Cattail Creek News

By: Agnes Angell

July 6, 1965: Yielding to many requests, I am taking up my pen again to write newsy tidbits of what I hope will be items of interest to the readers.

Cattail Creek Community is full-up with its summer residents. The square dances at the Recreation Hall have been in full swing for many weeks, and are heavily patronized by not only the Cattailers themselves, but others from the surrounding areas. The congregations of the Methodist and Baptist Churches in Pensacola have been increased considerably by the attendance of the Cattail summer contingent, and by the way, I would like to say a word of praise and commendation for the fine sermons preached on the occasion of my recent visits there.

Reviewing the past 20 years I have been spending summers in Cattail, it appears there have been many and great changes. From a community of approximately 40 or 50 summer homes in 1946, there are now between 100 and 125 such homes.

However, many of the pioneering cabiners have been called to rest by the Lord. I can recall about 33 of them: Mr. and Mrs. Rossey Matthew Cooper, his mother and Aunt Harriett; William Cain, Cornelius Cummings, Harrison Comfort, his wife and father-in-law, John Hahn; Edward Meister, Robert Howard, Christine Kennedy, Earl Brown, Robert and Anne Benedict, William Reid and daughter, Dorothy; Jake Melachamp, H. W. Spears, Raymond Sheperd, William Montgomery, Dr. Mack, Mr. Hackett, Thelma Diamond, Dr. Glenn James, Rev. John Hanger, Dr. Scholz, "Skip" Adams, Roy Peletier, Mrs. Baster, (Walter's mother) Thomas Melton, Mary Haeger, William Grassmuck and Joseph Snowden. There may have been others, but their names escape me.

There has been a great improvement in the highways serving our community since 1946, when no. 197 had only 4 miles of black top road leading south from Burnsville. Bolens Creek Road was mostly a hard gravel road with large rocks at the turn near the cemetery. Now we have black top all the way from Burnsville to Pensacola on both roads, and a long distance up Cattail Creek Road to within 1/2 mile of my cabin, which is just around the turn from the bridge across Wolf Pen Creek. There are 20 or more cabins further up the mountain past my cabin.

My next column will contain items of more personal nature as to our summer residents. "Cattailers" please contact me for items you wish published. More anon.
