Publisher's Note

Beginning with this issue, The Yancey Record will be published in full size instead of the previous tabloid size. Both newspaper sizes have certain advantages, but we believe that the larger page size will allow us to give our readers more local news each week, to make better use of pictures, and to print more interesting and informative feature articles.

We hope our readers will like our new size--although old-timers may contend that the size is not new at all, but simply a return to the original size of The Yancey Record as it was published several years ago.

Tax News

Checks totaling over $12.5 million are being sent to 428 North Carolina cities and towns this week under provisions of the Powell Bill, which allo cates gasoline tax funds to municipalities each year.

This year's payment is a record, exceeding last year's allocation, the highest up to then, of $11.9 million.

This payment is for the fiscal year 1970-71, and will double next year since an act of the legislature raised the Powell Bill source from onehalf cent per gallon of the gas tax to a full cent.

Burnsville's allocation was $9,943.33.

Farmers Nominating Candidates For ASC Community Committeemen

Yancey County farmers are sending in their nomination petition for candidates for ASC community committeemen says Pate, Chairman of the County Agricul tural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

This year the election of ASC committeemen will be held December 1. All petitions to nominate candidates must be filed at the County ASCS Office by close of business October 27.

A recent change in election procedures permits the netitions to be filed when signed by only 3 qualified farm voters, instead of 6 as required last year. Also, the petition, or any accompanying signed piece of paper, must contain a statement that the candidate is willing to serve if elected. Petitions are still limited to one nominee each, but farmers may sign as many petitions as they wish,

If a community doesn't nominate a full slate of 6 candidates, the community committee will add the number of names required to fill

"We're hoping to have the full support of the farm community this year in nominating, voting for, and in willing ness to run as committeemen candidates," Mr.

Each ASC communitywill elect 3 regular community committeemen and 2 alternates to represent the community. Three committee men from each community will serve as delegates to the county convention, where farmers will be elected to fill vacancies and name the officers for the County ASC Committee.

The County Committee locally administers farm action programs. Community committees help keep farmers in their districts informed of changes in program provisions and other farm pro -

"Together, the community and county committees serve as representatives of farmers, and as spokesmen for the Department of Agriculture in Washington, for such farm programs as REAP, Feed Grain, and Burley Tobacco,"Mr. Pate said.

Male and female farm owners, tenants, and sharecroppers, of legal voting age, are eligible to participate in ASCS programs and take part in ASC committeemen elections regardless of race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

Other details on voting and committeemen require ments are available at the Yancey County ASCS Office, located at the Yancey County
