Crafts Fair Begins

Races, and Seed Spitting Contests. New this year will be bicycle races, and a log-sawing contest is being planned. The traditional horseshoe pitching will be going during both days of the Fair. Also, there will be singing and dancing by participants from the seventh annual Yancey County Chamber of Commerce and held at one of the local high schools. The Jamboree, a program of folk music, singing, and dancing which presents local youth of the county in a two-night happening is scheduled this year for August 1 and 2 at 7:00 p.m. in the auditorium of East Yancey High School. The Jamboree provides a two hundred dollar scholarship for a worthy senior from each of Yancey's two high schools.

Refreshments will be sold during both days of the Fair. There will be hot dogs sold on Friday by the staff of The Yancey Journal. There will be buttered corn-on-the-cob, and on Saturday, enough chicken will be barbecued to serve 1500 plates to the hungry fair-goers. The Fair will open officially at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, August 2 when Mayor James Anglin of Burnsville; Chairman of the Yancey County Commissioners, O. W. Deyton; and J. Olen Shepherd, President of the Yancey County Chamber of Commerce, all will make a few brief remarks. Then the fair will get underway in a fashion that has been a tradition for almost two decades here in the mountains.

Jones Is New SCS Agent

Gilbert Douglas Jones has been transferred to Yancey County from Hyde County by the United States Department of Agriculture-Soil Conservation Service. The new SCS agent for Yancey County has been employed by SCS for eight years. He is living on Wilson Branch Road here.

Mr. Jones graduated from Wayne Community College in May of 1966 with an Associates

Gilbert Jones

Degree in Agricultural Technology.

He is a member of the North Carolina National Guard, presently stationed in Washington, North Carolina. He was a member of the Mattamuskeet Jaycees, serving as Treasurer and President of that Chapter. He also served as a charter member of Swan Quarter Volunteer Fire Department before his transfer to Yancey County. Mr. Jones has his membership in Swan Quarter Baptist Church, serving one year on the Board of Deacons for that church.

Jones has moved here with his wife, Gail, daughter Glenda who is 5 years old, and two foster children, Roger and David Curry, two and four years old. He looks forward to working in this area and invites people to call or come by his office in the courthouse with problems or inquiries.

Farm And Home Tour Scheduled

By Wm. C. Bledsoe
Extension and Agricultural Agency workers have announced a Farm and Home Tour scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, August 7, 1974 as printed below.

This tour is designed to provide farmers, businesses and the general public a closer look at ongoing projects in Yancey County and not designed just to show good crops and livestock. It is designed as a learning experience to emphasize opportunities for increased income and a better life for county people.

Some of the stops at "one of a kind" or "few of a kind" projects include: Charles Ray's "Cutbacks"; Warren Westall's "Burley Handling Systems"; and Stokes Austin's unusual tobacco patch. The general public is invited. People may join or leave at any point.

Additional information is available by calling 682-2113.

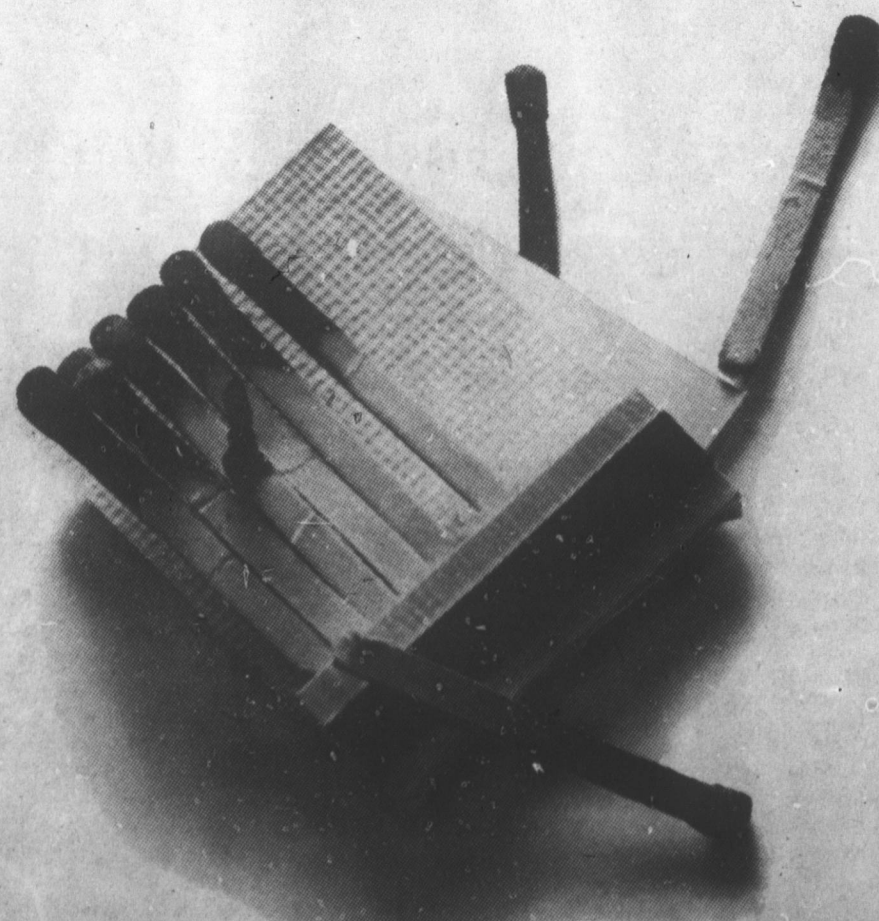

The Farm and Home Tour schedule is as follows: 12:30 p.m., Assemble at Ingle's Parking Lot. First stop is Wayne McCurry's (Bolens Creek) at 1:05; Charles Ray (Pensacola) at 1:55; the Carlie Rice Farm at 2:20; Bobby Bennett's at 2:35; Walter Edwards (Phipps Creek) at 2:45; Westall Farm (Prices Creek) at 3:30; Stokes Austin (Prices Creek) at 4:00; Burl Austin at 4:15; and last is Jeter McCurry's at 4:30 p.m.
