Mrs. Carl Sandburg To Serve As Chairman Of Easter Seal Society

Mrs. Carl Sandburg of Hendersonville, wife of the late poet and biographer, will serve as regional campaign chairman of the Blue Ridge Easter Seal Society. Mrs. Sandburg has long had an interest in the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

A letter of appeal asking for contributions to the Easter Seal Society will be sent to the area's citizens by Mrs. Sandburg. The donations received from this mail campaign will go to pay for wheelchairs, walkers, crutches and all types of orthopedic appliances loaned to handicapped citizens of western North Carolina. Some of the funds will pay for medical diagnosis, treatment and transportation to needy patients. Clinics, workshops, recreation programs and research projects are also to be supported by the funds collected by Mrs. Sandburg's appeal.

Mrs. Sandburg said, "I think the Easter Seal Society is a worthy organization serving well the handicapped citizens of our area." She pointed out that Jobs for the Handicapped, which has been responsible for rehabilitating hundreds of handicapped North Carolinians, was founded by the Blue Ridge Easter Seal Society in 1962 and still receives support from the chapter. She noted that the Asheville Orthopedic Hospital for crippled children was unable to offer courses of art instruction until the Society accepted the project. The Society now supplies materials and teachers for the program.

Mrs. Ruby Smith of Burnsville will be Yancey County's chairman for the Society's appeal. Mrs. Smith is also Yancey's representative on the Easter Seal's board of directors in western North Carolina.

Mrs. Virginia Peterson of The Northwestern Bank will serve as treasurer.
