is required by local school authorities to take full advantage of all available programs.

There is, moreover, in some of the programs consider a ble competition for the limited funds. Yancey, for example, is just one of twenty count i es in the State having one of the new programs.

The source of most of the grant aid comes from Federal money appropriated under the Elementary and Secondary Educational Act. Title I of this act provides for 100 per cent of the financing of a variety of school activities where pupils come mostly from low income families. All seven of Yancey County elementary schools qualify, but neither of our high schools qualifies.

Some of the subsidized programs are restricted to child - ren from low-income families. Under other Title I programs, if the school qualifies, all the children in that school are eligible for the activity.

The kindergarten program, now in all seven elementary schools, is fully financed un der Title I -- teacher's pay, equipment, materials, lunches and transportation all being paid for. Kindergarten classes were first started experimentally last year at Micaville and Bee Log, and this year were extended to all seven elementary schools. Participation is limited to children from low income families, and only 18 children can be accommodated in each school.

Other Title I programs that have been in operation longer—mostly since 1966—are reading improvement classes, now in six of the elementary schools, the employment of 15 teacher aids (one for each five teachers) and one library aid for each elementary school.

The lunchroom program receives major aid under Title I, a subsidy of 20 cents per lunch for 300 low income elementary school children.

The State school planners from Raleigh, who follow the grant program closely, have stated that Yancey ranks among the ten top counties in effective utilization of the aid available under Title I.

In the field of vocation al education four new high school

Dear Editors

In last week's edition The Yancey Record there was a public announcement that the Yancey County Board of Education would hold a closed meeting October 9 at 8:00pm I am concerned since they publicly announced to those present at one of their first meetings the policy of the present Board of Education was "Hold public open meetings and wanted the people to become informed"; that now they feel it is neces sary to have closed meetings. . Surely they have the privacy to discuss anything at their executive sessions. Is it the fact that some criticism has been directed against some of their decisions that they now hold closed meetings so the public won't know what is being done?

The people who have attended any of the Board of Education meetings were there only because of their genuine concern for all the schools in Yancey County and the welfare of the children who attend these schools and hope in some way we might be of help.

In the years past when the Board didn't want to vote on an issue, it was customary to postpone these meetings or not enough members would attend so they could not vote. "What the people don't know can't hurt them" is a phrase too often used in Yancey County. It is time the public knows what conditions our schools are in and what is being done about these conditions.

Letters To The Editor

Are the people afraid to speak out and express their opinions? If we don't, I can see our people in a few years like puppets nodding their heads only when the right string is pulled. I feel the people should have the right to state a fact or correct someone. This is supposed to be a democratic society so let's keep it that way. The people have a right to know about our schools.

Mrs. Bob Proffitt Rt. 2, Burnsville

Dear Editors

After the shock of reading Saul Friedman's view of us, our neighbors and what we're all about, it was with great pleasure that we read Carolyn Yuziuk's article in The Yancey Record. Mr. Friedman assured us that he wanted people to see us as we see ourselves, and so be reassured of any doubts they might have regarding our being here. Unfortunately, his vision is clouded by too many hysterical mass-media articles and he tried to cram us into his pre-formed mold.

I won't go into a detailed rebuttal of all the slanted or invented descriptions of us and our lives here, but the many neighbors who live near us, visit us, deal with us professionally--in short, who know us-were just as angered by his libelous opinions as we were. We came here just because the country is wide and beautiful and because the people here respect craftsmen, farmers and people who mind their own business except to be friendly neighbors. Our children get along well at school and are proof of what kind of homelife they have.

We are reassured that we have chosen the right place to live in harmony and are glad we left the kind of urban, ammoral environment which nurtures those like Mr. Friedman.

Yours truly, Norma Chereu, Sunshine Handcraft Company

OUR ENEMIES-WITHIN AND WITHOUT

Guess who said this: "The capitalist forces constitute our natural enemy despite the fact that they helped us to defeat their most dangerous representative. It may happen that we shall again decide to make use of their aid, but always with the sole aim of accelerating their final ruin.

"Our present policy should therefore be to follow a moderate line in order to gain time for the economic and industrial reconstruction of the Soviet Union and other states under our control. Then the moment will come when we can hurl ourselves into the battle for the final annihilation of reaction."

