Jr. Woman's Club Sponsoring Clothing Closet

The Junior Woman's Club of Burnsville is sponsoring a children's clothing drive on Friday, September 21 between the hours of 1 and 3 p. m. All donations should be brought to the small room back of the Burnsville Elementary School gymnasium. If there are those who have clothing and do not have a way to the school they are urged to call a member of the Club and she will be glad to pick up the articles of clothing.

The Junior Woman's Club has sponsored the Clothing Closet for several years. In previous years they have worked in connection with the Welfare Department, but this year they are not associated with this Department. They are endeavoring to clothe only needy elementary school children and will operate from the school.

Shoes are especially needed by some of the first and second graders. All mothers are urged to sort their children's clothing and are asked to donate those articles that they cannot use as they are urgently needed by less fortunate children.

Yancey Included In U. S. Forest Service Plans

Yancey County is included in the plans of the U. S. Forest Service for expansion of recreation facilities in Western North Carolina, according to Congressman Roy A. Taylor.

"How fast these projects can be completed depends on how rapidly we can secure the appropriations," said Taylor, who has fully endorsed the Forest Service program.

He listed as follows the proposals contained in Hanlon's report for Yancey County:

1. Seven Mile Ridge Recreation Area. This area is located just north of the Blue Ridge Parkway three miles north of Buck Creek Gap. Seven Mile Ridge will be developed for camping and picnicking.
2. South Toe Recreation Area. South Toe is located in the South Toe Drainage about two miles south of Busick. This area will be developed primarily for camping.
