Lost Dog Seeks Home

About three weeks ago, a dog came to the home of Mrs. Betty Molsinger and had eight puppies. Mrs. Molsinger says the dog is "nice, loving, and well-mannered" and that whoever she belongs to must miss her. She has been told that the dog is a Red Bone Coon Hound, but Mrs. Molsinger thinks she looks like an Irish Setter with short hair.

If the owner will get in touch with Betty Molsinger at 682-3138, the mother and puppies will be returned. If the owner cannot be located, anyone interested in giving the mother and / or one or more of the puppies a home, contact Mrs. Molsinger.

Fagan And Dygert United In Marriage

Marriage vows were exchanged at Bolens Creek Baptist Church on Saturday, February 5, by Janis Marie Fagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sterling Fagan of Burnsville and Wayne Charles Dygert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Dygert of Hendersonville. Dr. Joseph Godwin of Mass Hill officiated.

The bride wore a full length dress of bridal satin, layered over on the bodice and the length of the dress in an open fashion with Chantilly lace. The veil consisted of a small pill box satin top with a full train following. The bride carried a bouquet of white daisies and the groom wore a white daisy boutonniere.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Manuel (Angie) Patino as matron of honor, wearing a blue empire cut dress, and the bride's two sisters, Karen and Diana Fagan, wearing similar dresses of green and lavender. All attendants wore a halo of daisies and carried a single yellow rosebud.

Attending the groom were Manuel Patino as best man, and as ushers, John McKibben and Fred King, all of Asheville.

Present at the marriage were the parents of the bride and the groom and the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lawrence also from Hendersonville.

Also attending were a party from Atlanta, Georgia and a group of friends and relatives from Burnsville. Paddy Downing, a friend of the bride and groom, came from Leesburg, Va. where she is attending school, to be at the wedding.

After spending several days at the "attail Creek cabin of the George Downings, the couple returned to Atlanta where they will be making their home.

Shell House Converted Into a 'Dream House'

By JANICE R. CHRISTENSEN

"We've taken our shell house, which was all we could afford at the time we built, and remodeled it into a dream house," says Mrs. Matthew Kesler of Rowan County.

The conversion from shell house to superhouse called for a new brick exterior, and a remodeled kitchen with greater cabinet space, paneling and new appliances.

Also, one of the three bedrooms was paneled and converted into a family room.

Before the major overhaul, the Kesler family had made several minor changes, including completion of the bathroom and the addition of more closet space.

Furnishings-wise, Mrs. Kesler made draperies for the kitchen, living room and family room and bought draperies and matching bedspreads for the bedrooms. Friends and neighbors helped her paint the inside of the house.

"Mrs. Kesler became president of her Extension Homemakers Club in January," Mrs. Louise Slade, home economics extension agent, reports.

"She brought to that office that same traits she brought to the family housing effort -- patience and perseverance," the agent added.

"SHADY BUSINESS" Members of the Cordova Juniors 4-H Club, Richmond County, have found a way to perform a community service and fatten their treasury.

Noting that their neighborhood is in a new development, and therefore treeless, the group decided to do something about it.
