

Cane River Science Club

The first stop was in Winston-Salem where the group toured R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company and Old Salem. Both of these places were very interesting. The club spent the night in Raleigh at the Belvidere Motel.

Saturday morning the club toured Raleigh. Points of interest were the capital building, the new State House, the N. C. State museum and Museum of Art, and the N. C. State campus. That afternoon they attended a program at the Planetarium on the U. N. C. campus at Chapel Hill. Saturday evening the club saw the movie which won six academy awards—"A Man For All Seasons." After spending the night in Winston-Salem, the club had a leisure trip home and arrived at Cane River about 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the trip and was amazed that so much had been accomplished with a minimum of expense. This trip proved to be the highlight of the year for the Science Club.

Friday morning, April 28, eighteen members of the Science Club and two chaperons left for a week-end tour of the state capital. The students were

During the recent Science Fair at Cane River High School the Science Club won first place. The club decided to use the money for a trip to Raleigh.

Social Security News

Q. You keep saying that everybody should contact the Social Security Office to file for Medicare 2 or 3 months before reaching 65. So, for this purpose it must make no difference whether we have worked under social security—or whether we have retired or not?

A. It makes no difference. We know that many of you who are nearing 65 have no plans to stop working. That's fine. You don't have to retire at all to get Medicare coverage. But you must file an application for it.

Another good reason for filing, without fail, during the 3 months before the month you reach 65 is that you may also find you're entitled to some cash benefits that otherwise you would not have received. Thousands of people have been pleasantly surprised in this way.

It's possible in some cases (particularly where family benefits—that is, to a wife and perhaps children—are also payable) that you may earn over $3,000 a year and still receive considerable social security money.

However, to become entitled to the Medicare protection itself can mean substantial money savings when one is hospitalized or has high medical bills.

Q. When a person goes to the Social Security Office to file for Medicare—as well as for monthly benefits—he must establish his age. Right?

A. That's right. There are many kinds of records that may be obtained as evidence of age. But the oldest records are usually the best.

The Social Security Office employees will advise and assist any applicant if necessary in getting the required proof of age.