Yugoslavian dictator Tito said that in 1946. He has never renounced it. No Communist leader has ever renounced the unswerving 50-year goal of Communism: to destroy capitalism and the United States, and then enslave the world.

On his recent visit to Yugoslavia, President Nixon praised dictator Tito as a World War II resistance leader who "will be remembered in history as a man of peace."

Peace. The peace of the graveyard. The peace of the prison cell and slave labor camp. The peace of the firing squad. Tito the tyrant established peace by murdering his opponents, confiscating the land and industries and enslaving the people. Sweet peace! What outrageous falsehoods are concocted in thy name!

Nixon and Tito reportedly hit it off famously. Or, rather, infamously. Could it be that Tito might replace Rebozo? Regardless, Nixon invited his bloody buddy to visit the United States soon. Criminal, murdering, atheist, slavemaster Communist dictators are welcome here. But an elected Christian gentleman named Ian Smith, President of the Free Republic of Rhodesia, can't even get a visa to enter "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

USDA has made huge grants to Yugoslavia so that enemy can better control respiratory disease in young cattle. This treason was committed as our own cattlemen were going broke in the cost-price squeeze.

We have given and/or sold for "soft currency" more than a billion dollars worth of food to our arch enemy Yugoslavia under the "food for peace" program.

Yugoslavia sends medicines, the Arabs send cotton and clothing, Poland sends machinery and other steel items, and Britain sends anything she can't sell to the Vietcong. The Vietcong would collapse in a few minutes without the massive Russian aid. Russia would have collapsed long ago without our aid.

We "sell" (on credit) Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, East Germany and other Russian satellites: radiation equipment; airborne navigational devices; rolling mills; chemical plants; vacuum gauges; food; radio communications equipment; chemicals; electronic computers; relief maps and coast and geodetic survey charts of our entire coastline; technical data and design specifications for construction of a glycerol (the main ingredient of explosives) plant—all of which they use to help kill American boys in Vietnam. American money, American tooling and American knowhow have been used to build an auto plant in Russia so that Soviet trucks could peacefully haul ammunition and equipment to North Vietnam to kill American men. Nelson Rockefeller and Cyrus Eaton have even formed a special corporation to sell to the enemy.

Russia is one of the most backward nations in the world, outside of Africa. Most of Russia's scientific and technological developments and knowhow—including the bomb—were stolen from other nations or given to the Russians by our own traitors. In the past three years, hundreds of Russian scientists and spies have combed this country to learn all we know about atomic energy, oceanography, chemistry, computers, astrophysics, electronics, meterorology, medicine, machine tools, assembly line production, urban planning, agricultural know-how...

On a bitterly cold day at Valley Forge, General Washington sank to one knee and asked for divine guidance. Later he met with his military leaders and with tears in his eyesnot tears of fear or failure, but tears of pride in the heroes surrounding him and in our new Republic-he gave a clear and simple command: "Put none but Americans on guard tonight!" A few years ago, Commander-in-Chief Johnson stated unequivocally: "We're going to fight from now on and we're going to beat them to a standstill!" Not the Vietcong! He was talking about the Republicans. He had no intention of beating the Vietcong because it might offend Russia, which supplies 80% of the Vietcong's war material. And neither does President Nixon, who has also requested even more taxes, more "cultural exchange" and more "bridge building" to help our Russian and East European criminal, heathen enemies, while we surrender in Vietnam.

Some patriots contend the menace to our country is almost entirely from within. Others agree with Phyllis Schlafley (who with Admiral Ward wrote "Strike from Space") that Russia may bomb us from outer space, without warning. I agree with Mrs. Schlafley that a surprise attack by the Russians is a distinct possibility. But why is it a possibility? Simply because our one-worlding, bridge-building appeasers, opportunists and traitors have disarmed us to the extent that Russia could conceivably destroy us. Russia will attack whenever and only whenever she can do so and survive annihilating retaliation. If we are attacked from without, it will be because of treason within.

The American government, for the past 35 years, has done more to help Communism succeed than have all the non-Communist nations of the world combined. Results out-rank motives.

Some Americans want to try some of our anti-American anarchists and traitors for treason. But are Eldridge Cleaver, Robert Williams and Stokely Carmichael any more guilty of treason than some of our leaders are? Why start at the bottom instead of the top? Why attack the monkey instead of the organ grinder?—American Way Features
