JOHN G. TOWER

ASHEVILLE — U. S. Senator John G. Tower of Texas, Republican who replaced Vice-President Lyndon Johnson in the Senate, will speak at a Citizens for Brown Breakfast in Asheville's Municipal Auditorium at 8:15 A. M. Thursday, October 25.

Announcement of this breakfast for Robert Brown of Asheville, Republican candidate for Congress from the 11th District, was made by A. E. Patton, chairman of the Citizens for Brown organization.

This group was formed recently, with Patton heading an 11-member executive committee composed of 7 Democrats and 4 Republicans. This executive committee is composed of:

James W. Adams, Dr. J. B. Anderson, Carl A. Baumann, Jr., Mrs. Allen M. Burdett, B. Dan Dows, Mrs. Robert L. Eichelberger, Mrs. Robert S. Jones, Charles T. Rawls Jr., Arnold H. Vanderhoof, and General John B. Wogan, all of Asheville.

Patton said that Judge William C. Meekins of Asheville, prominent attorney and former Henderson County judge, will be chairman of the breakfast.

He urged everyone in the 11th District to attend the breakfast to hear Sen. Tower, the first Republican ever elected by popular vote from any Confederate State and the first from Texas since Reconstruction.

"We are fortunate to have him come here for this 11th District gathering," Patton said.

Health Protection Program Expanded

An expanded program of health protection for persons over age 65 will be offered to North Carolina senior citizens between October 15 and November 15 by the state's Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans.

During this 30-day period, Hospital Care Association and Hospital Saving Association, in cooperation with a nation-wide Blue Cross and Blue Shield program, will open enrollment to "senior citizens" without physical examinations, regardless of their health condition.

Two "package" programs, both covering hospital, surgical and medical benefits, will be offered. One of the programs will also provide benefits for nursing home and visiting nurse care. Accident benefits will be immediately available under both plans. A waiting period of six months will be required for illness benefits.

Any person who is 65 or over, or who will become 65 by May 15, 1963, will be eligible to enroll.

This will be the only enrollment opportunity, without physical examination, for persons 65 or older, although an annual reopening period is planned for subsequent years for those who reach the age of 65 during that year.

Spokesman for Blue Cross and Blue Shield said this marks the first time their plans have been opened to the aged in North Carolina without health questions.

Since 1959, both North Carolina Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans have offered a Senior Certificate to persons 65 and older, but applicants have had to meet health underwriting requirements. Of the estimated 350,000 North Carolinians who are 65 and older, an estimated 25 per cent now have Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage.

... Calling Hollywood ...
... Radio Nurses ...

CURES FROM SEA: Dozens of possible oceanic medicines under study include anticoagulants from algae and sea snakes, heartbeat retarders from sting rays, anti-diabetes substance from toadfish venom, cancer inhibitor from sea cucumber, ulcer shrinker from octopus, antibiotic from oyster juice, nervous system agents from poisonous clams, mussels and plankton. CALLING HOLLYWOOD: transoceanic transmission of Edward G. Robinson's electrocardiogram to his Los Angeles cardiologist after heart attack on film location in Kenya was medical communications "first."

MYSTERY MIGRATION: Zoologist Robert Auerbach believes Wisconsin experiments prove cells from mysteriously-operating thymus gland migrate to spleen at birth, to produce disease-fighting antibodies. CHEMICAL MATRICES: Weighing only 11 pounds, mattress made from urethane is bacteria repellent. MEDICAL GEOLOGY: Mineral trace elements in food, water, air and earth may account for cancer incidence variations among communities, says Dr. Harry V. Warren of University of British Columbia. He predicts growing physician-geologist teamwork in environmental health.

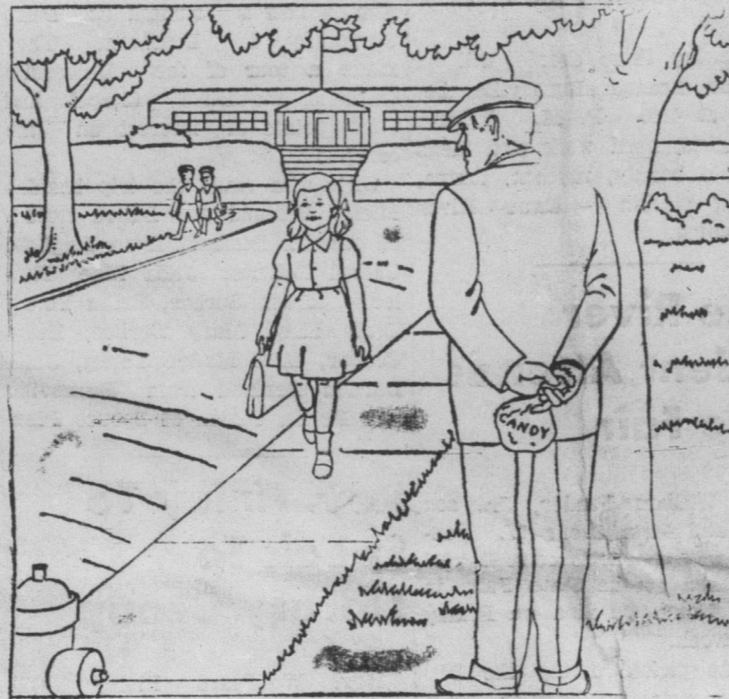

ANTIBIOTIC IN SPACE: Discovery that massive doses of streptomycin can disrupt inner ear nerve cells may be turned to advantage. Navy scientists are trying measured doses on squirrel monkeys to determine exact amount needed to prevent astronaut space-sickness without impairing hearing. RADIO NURSES: Radio no larger than sugar lump continuously monitors heart, pulse rate, temperature, and respiration—for relay from surgery recovery room to central office.

GENERAL TONICS: New York psychiatrist says he doubled output of two men and completed six medical journal papers during three-month test of drug which permitted him three hours daily sleep without bad effect except one—"The 21-hour day is a bit hard on your married life". EXPLORATORY HAND: Mechanical hand and arm developed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology is fitted with 30 "sense organs". Linked to computer, it gropes and explores "on its own" in five-foot-square area.
