

Cane River News

The weekly report from Cane River High School is, as usual, indicative of a busy time.

STUDENT TEACHERS
By Rachel Arrowood
On Wednesday, Feb. 25, three students from Mars Hill College came to observe classes at Cane River. They observed for the remainder of the week.

On Monday, March 8, they returned to start their student teaching. They will be here until May 12. They are as follows: Miss Debbie Bridwell from Stafford, Va. She is living now on the campus at Mars Hill College and is teaching under Mrs. Irma Higgins in typing and under Mrs. Elaine Boone in shorthand and bookkeeping. Miss Bridwell plans to get married and teach in Stafford after her graduation.

Mr. Joseph Scott Carter is from Christiansburg, Virginia. While going to school at Mars Hill he is residing in Spruce Pine, N.C. Mr. Carter is doing his student teaching with Mr. Blaine Whitson and Mr. Horace Cox in social study courses. He is going to teach in his home town of Christiansburg or in Georgia.

Mr. Dennis Phillips is from Hastings, Florida. He lives in Mars Hill but not on the campus of the college. Dennis is teaching under Mrs. Lisa Mauney in band. He plans to teach or to work with the handicapped in musical therapy.

GROUP TOURS SOUTHERN BELL
By Sherri Hensley
On Thursday, March 11, Mrs. Boone's Shorthand and Bookkeeping classes and Mrs. Higgins' Typing II class toured the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Asheville. The group left Cane River at 10 a.m. and had lunch at their choice of McDonalds or the Pizza Hut. After the tour, they stopped at an ice cream parlor. They arrived back at CR shortly after 3 p.m.

MARSHALS CHOSEN
By Sherri Hensley
During the week of March 8, 1976, fourteen marshals were chosen on the basis of an average of 90 or above. The following students were chosen: Mike Thomas-Chief, Shirlyn Chandler, Janice Wilson, Dairen Edwards, Natalie Fox, Karen A. Robinson, Elizabeth Higgins, Mike Renfro, Sherry Silvers, Debra Hensley, Donald Angel, Susan England, Linda Foxx, and Linda Conley.

INDIAN LORE
By Amelia Higgins
Friday, March 12, Chief Pete Warbonnet, Sioux Indian, visited Cane River. He is the Great Grandson of Bear Robe. The program took place in the gym during second and third periods. The admission was 50c.
He began the program by telling some of the things Indians wore and how Indian children were raised. He showed all the different pipes, whistles, and drums used in tribal meetings. He also showed some warpaint used then. He told names of tribes and what each name meant. He showed some sign language and talked a little in his own language. At the end of the program he gave the students and teachers a chance to ask questions.

FRENCH CLUB MEETS
By Ann Peterson
The French Club met on Monday, March 8. The main topic for discussion was a foreign festival to be held at Mars Hill College on May 1. The Cane River Club is hoping to participate in the activities. After a discussion of business, the members played French Bingo.

GIRLS STATE
By Shirlyn Chandler
Natalie Fox, Janice Wilson, Lucretia Canipe, Stephanie Angell, and Shirlyn

'The Most'
The most accurate watches you can buy are the quartz solid state digital electronic watches, such as those sold and guaranteed by Sears, Roebuck and Co., a firm that's been in the watch business for 90 years. Very popular among today's innovative young men, these watches never need winding. As a matter of fact, the best digitals sold by Sears are warranted to be accurate to within three minutes a year for a period of three years.

Chandler—all juniors—were nominated to attend the 37th Annual North Carolina Girls' State at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Girls State will run from June 13 to June 19. Girls State is a program sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. The girls are chosen according to citizenship, character, and leadership. Girls with veteran fathers are preferred, but not required.

H.O. STUDENTS WORK
By Denise Fender
Health Occupation students from both Cane River and East Yancey have been working in various health-related fields in Burnsville. The students each work three days at the Veterinary Clinic in Burnsville. They will be acquainted with different techniques and procedures that are carried on in the office.

Some of the other students work at the Yancey County Child Development Center in Burnsville. The purpose of this is to learn to relate to children—to understand how they think and what pleases them.

Dr. Hemphill's office is another place the students work. They become familiar with the office practice and do various jobs in the office under supervision. The purpose of the students' going to these various places is to broaden their learning in relation to the health field.

Amy Young

Celebrates Birthday

Amy Maria Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arliss J. Young of Asheville, celebrated her sixth birthday recently at a party held at Ridge Townhouse Club House. David Holt, a teacher at Warren Wilson College and the Storyteller on Bill Norwood's TV show, entertained some thirty children with folk songs and stories.

Amy is pictured in the dress she wore in the North Carolina Bicentennial Pageant last October at the Grove Park Inn, Asheville.

She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Young of Burnsville.

Spring Play Chosen At East Yancey

The Spring Play has been chosen for East Yancey High School—"The Crucible" by Arthur Miller. The play deals with witchcraft in Salem in 1692. Witch hunting at that time was a manifestation of the panic which set in among all classes of people when the balance began to turn toward greater individual freedom—sometimes likened to the panic during the days of the McCarthy hearings when many individuals were accused of being Communist.

Auditions for parts in "The Crucible" were held from February 23 to 27, during 6th period. Many students read for different parts, but by Monday, March 1, Mrs. Westall had chosen the 21 students for their parts. There are 11 girl characters and 10 boys. Mrs. Westall also chose a student director, stage manager, technical director, publicity manager and prompters. Students volunteered for committees such as make-up, costume, and set committees.

Matthew Harris is Student Director, Barbara Austin is Stage Manager, Dennis Dale is Technical Director, Anne Westall plays the part of Betty Parris, Rev. Samuel Parris is played by Bill Geouge, Kim Aldridge is Tituba, Theresa Silver plays Abigail Williams, Susanna Walcott is played by Ina Quinn. Sherrie Laughrun plays the part of Mrs. Ann Putnam, Donny Laws is Thomas Putnam, Marie Hunter plays Mercy Lewis, Johnnie Gilley plays Mary Warren. Milton Higgins plays the part of John Proctor, Barbara Austin is Rebecca Nurse, Tommy Carr plays Giles Corey, Rev. John Hale is played by an East Yancey teacher, Dean Hicks, Martha Anne Westall plays Elizabeth Proctor, Todd Bailey plays Francis Nurse, Tim Wyatt plays Ezekiel Cheever, Danny Honeycutt plays John Willard, Judge Hawthorne is played by Robert Simmons, Deputy Gov. Danforth is played by Matthew Harris, Sarah Good is played by Sam Stewart and Ricky Woody plays the part of Hopkins.

Financial News

Edwin Duncan, Jr., president of Northwestern Financial Corporation of North Wilkesboro, North Carolina, announced the sale of the renewal policies of First Atlantic Agency of Charlotte. First Atlantic Agency is a subsidiary of First Atlantic Corporation. The purchase was by Allied Assurance Agencies of America, Inc., headed by E. Loy Kutz of Charlotte.

In making the announcement, Mr. Duncan stated that a decision had been made some two years ago for Northwestern Insurance Company, a wholly owned fire and casualty insurance subsidiary of M & J Financial Corporation, to market through the American Agency System. The sale of First Atlantic Agency is a further step in accomplishing this purpose.
