

PREVIEW OF WINTER--Although the ornicial date set for the beginning of the winter season is mid-December, nature gave Yancey County a preview showing this past Tuesday. The first snowfall is eagerly anticipated by young and old, but some may say they regard the "last snowfall" of the season with more enthusiasm. Be that as it may, the scene above, Cane River after a snowfall, is surely a beautiful sight.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ashworth, from Hyde in Cheshire, England, were recent visitors to Burnsville and Yancey County as guests of Mrs. Marie Murray and Mrs. Lillian Jelley---When they returned to England, their visit was thus described in the local "Herald" heading "Wild West". "Another day and they are back in the Wild West, this time in Yancey Valley, a small western town with an Inn (famous for people in show business) and a store that sells almost everything--"even English Marmalade!"--Some of the truth was lost in the telling but perhaps this is the way they saw us!

"As Others See Us" United Fund Thermometer Figures Indicate Progress

The columns of mercury on the thermometers stan ding on the Town Square, which indicate progress being made in the Yancey United Fund campaign, are steadily rising.

Each week the list of names of the Century Club, which consists of those who have contributed $100 or more, is lengthening. This week three names were added, and as shown below, the membership now stands at thirty.

A canvas is now being made of firms and offices to determine those where all personnel have contributed to the UF. This United Fund Honor Roll will be published next week. Schools where all teachers have contributed, will be included.

Tomatoes Yield Good Return

The 1971 growing season was an excellent year for Yancey Tomato growers Most of the growers made a good return for their time spent.

Thirteen County growers have conducted special tomato Enterprise and Type II demonstrations this summer. This is a cooperative effort of farmer, the Extension Service and T. V. A. to teach desirable cultural practices in growing tomatoes. These farmers have kept complete accurate records of expenses incurred along with quantity sold and income received. This information has been compiled, totaled together, and averages run. These averages reveal the follow ing on a per acre basis: the average yield marketed, 37 tons per acre. Average sales, $4,788 per acre. Average expenses including hired la bor, spray material, equipment, repairs, fertilizer and other supplies were $1,300

Road Projects

Yancey County has been allocated more than $30,000 for four secondary road construction projects, it was announced today.

Approval of the projects was voted at the regular November meeting held in High Point, North Carolina.

The campaign this year has progressed more slowly than a year ago, but the campaign committee is by no means discouraged. They have simply extended the drive to continue at least two more weeks. They are confident the slowness of the drive does not reflect any unwillingness to contribute, but is rather the resalt of inertia of some of the volunteer workers who have postponed doing their solicisupper are being distributed throughout North Carolina for the purpose of raising at least $5,000 for this year's property payment. The day to day operation will be supported by group and individual contributions from around the state. The new cottage will be built with extensive help from the Greensboro Jaycees.

Girls Haven is a home where girls who are removed from their own home can live until the family problems are solved or until they finish high school. The more people learn about Girls Haven, the more support this effort will receive locally and statewide.

Veterans Employment Day Program Held

Over 1,000 letters of in vitation were sent to unem ployed veterans in Yancey, Burke, McDowell, Mitchell and Avery counties to ask them to come to the Veter an's Employment Day Program which was held Wednesday in Marion N.C.

More than 30 business firms and area service organization participated in the program.

Sponsored by the N. C. Employment Security Commission and the Chambers of Commerce and various civic groups and veterans organizations of Marion, Morganton and Spruce Pine, the Veterand Employment Day was designed to bring jobless veterans from all areas and the plover representatives from this area together for possible employment and counseling. Vietnam veterans are returning to Western North Carolina in ever increasing numbers. Their unemploy ment rate is much higher than non-veterans. This is partly due to loss of employer contacts caused by several years absence. This gettogether will help bridge that gap for the veteran and make available to employers an attractive recruiting source of young men, many with excellent training and a variety of skills.

On June 11, 1971, President Nixon directed Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson to assume leadership of an intensive effort to place unemployed Vietnam-era veterans in jobs or training and to establish procedures which will provide employment for veterans as we continue phasing down the war in Victram. This Veterans' Employment Day is one of the methods being used to achieve the goals of this presidential directive. It was used successfully in Asheville on October 6, 1971, and is now being planned in other areas of the state. Executive Order 11598, issued by President Nixon on June 16, 1971, placed the Federal government squarely behind this program. It states: "It also is the policy of the Federal government to require that veterans be given a preference in job referrals through the employment system". It further orders the Secretary of Labor to "issue rules and regulations requiring each department and agency of the Executive Banch of the Federal government to list suitable employment openings with the appropriate office of the State Employment Service or the U.S. Employment Service."

It also requires that "government contracts, above a specified dollar amount and providing specified employ . ment potential, to contain assurance that the contractor and any subcontractor holding a contract directly under that contractor, shall, to the maximum extent fessible, list all of its suitable employment openings with the appropriate office of the State employ ment service system."

CAP MEETING

Every Monday at 7:30 P. M., Mountain Wilderness. We urge all members to attend.
