Mr. And Mrs. Lewis Attend 'Expo 67'

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis have returned from a memorable trip to "Expo '67" in Montreal, Canada. This is how it all happened. They were invited by their son, Frank Howard Lewis, teacher of history at Hall Fletcher School in Buncombe County, to assist in chaperoning a group of students on a 9-day tour of Washington, New York, and the Exposition. There were 92 in the party, including chaperones.

The party traveled by modern air-conditioned motor coach. They spent one day in Washington, D. C., where they visited Arlington Cemetery, toured the Capitol and Smithsonian Institute.

From Washington they went to New York City. While in New York they took a motor coach tour of upper New York, including stops at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and Lincoln Center. They took in the Radio City Music Hall. They spent two days and three nights seeing the sights of New York. They spent two nights and days taking in the Exposition. On their return trip they spent a couple more days in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis agree that it was a wonderful, though rather tiring trip. Only one child got lost, and that was in Washington, D. C. After four hours the police rounded her up and she was returned to the fold.
