

PTA Discusses Need For Improvements

At a P. T. A. meeting at the Burnsville Elementary School this week, the parents and school officials held an animated discussion concerning school conditions and the immediate need for improvement in many areas.

A committee consisting of six members was organized to work on the problems, some of which are urgent. The building which presently houses the Burnsville Elementary School is the oldest school building in the county and it deteriorates steadily with age. The committee chairman is Bill Hess. Other members are as follows: Dr. Garland Wanpeter, Dick Bailey, Ed Hunter, John Mattox and Sarah Hensley.

An interesting program was presented by Program Chairman, Mrs. Charles Gillespie in which two students from Mars Hill College spoke briefly. Tommy Martin, an art student at Mars Hill College has been teaching art to the 1st through 4th grade students in his free time. Chip Culbertson, a music major at Mars Hill, has been teaching music to the 5th through 8th grade students. They spoke on what they seek to accomplish in their teaching efforts.

The meeting came to a close following an open discussion.

PTA Will Hold Fair

The South Toe Elementary School PTA is getting ready to hold a Christmas Fair on Saturday, December 13 from 1 to 9 p. m. in the school's lunchroom.

There will be gifts for the young and the not-so-young for sale, cookies and other baked goods, and Christmas decorations and wreaths.

The school's lunchroom staff will have a snack bar. Other booths will be run by the P. T. A., Estatoe Baptist Church, White Oak Community Club, Arthur Morgan School, White Oak Baptist Church, South Toe Youth Council, and Girl Scout Troop 19. Several booths will be run by individuals.

Proceeds of the fair will be divided between the South Toe Elementary School (25%) and the "owners" of the booths (75%). The school will use its money toward improvements needed for accreditation; the other groups or individuals will use their profits as they see fit.

If you, your church or other organization is interested in joining in this effort, please contact the chairman Kore McWhirter at 675-4559.
