Although the boys are light with little experience, they made an impressive showing Tuesday night.

All the boys played well, but as in every game, some of the outstanding plays spotlighted the individual players.

Quarterback Hughes handled the ball and himself like a veteran, making several good passes. Jimmy Ray's line plunges and broken field running picked up a lot of good yardage. Westall made several beautiful gains through line, with back Steve Hughes side-stepping his way for good gains. Blalock ran

Careless Use Of Chemicals Costly

By: Buddy L. Farmer

Careless use and storage of chemicals can be very costly to farmers. This is especially true when we use chemicals for weed control. Some tragic crop losses have occurred by farmers using a herbicide when he intended to use an insecticide.

Small amounts of herbicides should be destroyed in the fall to prevent their misuse. They should be put into a hole at least 18 inches deep and then covered with soil. The container should also be destroyed. Chemicals should never be poured down the drain of a sink or under no condition put in a stream or pond.

Any herbicides held over in quantity should be stored in a separate room from insecticides, fungicides, and fertilizers. These materials are very soluble and a small amount of water could put them in the wrong place.

hard enough to bounce of a tackler and keep going on several occasions.

But thrills are heightened from a long run from a pass or an interception. And Randy Banks took the cake, as the saying goes, in that. In the first thrilling run, Randy snatched off a Crossnore pass and ran about fifty-five yards for a touchdown. But a flag was down up the field and the score was annulled. But in the fourth quarter the opportunity came again, and Randy snatched another Crossnore pass from the air and streaked off, with Earl Boyles throwing a final block to open the way. This was a 75-yard touchdown that registered.

From indications Friday night and from the game with Mars Hill in which EY won 6-0, these boys have places to go.

SOME PEOPLE DON'T BORROW MONEY.

We're not suggesting that you need a new car. As long as you're satisfied with the one you have, keep it and enjoy it. But when it's time to look for something else and money help is needed, remember that The Northwestern Bank offers the most reasonable new car loan in town.

Northwestern's rock bottom interest rate and the easy payment plans are so popular that even old time non-borrowers are slowing down when they drive by.
