Construction on the new First Presbyterian Church building here is well underway. Completion for the new church plant is scheduled for early spring.

New Presbyterian Church Building Under Way

A beautiful water color painting of the former building occupied by the First Presbyterian Church was presented this past week as a gift by Frank Stanley Herring eminent American artist and formerly director of the Burnsville Art School, to members of the congregation.

The painting was unveiled by the artist and his wife, Frances, at a Family Night Dinner on Wednesday in the basement of the old building, the last official function held at the church.

Herring painted the church from a south-eastern location and was able to show his art work the front and lower exposure of the church building, its graceful steeple, a prominent mountain skyline, and a colorful cloud cover.

The painting shall be framed and exhibited in an appropriate place in the new church building, now under construction.

Dr. Melvin Webb accepted the painting for the congregation, and in appropriate words thanked the Herrings for their gracious and valuable gift.

The Burnsville Presbyterian Church multi-purpose building, which will incorporate a youth center, kitchen, and assembly hall, is well underway. Construction of that building is scheduled to be completed in approximately six weeks. The 155 capacity sanctuary will be completed by early spring, according to Har' on Holcombe, chairman of the building committee.

The modern architecture type building underway was planned by Charles Sappenfield of Asheville and construction is by Yancey Builders Supply of Burnsville.

The $92,700 church plant, when completed, will have a floor space of 11,800 sq. ft. with a seating capacity of 155 with an additional choir loft.

The First Presbyterian Church was organized in 1898 and was on the grounds of Stanley McCormick School which was a Presbyterian Boarding High School. At the present time the church has 100 members.

Since it was necessary to remove the original church building to make way for the new structure, a final meeting was held in the church last Wednesday evening. The church will worship in the Community Building for a few weeks. Sunday School classes will be held in the homes of members.

The East Yancey Panthers continued their undefeated football season Friday night by rolling over Marshall, 20-7. East Yancey scored their entire twenty points the first five minutes of the game, and then held Marshall to one touchdown and the extra point.

Moments later quarterback Mike Young swung around the left end for 31 yards and a touchdown. On the next kickoff E. Y. forced Marshall to punt and then took over on their own 27. Moments later half-back Ronnie Robinson took the ball and galloped 70 yards downfield for the touchdown, then encoed by kicking the extra point.

The next kickoff resulted in East Yancey's recovering a fumble on the Marshall 35. The Panthers carried to the 16 by means of a 19 yard pass to end Ed Bennett. Robinson carried again for the touchdown and then booted the extra point.

Marshall scored once in the second quarter when quarterback James Sprinkle went across from the four yard line, then passed to his right end to gain the extra point.
