Yancey Young People Win Honors In Youth Jamboree

The Apple Cider Singers, Amelia Penland, Ramona Penland, John Penland, Margaret

Riddle and Jerry Clevenger took top honors in the Hubert Hayes Mountain Youth Jamboree in Asheville Saturday night.

The Apple Cider Singers took the supreme ballad award. They sang in competition on Thursday night and their song was "Sylvie". They were awarded a silver plate which they placed in the East Yancey High School trophy case.

Barbara and Jeanie Deyton won first second generation in the folk song division.

Susan Hensley of Cane River High School was individual folk song runner-up.

Marsha Banks, Burnsville Elementary School, sang on Saturday night. Her song was the spiritual "Come Down Moses."

John Ollis With Buncombe County Sheriff's Dept.

John Ollis, former Burnsville Policeman, has accepted a job with the Buncombe County Sheriff's Department and has been working with this department since April 1.

Mr. Ollis has worked here as policeman for around 13 months. He worked at night. He was Chief of Police here for 26 months during 1957-59. He worked as deputy under Sheriff Terry Hall in 1956 and worked with Sheriff Donald Banks during his four years in office.

He resigned here April 1 and took up his duties in Buncombe County.

Mr. Ollis expresses his appreciation to all his friends in the town and county for their cooperation during his duty here. He stated that if at any time he could be of help to anyone here he would be glad for them to call on him.

Yancey County 4-H Council Meets

The Yancey County 4-H County Council held its bi-monthly meeting on March 29 at the Burnsville Community Building.

Mr. Darrell Roberts, National Forest Service, gave a very inspiring talk on how to give a good demonstration. Mr. Roberts was a national winner in his 4-H forestry project which won him a scholarship to college.

There were 35 present to hear Mr. Roberts talk and to watch Ramona Bowditch, County Council President, give a demonstration "It's a Pressing Matter."

There were six 4-H Clubs represented. They were: Applebuckle, Bald Creek, Pensacola, Jr., Pensacola, Sr., Micaville and South Toe.

The meeting was called to order by President Ramona Bowditch. A committee was appointed to plan for the 4-H Talent Show in April. It was also voted to have a trophy presented to the best 4-H Club in the county at the Achievement Night Program.

The meeting lasted about one and one-half hour and was adjourned by Ramona Bowditch.

George Hales Will Speak At Methodist Church

Mr. George Hales of Oklahoma City will speak at Higgins Memorial Methodist Church here Sunday evening, April 11 at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Hales is a wealthy business man of Oklahoma City. He owns large real estate holdings there, including one of the city's spacious office buildings, the Hales Building in which he maintains an office.

At one time Mr. Hales was a desperate victim of alcoholic drink. Under this narcotic drug he reached a deplorable state of health. His story is that by God's help, first through Alcoholics Anonymous, to get free from the use of alcohol, and second, by the miracle of Divine healing at a CFO religious retreat, he was delivered and healed. This occurred (his full deliverance) in 1953.

Following Mr. Hales' deliverance) from drink and broken health, and the return of what was and has continued to be exuberant health, he has dedicated his life to a Christian ministry of witnessing. He flies his own airplane and fills engagements in many parts of the country.

Mr. Hales stayed at the N. Wray Inn here in 1954. He was visiting in Yancey County and attended a conference held in Martins Chapel Church at Newdale.

Stanley Party At Deyton Bend Methodist Church

A Stanley Party will be held in the basement of Deyton Bend Methodist Church on April 15.

Everyone is invited to attend the party. Those unable to attend may give their orders to Mrs. Gladys Garland in Burnsville or they may contact any member of the Brush Creek Home Demonstration Club, and they will be glad to take their order.

Willing Young People Can Get Education

In today's society there is little reason why a young person bent on receiving an education cannot get one if he is capable and willing to work. America, in the words of John Corey, associate director of public affairs at Appalachian State Teachers College, is the "society of opportunity."

Evidence of opportunities available to youngsters is brought into focus every day of our lives. For instance, Dr. Kenneth Webb, assistant director of student affairs at Appalachian State Teachers College has just announced the work possibilities now available at the college under a Federal grant received through the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

Students may work up to fifteen hours per week at such jobs as: courier, assistants to directors of research and training, garage helper, electricians' infirmary aid, book store clerk, teacher in remedial education, assistant to Neighborhood Youth Corps Coordinator, and many others.

These jobs vary in the amount of pay received. This is adjusted in accordance with the type of work being performed by the student.

Students financially able to pay for an education are not considered for these jobs. In determining whether, and to what extent, a student is in need of the earnings from employment, the institution takes into consideration several

The first of these is the income and resources, including other forms of aid available to the student. Next, is considered the income, assets and resources of the student's family. And finally, the institution considers the cost reasonably necessary for the student's attendance at the school, including any special needs and obligations which directly affect the student's financial ability to attend school on a full-time basis.

This is but one opportunity available to students. There is in this great country a system of institutions and organizations that make loans, grants, fellowships, assistantships, and workshops available to the students each year.

The Federal Government realizes the importance of education and plays a major role in providing funds for those with the intelligence and drive to get an education.

It is up to the student or potential student to check concerning the opportunities available to him. He must come to see that very seldom does an organization or an institution contact and secure funds that are available for his use in obtaining an education. Opportunities are everywhere and students should cash in on them.

