THE TONIC OF OPPOSITION

Two men were recently discussing the progress of aviation. One of them remarked that if it were not for the resistance of the air a plane could fly much faster. But the other replied, "That is the very thing that enables a plane to fly". Yes, that is true with almost everything. If there is some resistance there is another power which enables that resistance to be overcome. If it were not for the resistance of the air the plane would never get off the ground.

This was true of Abe Lincoln to a reasonable degree. Indeed the man who spent many years trying to keep Lincoln from being President did more than anyone else to help Lincoln into the White House. The great Lincoln-Douglass debate was the one thing that brought Lincoln into prominence and enabled him to get the nomination for president in 1860. But the two men became friends, not enemies.

When Marshall Fields was a boy he worked in a store in a New England town. But one day he lost his job because he had no talent for working in a store.

Anyway his employer thought so. He said to the boy's father, "Take this boy back to the farm where he belongs and put him to milking cows".

Marshall Fields did not go back to the farm. He knew how to take a rebuff good naturally. He made his way to Chicago and the world knows the rest of the story. He became an outstanding merchant prince and the owner of one of the largest stores in the world. He knew how to turn failure into success. It reminds us of the adage:

"Kites rise against, not with the wind."

The dreamer may ride in a golden car at the end as the poets inform us, but he travels a long hard path in the beginning.

A person who fights a little may gain a large amount of ground. If a person does not have any opposition he may become slack in his work. There was once a young man who went to his pastor and asked his pastor to pray with him that he might have more patience. The minister started praying for the boy to have many tribulations.

"No, No," said the boy, "I want patience."

The minister looked up at the boy and said, "Then you can't have patience."

"Why?" The boy inquired.

"Because tribulations worketh patience." Yes, if we want to be patient we must have tribulations. Our hopes is that we can reach people and tell them about Jesus. If you would like to have a free copy of LIGHT OF TRUTH just send your name and address to

ADVISORY COUNCIL REPORT ON SOCIAL SECURITY

By: D. C. Nichols
Field Representative

This is the first in a series of question-and-answer articles covering the report of the Advisory Council on Social Security which recently completed a study of, and made its report and recommendations regarding, the social security program.

QUESTION: I understand that an Advisory Council on Social Security has recently made its report. Is this the first such Council to study and report on the social security system?

ANSWER: No, this is the sixth such group. However, it is the first in 16 years to study every aspect of the system.

Q. What is the background of these studies and reports — and are they required by Congress?

A. The Social Security Administration has a long tradition of seeking advice and counsel from outside experts, as well as those closely affected by the social security program. This is also required by law of Congress. This particular Council was set up in 1953 and began its work in June of that year. Q. Who are the members of this Advisory Council, and what fields do they represent?

A. The following list of the members of the Council, with the fields represented, is doubtless self-explanatory:

Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, Chairman.

J. Douglas Brown, Dean of the Faculty, Princeton University.

Kenneth W. Clement, M. D., Practicing Physician and Immediate Past President, National Medical Association.

James P. Dixon, M. D., President Antioch College.

Nelson H. Cruikshank, Director Department of Social Security, American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Loula F. Dunn, Director, American Public Welfare Association 1949 - 1964.

Marion B. Folsom, Director and former Treasurer, Eastman Kodak Company.

Reinhard A. Hohaus, Director Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and Fellow, Society of Actuaries.

Gordon M. Freeman, President, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Arthur Larson, Director, Rule of Law Research Center, Duke University.

Herman M. Somers, Professor of Politics and Public Affairs, Princeton University.

John C. Virdin, Chairman of the Board, Eaton Manufacturing Company.

Leonard Woodcock, Vice President, United Automobile, Aerospace and Agricultural Implement Workers of America

'65 CHEVROLET These great performers are the lowest priced models at our One-Stop Shopping Center

Top to bottom: Chevy II 100, Corvair 500, Chevelle 300, Chevrolet Biscayne. All 2-door models.

Each of these beauties is the lowest priced in its line. But the ride doesn't show it. Or the interior. Or the performance.

That luxurious Biscayne is as roomy as many expensive cars, has color-keyed interiors, plush vinyls, fine fabrics, full deep-twist carpeting.

Chevelle, America's favorite intermediate-size car, has clean new styling, wide doors, roomy, tasteful interiors and Chevrolet easy-care features.

Chevy II got a lot smarter for '65—but stayed sensible! Still family-size, easy to handle, economical, and the lowest priced Chevrolet you can buy.

Or get a sporty rear-engine hardtop in a Corvair Sport Coupe or Sport Sedan for fun in the months ahead.

Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II are available with the Turbo-Thrift Six for fuel economy, quick warmups, quiet idling. It's light, efficient, smooth and spirited.

Corvair's air-cooled rear-mounted Turbo-Air Six delivers the best balance and traction for this size car.

So be practical. Only you will know. Because it sure won't show!
