THIS WEEK'S SAFETY MESSAGE

By Cameron F. McRae, M. D.

The following suggestions are made in "A Child Safety Handbook" to avert cutting and stabbing accidents to young children:

1. Keep knives out of the reach of prying fingers—preferably in a knife-holder.
2. Do not mix sharp knives with regular flatware, and never leave sharp knives lying about.
3. Do not let small children play with sharp scissors. There are inexpensive plastic scissors that will cut only paper. When the child is old enough he should be taught never to run around with a pair of scissors in his hand.
4. Tin toys and plastic toys that are broken may have sharp edges. Rough wooden toys may have splinters. Throw them away or repair them properly. Look over the child's accumulation of toys regularly to remove those that are dangerous.
5. Razor blades should be kept where little explorers cannot find them. Many children cut themselves on razor blades and some have swallowed them. Keep old razor blades in a sealed box that has a slot for an opening, or wrap them carefully and place in a garbage pail.

BRASS, copper and chrome trays, lamps, fireplace irons and vases can be protected if you give them a coat of wax to retard tarnish and corrosion.

Walls which have a calcimine paint on them should be washed thoroughly with a sponge and warm water before paint is applied. Unless the calcimine is washed off thoroughly, new paint will not adhere properly.

When you clean walls with a long-handled brush, don't forget to use it on the tops of doors and window frames at the same time.

For heavily soiled floors, use a good wax and dirt remover, rinse it off after using, then apply a fresh coat of wax.

To save time in keeping furniture good looking, use a cream wax which cleans the wood finish as well as leaving a soft waxy luster.

Washing slip covers? When they're still slightly damp, put them back on the furniture and let them dry on the pieces for a better fit. You need press them only slightly if you do this.

Use a sponge when you wash windows with a vinegar and water solution and you'll save cleaning cloths. Polish the windows dry with a lint-free cloth and they will really shine.
