BURNSVILLE WOMEN'S CLUBS ENTERTAIN DISTRICT TWO

The Burnsville Woman's Club and Carolina Hemlock Junior Woman's Club were hosts on Wednesday, Oct. 5, to the Annual meeting of District Two of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs.

The meeting convened at 9:30 in the Burnsville Presbyterian Church for registration, a coffee hour and a business meeting. 128 delegates from the Clubs in District 2, which comprises several western North Carolina counties, including the City of Asheville, were registered.

A delightful coffee hour was enjoyed in the fellowship hall, followed by a business meeting in the church sanctuary, presided over by Mrs. Burns A. Schaeffer, President of District Two. Rev. Woody Finley gave the devotional. Greetings were extended by Mrs. Charles Gillespie, Jr., President of the Carolina Hemlock Junior Woman's Club. The response was by Mrs. Carl Hyatt, Jr., a past District President, and an active member of one of the Asheville Clubs. The pledge to the flag was led by Mrs. M. L. Williams.

After reports by the various Club Presidents, Mrs. Eloise Briggs, President of the Burnsville Woman's Club, reported on the National Convention which she attended, and which was held in Chicago this past spring.

Special music was rendered by Miss Ramona Penland, soloist, and Miss Anita Anglin, organist.

Mrs. Schaeffer introduced Miss Marjorie Yokley, of Mt. Airy, N. C., President of the N. C. Federation, who brought the keynote speech, based on the Club theme for the year, "Three Keys to Success — LIVE, LOVE AND LEARN". Miss Yokley, a very forceful speaker, highlighted club activities for the year throughout the state, and commended the Clubs for the many worthwhile projects undertaken and carried through. She emphasized particularly the desirability of working with the youth, and organizing sub-junior clubs.

This part of the meeting closed with the reading of the Club Collect, led by Mrs. Hugh Bowden of the Hendersonville Woman's Club.

The meeting then adjourned to the Community Building, where a delicious lunch was served by the Home Demonstration Council of Yancey County, under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Hopson, Home Extension Agent. The blessing was given by Mrs. Joan Reeve. Three door prizes, donated by French Broad Electric Company, The Candlelight Shop, and the Pendulum Antique Shop, were given

Awards in three categories were made for the best scrapbook and the best yearbook. Carolina Hemlock Junior Woman's Club won third place in the yearbook classification.

Mrs. Briggs, President of the Burnsville Club, thanked the ladies of the Home Demonstration Clubs for the bountiful luncheon.

This being the Diamond Jubilee of the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Carolina Hemlock Club had made very attractive name tags, featuring a small brilliant on a diamond cut-out. The registration table was adorned with large pieces of quartz contributed by Harold Butner, and the diamond shaped place cards had a "North Carolina Diamond" on the corner — compliments of Lee's Mineral and Gem Shop of Spruce Pine. Several favors, contributed by merchants of the town, were at each plate, while a large umbrella stand from the Pendulum Antique Shop contained very nice yard sticks for each guest, a gift from Penland Lumber Company.

Fellowship Hall, the Community Building and the tables were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers and roses.

YANCEY UNITED FUND KICK-OFF TUESDAY

Rebels Trample Wildcats

Cane River Rebels took the Mars Hill Wildcats last Friday in a crushing victory for their first win of the season. The Rebels scored in every period, with Mars Hill scoring three TD's in the fourth period to end the game 38-20.

In the first quarter of play, Rebel halfback Don Griffith powered the ball across on a three yard plunge. And again before the end of the quarter, Griffith snagged a pass for a 22 yard touchdown play.

In the second period Griffith intercepted a pass and ran the ball back 40 yards to score again. The score at the end of the half was 19-0.

The Rebels repeated their first period score in the third to rack up 13 more points, with Lewis Paine scoring a 70 yard pass-run play. And in the final period, Griffith rammed through 51 yards for the final touchdown by the Rebels.

Mars Hill's passing attack began to pay off in the final period when quarterback Huff found his man. Their three touchdowns were from pass plays.

Cane River piled up 200 yards on the ground while the Wildcats of Mars Hill gained 120. Mars Hill led in the passing yardage with 288, while Cane River gained 208.

Yancey's United Fund will kick off a two-week campaign on Tuesday, October 11, to collect money for some twenty causes which directly or indirectly benefit the county.

7:00 p. m. dinner at the Amberjack will launch this year's drive for funds which will seek to subscribe a record budget of $9,500.00.

Oscar Anderson, a regional executive for Carolina's United, will be present at the Tuesday meeting as a consultant in running the campaign.

The Rev. John Powers, Chairman of this year's drive, announced the following group chairmen for the two week fund raising effort.

Paul Biggerstaff is to head the force of men contacting Burnsville businesses and Mrs. Harlon Holcombe is to organize visits to town residences.

The drive for funds in Yancey industries will be run by Bob Helmle while Pete Colletta contacts county mining operations.

Philip Thomas is to secure contributions from the legal professions. Dr. Garland Wampler from the hospital and members of the medical profession; and Woodward Finley from the teachers in the schools of the county.

W.H. Lindberg To Hold Classes

The Landscaping and Horticulture Classes sponsored as a part of the Agriculture departmental adult education program at East Yancey and instructed by Mr. W. H. Lindberg of Wayside Nursery in Asheville will meet at 7:30 p. m. at East Yancey High School on October 10 and will continue for six consecutive weeks thereafter on Monday night of each week.

Any interested adult may enroll with a small registration fee of $2.00. The meeting Monday, October 3 was cancelled due to a previous engagement of Mr. Lindberg. For further information contact Herbert Allen at the school.

Men's Club Hosts Leaders

The Burnsville Men's Club will be host to Community Development leaders at the regular club meeting Monday night, October 24.

This is an annual event of the club according to agricultural agent officials.

Clubs entered in the County and Western North Carolina contest are Arbuckle, Mine Fork, Mcville, Newdale, Double Island, and Rocky Springs.

Local sponsors for the prize money are the United Fund, Northwestern Bank, and French Broad Electric Membership Corporation.

President Charles Wesson appointed a program committee of Roy Roy, Jim Gardner, and Dr. Garland Wampler to arrange for the meal and program.

Morris McGough, Executive Director of the Asheville Agricultural Development Council will be present and assist with awarding the prizes.
