BIRTH, DEATH and REBIRTH

St. Peter declares that to obtain eternal life we must be born again, since by nature we were born but to die.

"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever. For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away. But the Word of the Lord endureth for ever, and this is the Word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (1:23-25).

Our Lord emphasized this same fact to the Pharisee Nicodemus. "That which is born of the flesh," He said, "is flesh. . . . Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again" (John 3:6, 7). Nicodemus was devoutly religious, and he even recognized Christ as "a teacher come from God" (John 3:2). But he was not saved. He had not been "born of the Spirit," and "that which is born of the flesh is flesh, even though it is religious flesh, and must die. Nicodemus, like many sincerely religious people today, needed to be born again—of the Spirit, by faith in the Word, which the Spirit is the Author.

Some suppose that Paul did not teach the new birth, but they are wrong. He taught it consistently, and nowhere more clearly than in Titus 3:5, where he wrote by divine inspiration:

"Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration (re-birth) and renewing of the Holy Spirit."

needed for a long time.

LAST CALL by Angus Wilson. This is a comedy wherein a crumbling class structure has thrown up new barriers of snobbery and pretense, and where the old are as likely to be outsiders as the very young.

THE SEA FLOWER by Ruth Moore. This is a story of a houseboat, in which two youngsters are cast away on an (almost) deserted island. They meet a batch of characters who quickly bring the plot to a full boil.

BUCKO by Cliff Farrell. This is a new, somewhat different, Western which should appeal strongly to lovers of this type of fiction.

Suspense novels recently acquired include A COVENANT WITH DEATH by Stephen Becker; THE CASE OF THE TROUBLED TRUSTEE, a Perry Mason mystery by Erle Stanley Gardner and THE LATE BRIDE, Theodora DuBois' sixth and perhaps best mystery.

Recent children's books include EYES SO BIG by Lisle Well; children in a Portuguese fishing village encounter the "Good Luck Lady"; STUBBY PRINGLE'S CHRISTMAS by Jack Schaefer; a story perfect for reading aloud when the family is gathered together. IT'S TIME FOR STORY HOUR by Elizabeth Sechrist and Janette Woolsey; here, in response to the need for better stories to read and tell, is a collection chosen with loving care by two of America's best-known editors and librarians of children's literature. WHITE STALLIONS OF LIPIZZA by Marguerite Henry; beautifully illustrated. KING ARTHUR AND THE KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE retold by Emma Gelders and Barbara Lindsey. THE MERRY ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD by Howard Pyle; illustrated in color.

Regional Library Adds Important New Fiction Works

By: Ashton Chapman

A number of absorbing works of fiction have recently been acquired by the Avery-Mitchell-Yancey Library. They include such titles as:

HURRY SUNDOWN by K. B. Gilden. Its basic plot is the struggle between the small-farm owners in South and a greedy land syndicate, but all sorts of other things enter into the story—envy, love, racial prejudice, pride and hatred.

THE NEW GIRL by Elsie Snaugumetti. At once a funny and affectionate picture of life in a girls' boarding school and recollection of the small Southern town where the heroine begins to take leave of childhood and enter the world of adults.

OLD HICKORY by Noel Gram Gerson. The author has translated historical fact into exciting literature as he vividly chronicles the events of Andrew Jackson's long and dramatic life. TITUBA by Ann Petry. A novel laid in Salem, Mass., during the witch trials of 1692, an episode in American history which writers of both fact and fiction have tended to neglect.

P. S. WILKINSON by D. C. B. Bryan. The Harper Prize Novel for 1965. It is a work of singular candor, subtlety and strength.

FULL FATHOM FIVE by John Steward Carter. This novel has that quality common to all great fiction, the creation of time as a physical reality into which the reader enters. Through the narrator's remembrance of things past, his reader comes to know the "continuing present."

AS SOUNDING BRASS by Alan T. Nelson. Based on a true happening, this novel is a devastating look into the human heart.

KATE AND EMMA by Monica Dickens. Nobody who reads this novel will ever be able to learn of cruelty to children from a newspaper, turn the page and thrust it out of mind as just another news item. The book is not only wonderful reading; it is barb to the conscience which has been
