

Revival Set At Paint Gap Church

There will be a revival at the Paint Gap Presbyterian Church on June 24-30 at 7:30 p. m. The Evangelist will be Rev. Nathan Penland.

Rev. Nathan Penland, now engaged in full time Christian evangelism in special meetings in churches, as well as in city-wide and county-wide revivals, has a wide and varied experience in pastoral and musical ministries.

A graduate of Toccoa Falls Bible College in Georgia, Mr. Penland also attended the University of Georgia, and as a student musician traveled widely with the late Dr. R. A. Forrest, president of the Toccoa Falls College.

Becoming associated with the work of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Mr. Penland has served as Alliance pastor in Oneonta and Bessemer, Alabama; Rome, Georgia and West Palm Beach, Florida, and in Asheville at the Alliance Church until entering the evangelistic field in 1972. For 10 years he also conducted a successful 'drive-in' church in an Asheville shopping center, maintaining a weekly radio broadcast as well.

Mr. Penland has ministered as speaker, soloist and music director in many of the large Bible conferences and in camp meetings in Pennsylvania, New York, Arkansas, Texas, Georgia and the Carolinas.

During 1971 Mr. Penland was called upon to minister in travels through West Africa and Europe, and serving as the speaker in the annual conference of missionaries and national workers in the Republic of Ivory Coast.

In his pastoral work, Mr. Penland has sponsored several missionary candidates serving as assistants in his own church, thus preparing them for overseas work in two years of experience with him in pastoral duties.

Gov. Scott At Conference

Governor Bob Scott will address a conference on World Resources and World Trade to be held on June 20 and 21 at Watauga High School in Boone. He is but one of many experts from all over the world to speak at the two day conference sponsored by The Community International Affairs Committee of Appalachian State University, League of Women Voters of Watauga County, Junior Women's Clubs, Rotary, Extension Homemakers and various community colleges in Northwestern N.C.

The June 20 program will begin at 9:30 a. m., followed by a workshop at 11 a. m. The energy crisis is the topic.

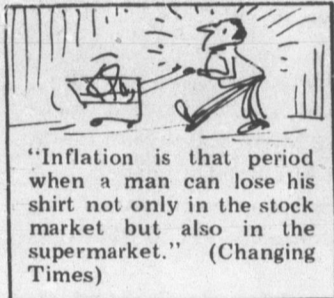

The afternoon session begins at 1:30 p. m., also followed by a workshop. This discussion will be on world trade.

At 8:00 p. m. Governor Scott will address himself to "Your Rising Dollar" and tie in the effect world inflation has on North Carolina business and agriculture.

June 21, the 9:30 session will discuss Defense Strategy and its cost to citizens. At 1:30 the seminar will involve itself with Development Aid and at 8:00 p. m. Defense Strategy will again be discussed and whether it should be military or economic.

Speakers from AID, World Bank, Indonesia and various Universities will be featured at all sessions and will conduct the workshops following each session.

For more information contact Dr. Roland Moy, Political Science Department, Appalachian State University, Boone, N.C. 28705.

Woman's Club Holds Meeting

The Burnsville Woman's Club held its final meeting before disbanding for the summer recess, at the Community Building last Thursday evening. Thirty-three members and guests were present for the occasion.

The president, Mrs. Ralph Jacks, presided over the business session. Reports were made by various committees, with emphasis being placed on preserving our heritage for posterity, by means of collecting various artifacts and historical data of the local area, to be used for exhibits when the new library reaches completion. Emphasis was also placed on preserving the environment for posterity by means of an anti-litter campaign.

Mrs. Ernest Briggs announced that the summer workshop for District II of the NC FWC will be held in Brevard on July 18, and that all members wishing to attend should make reservations at once.

The program for the evening was in the nature of a travelogue. The guest speaker was Mr. Arthur Asher, retired artist from Port Charlotte, Fla. and more recently from Burnsville. He showed many beautiful slides of several foreign countries which he and his wife have visited. Also on display were many of his own paintings.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. W. A. Y. Sargent, Mrs. Joan Reeve, and Mrs. H. Edwards.
