in history and travel.

"River of the Carolinas; The Santee" by Henry Savage, Jr., of Camden, South Carolina, is the latest addition to the Rivers of America series. It begins with some of the many tributaries of the Santee river that rise in North Carolina—particularly the Linville and the Catawba. The book traces the varied and interesting history and economics of life along the river as crops have gradually changed from rice and indigo and cotton to forests.

"North With The Spring" by Edwin Teale is the account of a naturalist's trip from Florida, to Maine, zigzagging across eastern America to keep pace with, and yet not get ahead of the northward-moving spring season. Many of the chapters deal with sections of western North Carolina and several chapters were written about scenes near Hendersonville, Asheville, and Blowing Rock.

"The Colorado" by Frank Waters is another volume in the Rivers of America series. It is a study not only of the river system, but also of the vast country it drains. It describes man's many endeavors to control this great river.

Each memorial book bears a special bookplate in the front and is displayed on a special shelf at the library. It was announced by H. G. Bailey, Chairman of the Yancey County Public Library Board.

Miss Grubb To Show Slides At Library

The Yancey County Public Library invites the public to see slides taken in Scotland, England, and Italy by Miss Frances Grubb of Albuquerque, New Mexico, at the public library, Burnsville, on Monday, July 23rd, at 8 p. m.

Miss Grubb visited Scotland as an exchange teacher under The Fulbright Exchange plan during the year 1953-54. She taught 2nd grade in the town of Coatbridge, the birthplace of the Rev. Peter Marshall.

Contrasts between American and Scottish educational methods were vividly experienced by Miss Grubb. Many impressions of life in other countries were felt to be a challenge to American citizens.

Announcement

Several people have reported to this newspaper that they have not received their pictures from a certain photographic company from Tennessee, whose representatives were in Burnsville on May 22. On that date, pictures were made of persons who had previously bought $1.00 certificates with the understanding that the $1.00 covered the full cost of the picture.

We feel this company's dealings with the people here should be reported to the Better Business Bureau of Tennessee; therefore, we ask anyone who has found this company to give unsatisfactory service in anyway to report such dealings, in writing, to this newspaper at your earliest convenience.
