

East Yancey Field Day

Excitement filled the air at East Yancey High School last Friday afternoon when the school's First Annual Field Day was launched. The field events consisting of the long jump, basketball and softball throw got underway at noon. One hundred fifty-two students participated in these events. The student body was dismissed from class at 12:30 in order to observe the happenings. A shower marred the running events and drenched the teachers, but when the clouds disappeared, students eagerly came back to finish. Ribbons for the first five places were awarded at the end of the day. Carol Young and Donald Hensley were voted as the most outstanding participants.

The following is a list of the events and the order in which the students finished:

High School Equivalency Questions, Answers

1. What is the High School Equivalency Program?

It is a program whereby an adult who did not complete his high school education may take a series of tests to demonstrate his general educational competence and be awarded a certificate recognized and generally accepted as equivalent to a high school diploma.

2. Who issues the Equivalency Certificate?

The equivalency certificate is issued by the N.C. State Board of Education and mailed directly to the recipient.

3. What is the value of a high school equivalency certificate?

The certificate is recognized almost without exception by industry, agencies of the government, employers, colleges and other organizations and institutions as the legal equivalent of a diploma from an accredited high school. The certificate means that the holder has achieved a level of general educational development comparable to that of high school graduates.

4. Who is eligible to apply for the certificate?

Any person who is not a high school graduate may apply for the certificate and take the tests if: (1) he is 19 years of age or older; however, an applicant 18 years of age may apply for the tests provided he has been out of regular high school program for at least six months; (2) he is a resident of the state.

5. How much formal education (schooling) is required for an applicant to take the tests?

None. However, the more schooling an individual has had and the more educational experiences he has had, the better he will likely score on the tests. Persons who need a refresher course may enroll in an Adult Basic Education Class (call the W. A. M. Y. Office for schedule). Classes are sponsored in connection with Asheville-Buncombe Technical Institute.

6. Where are the tests taken?

The tests are administered in authorized testing centers located at many community colleges and technical institutes. If interested in taking the tests to get your high school equivalency certificate and need further information, get in touch with Shirley Anne McAllister at the W. A. M. Y. Office - 682-2610.

Honors Day At Mars Hill

Medals, prizes and scholarships were given to a number of faculty and students at Mars Hill College last week during an honors day program. Students honored were winners of ten awards, medals and prizes, the 71 scholarships winners and the 16 college marshals who were formally installed.

Twenty seven students from Western North Carolina were honored. Among them was Johnny Renfro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Renfro of Burnsville. Johnny, a senior at Cane River High School, won a President's scholarship.