Easter Sunrise Service To Be Held On Town Square

A community-wide Easter Sunrise service will be held at 6:00 a. m. on Easter morning, April 18, on the town square.

Dr. Kenneth Phiffer, professor of preaching at the Louisville Presbyterian Seminary, will be the guest speaker. His sermon topic will be "The Wrong Side of Easter." Luke 24-11.

Special music for the service will be provided by the combined choirs of the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches of Burnsville.

Chrisawn Honored For Outstanding Sales Performance

CHARLOTTE — K. E. Chrisawn of Young Auto Sales, Inc., Burnsville, N. C., will be honored for an outstanding sales performance during 1964 at a banquet at the Charlotte Coliseum in Charlotte on Saturday, April 10.

William H. Kennedy, manager of Ford's Division's Charlotte sales district, said a select number of Ford dealership salesmen will be presented a 300-500 Club membership award for "excellent retail sales performance." The Ford 300-500 club was founded in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country.

Mr. Kennedy said the average 300-500 Club member sold more than $400,000 worth of automotive merchandise in 1964 to qualify for the national honor.

Associational Youth Night At First Baptist Church

Associational Youth Night will be held at the First Baptist Church of Burnsville on Monday night, April 12, beginning at 7:30 a. m.

Featured guests for the night will be Mr. and Mrs. John Divers, missionary appointees to Argentina. Mrs. Divers is the former Mary Evelyn Hensley of the Bolens Creek, Church, and the daughter of Mrs. Hensley and the late Mr. Hensley.

Mrs. Divers is the first missionary that has ever gone out from the Yancey Association.

Following the service there will be a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Divers in the Fellowship Hall sponsored by the W. M. U. of First Baptist Church.

Special music will be provided by an Intermediate and Young People's Choir and the Scripture will be presented by the candidates for the Junior Memory Work Tournament from the First Baptist Church.

N. C. School Of The Arts Faculty Appointments Made

WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA—George Ricci, distinguished cellist; James Masie Johnson, principal timpanist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra; and John Chorbajian have received appointments to the faculty of the North Carolina School of the Arts.

Ricci will teach violoncello. Johnson will teach percussion, timpani and history of music. Chorbajian will teach theory and composition. Johnson and Chorbajian will be resident members of the faculty.

Their appointments make a total of 18 faculty members to date in the music department. Other appointments include Ruggiero Ricci, concert violinist; Gary Karr, double-bass soloist; the Claremont String Quartet, the Clarion Wind Quintet, Saul Caston, orchestra conductor and teacher of trumpet; Rose Bampton, voice; Andres Segovia and Jesus Silva; classical guitarists.

Dr. Vittorio Giannini, president of the School of Arts, said in announcing the appointments that the music faculty, including the piano and organ departments, should be completed before the second group of auditions is held June 10, 11 and 12. The School of Arts will open here in September.

First auditions will be held at Gray High School April 17.

First auditions will be for 18 and 19. Auditions are given as entrance examinations to the school, which is the only state-supported school of the performing arts in the United States. It has been established to give professional training to exceptionally talented students. They will also receive accredited high school diplomas and college degrees. Approximately 250 students will audition this month for music, drama and dance. Members of the faculty will be jurors at the auditions, and Dr. Giannini will announce the jurors immediately preceding the auditions.

Mrs. D. I. Burhoe of Burnsville is the Regional Representative of the School of The Arts.

School Board Term Of Office Changed

Yancey County School Board members will serve only two-year terms instead of four-year terms as a result of House and Senate Friday.

Both chambers approved final amendments to the omnibus education bill which names county boards of education including those in Yancey.

The Yancey section appointed R. A. Radford, C. Wintz McIntosh, Ben L. Wilson, R. B. Deyton, and J. L. Robinson, each for terms of two years.

As originally passed by the House last week, the bill named the board to four-year terms on the action of Yancey Re. Mark Bennett, But Sen. Clyde Norton of Old Fort, whose district included Yancey, cut the terms to two years, and the Senate approved the measure Friday with that provision intact. The House concurred in the amendment without protest from Bennett.

Burnsville Dance Club Elects Officers

The Burnsville Dance Club held its first Annual Meeting March 27th at the Community Building.

The following were elected to serve as officers for the current year: Bill Banks, President; Fred Bacon, Secretary; Paul Figgerstaff, Treasurer.

Members were reminded that current dues are payable before April 15th to Mr. Biggerstaff.

"Landscaping Your Home" WLOS-TV Program

Watch "Landscaping Your Home" April 10 on WLOS-TV Channel 13 at 7:00-7:30 a. m., Asheville if you want to know more about landscaping your front and back yard.

That's the date and time for the next presentation of the "Landscaping Your Home" television services produced by the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service, according to E. L. Dillingham, Yancey County Extension Chairman.

And along with that show is another show the following week that continues the same basic thread of ideas entitled "Fitting Flowers to your Plan" that you may want to watch, also, Dillingham says.

These two shows are part of a series of seven TV presentations on home landscaping. Host on these programs is John Harris, Tar Heel Gardner, Agricultural Extension, Raleigh.

The information in the shows is put together for the use of all homeowners, whether they live in the country or in town. Dillingham points out Harris and his guests use a cartoon character to introduce each topic and plenty of pictures and models to show you what goes into a well-designed landscape.

If you have not yet seen one of these shows, you may want to make a special reminder to watch the next in series.
