Annual Talent Show Held By 4-H Club

Yancey County 4-H Clubs held their annual Talent Show Friday, May 7, at the Burnsville Elementary Schiol gymnasium.

There were 15 talent numbers that competed for the top three places.

The top three numbers will go to Asheville on June 22 to compete with 4-H talent from all of the other counties in the western district. If they should win at Asheville they. would go to Raleigh to compete wit 4-H talent from all over the state.

The top winners were:

Susan Rutledge and Peggy Bishop, song "Today" - Newdale Club.

Tommy Atkins, Jerry Robertson, Gregory Byrd, Susan Mackey - "Beatles".

Danny and Stevie Robinson - dance - Arbuckle Club.

There were approximately 125 guests and performers present.

Judges for the event were Mrs. Virginia Sutton and Miss Carol Byrd.

GARDEN TIME .

BY M. E. GARDNER N. C. State University

Hardy chrysanthemums probably give you more color than any other flowering plant you can grow. Now is the time to prepare for the late summer and early fall color parade.

You have three choices: (1) buy rooted cuttings; (2) root your own cuttings from the new growth on your plants; (3) divide the root clumps. Chrysanthemums will come back from the same location for several years, but they are usually best the first year.

Plant glad corns every two weeks for a succession of flowers during the summer. In the vegetable garden succession plantings of sweet corn and snappeans are in order for the lower Piedmont and Eastern Carolina.

-Stake and mulch tomato plants. Before mulching, cultivate to destroy weeds. The mulch should be about four inches deep and can be made of clean grain straw or pine straw. Keep the tomatoos pruned by pinching out the tender shoots as they form in the axils of the leaves (at the base place. Binder twine or wire of the leaf stem). Wool Pool To Be Held June 8

The annual Yancey County Wool Pool will be June 8 at Deyton Farm Supply Store, according to E. L. Dillingham, County Extension Chairman.

Dillingham states that the wool crop should be handled with care. Sheep should be put up the night before shearing. The shearing floor should be clean, dry and free of straw. trash and other fodeign material.

Wool should be packed in a wool bag as soon as clipped and stored in & dry, clean

Dillingham said that producers should pack their wool tight in a bag instead of having more than one loosely

Wool was sold to the same buyer as last year for the following prices:

65 29c per pound for cleor 13.08c for tags.

E. L. Dillingham, County Blood Chairman, said that the visit was commended very successfully and that he would like to thank every group and individual that assisted with it in any way.

The next bloodmobile visit will be in August. With the next year's quota of 400 units, we will need to average around 100 units per visit.

Dillingham said that for the hospitals to use the blood most efficiently, it is necessary to have a constant supply.
