MAYOR HELMLE HONORED BY VOLUNTEER FIRE MEN

Burnsville Mayor R. K. Helmle was honored last Friday night at a supper in the Community Building sponsored by the Volunteer Fire Department here and by other town officials.

D. R. Fouts, town attorney and former mayor, introduced Mayor Helmle who praised the Burnsville Fire Department for its combatting fires both in and out of Burnsville. He pointed out that the volunteer department is on call at all times, day or night, and that its members always met their responsibility when called upon.

Fire Chief Bob Hilliard presented Mayor Helmle with an engraved gold watch from the department and commended Mr. Helmle for his excellent work during the period of his office, both as mayor and for his work with the fire department.

As proof that volunteer firemen are called at all times, the fire whistle blew about the middle of the presentation of the gold watch. Members leaped from their places at the tables and answered their call to duty. Chief Hilliard, however, completed the presentation.

Members returned to the building shortly. An automobile had caught fire only a few blocks away. They saw that the fire was out before returning, of course.

The supper was prepared by Pensacola Methodist Church. The Northwestern Bank here aided with the finances.

Mayor Helmle, who plans to leave Burnsville soon to Arizona where he will reside, was honored at a recent meeting of the Yancey County Chamber of Commrec. William A. Banks, a Chamber of Commerce officer, presented Mr. Helmle with a certificate for his unselfish work in Burnsville and Yancey County.

Church Plans To Be Presented To Building Comm.

Progress is being made in plans for a new Baptist Church here, according to announcement by church officials.

A meeting is scheduled for Monday night, May 8, for the Building Committee of the church, when a completed preliminary stage of the plans will be submitted to the committee.

The completed preliminary plans to be shown to the committee will include a large color drawing of the proposed building, with floor plans and interior sketches. If the Building Committee accepts the plans Monday night, a brochure will be mailed to each church member Tuesday morning.

The brochure to be mailed to members will consist of a black and white picture of the building on the front page. First and second-floor plans on pages two and three, and on the back page will be the plot plans.

On Wednesday night, at the time for the regular Missions Night Supper Meeting, the plans will be presented to the entire church. The meeting Wednesday night will be for discussion only, and the architect will be present to answer any questions from church members. Then, at the Sunday morning worship service, the plans will be presented to the church for a vote.
