Pfc. Wounded In Vietnam

Pfc. Billy D. Hughes, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Hughes of Route 2, Burnsville, came home on convalescent leave from his tour of duty in Vietnam.

Billy entered the Army in May, 1970 and was sent to Vietnam in October. In March, 1971, Pfc. Hughes was wounded in the arm and was hospitalized for a short time before being returned to active duty. Later in March he was wounded more extensively in the chest and arm by an exploding land mine. He was hospitalized for several weeks in Tokyo, according to reports, and then sent to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. for X-rays and checkup.

He then came home for further convalescence until May 10 when he is required to report to Walter Reed Hospital again.

Pfc. Hughes received a Vietnamese Combat Medal and more recently, two Purple Hearts during his tour of duty in Vietnam.

Visual Aid

The Sophomore Home Economics Class of Mars Hill College along with the head of the department, Miss Nimona Bierhaun and Mrs. Susan Kiser, teacher of mathematics at Mars Hill College, visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferril McCurry. The visit was a part of the expanded Home Economics Program of the college in which the students are able to see various types of home decoration.

The McCurry's home is decorated with antiques; a collection of clocks, watches, coffee mill, needle point, etc.

4-H Workshops

4-H in cooperation with the Harbor House Marine Science Center has scheduled three Marine Environment Summer Workshops to be held at the Harbor House facility on Harbor Island at Wrightsville Bch, N.C. during July and August.

Each of the three workshops consists of six days of study of our Marine environment including lectures, films, discussion and field trips to coastal areas and Marine science laboratories.

The purpose of the program is to make each student aware of the coastal environment and its problems; to show that oceanography is an interdisciplinary science; to acquaint students with scientific instruments used in exploring this new frontier and to provide a career guidance experience.

A fee of $85 is required for the cost of the workshop. The workshop is open to 4-H and non 4-H member.

Anyone interested please contact Pat Guyer at the County Extension Office, Burnsville, N.C. Phone 682-2113.
