

Mrs. Senia Phillips Celebrates 93rd Birthday

Birthday Celebration

Mrs. Senia Phillips celebrated her 93rd birthday on Sunday, January 17, 1971, with her son, Clyde, and his children and some neighbors.

Mrs. Phillips has 2 daughters, Mrs. Joe Hunter of Jonesboro, Tennessee and Mrs. Geo.

Letterman of Erwin; and two sons, Clyde of the home and Odell, who lives nearby on Jacks Creek Road.

Mrs. Phillips is still active in her home. She pieces quilts every day, and now has 75 to 100 quilts and tops. She does her own housework, too.

Homemakers Club Meets

The Burnsville Homemakers' Club met Friday afternoon, January 15, at the Nu Wray Inn, with Mrs. John Bennett and Mrs. Lena Tilson as hostesses. Seventeen members were present.

Mrs. P. C. Coletta, President, led in the reading of the Homemakers' Creed, and presided over the business meeting.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Troy Ray.

Reports from Committee Chairmen were given.

Mrs. Deyton, Home Economist, announced that there would be a meeting of the County Council, composed of officers from all the Homemakers Clubs, on the fourth Thursday of this month, and urged all officers of the Burnsville Club to be present.

The President suggested the members be working on items to be displayed and sold at the 1971 Crafts Festival.

Mrs. Ruth Wilson gave a talk on the care of poinsettias during the winter months.

A film strip on the care and feeding of house plants was shown by Mrs. Deyton.

One new member was added to the Club - Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Stamey.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, after which the meeting adjourned.

Woman's Club Meeting Held

The regular meeting of the Burnsville Woman's Club was held on Thursday, January 14, at the Community Building. Mrs. Mack B. Ray, President, presided over the business session. Various reports were made and plans discussed for the Fine Arts meeting to be held in March in Asheville.

Mrs. Oscar Deyton was voted into the club as a new member.

The program subject for the evening was The Changing Aspects of the Theater. Mrs. Donald Westall, guest speaker, reviewed the history of drama, from primitive man through the Middle Ages, and from the age of Shakespeare up to the modern day version of drama, with all its implications. Mrs. Westall also read excerpts of several types of literature, closing with a selection from A Stone, A Leaf, A Door, by Thomas Wolfe.

A social hour followed. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Lucius Smith and Mrs. James Ray.

Who Asks About NC?

Florida was the leading source of inquiries for travel information on North Carolina in 1970 according to the Department of Conservation and Development's Travel and Promotion Division.

Bill F. Hensley, director of the Travel and Promotion Division, announced that residents of the Sunshine State accounted for 26,574 inquiries during the year.

Of the 151,893 inquiries received by the Division, 17,981 were from North Carolinians planning trips within their own state.

Georgia was second in inquiries with 12,298. Ohio was third with 10,183, Virginia fourth with 9,993, and Maryland with 8,630 rounded out the top five.

A special "Autumn" newspaper advertising supplement drew 47,272 inquiries. The supplement appeared in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, Cincinnati Enquirer, Miami Herald, St. Petersburg Times, Tampa Tribune and Times and the Washington Post.

A surprise was the unusually "strong showings" of California (2,646), Texas (2,937), and Indiana (2,438), according to Hensley. All three states outdrew neighboring South Carolina and Tennessee.

Eighty-nine foreign countries requested information on travel opportunities in the Tar Heel State. Canada was the leading producer of foreign inquiries with 3,851.

One real surprise was the drop in ranking by New York. The Empire State has either led or been second every year since 1960. This year New York was sixth. Rounding out the top ten were Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Illinois and Michigan.

Hensley said he was especially pleased with the high ranking of Kentucky, Wisconsin, Alabama, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Louisiana, Missouri and West Virginia.
