Judging Set For Community Improvement

Judging to select the organized areas in Western North Carolina that have done the most outstanding job in beautification and improving the visual environment during 1976 will be held September 15-17. The occasion will be the area judging of the community club division of WNC BEAUTIFUL '76, the beautification competition of the Western North Carolina Community Development Program.

Over 90 rural and suburban areas participated in the annual year-round beautification project this year. Fourteen communities have already been selected to represent their respective counties in the judging finals.

Representing Yancey County in the area competition will be Brush Creek Community, which will be inspected by a judging team composed of Mrs. Shirley Traugbter of Enka, chairman of the Asheville Council of Garden Clubs; Charles R. Patton, Asheville, former assistant state conservationist for Tennessee and William Sweet, landscape architect, N.C. National Forests.

An area judging will also be done this month involving county winners of a division of WNC BEAUTIFUL program for organizations and groups other than community clubs. This is being done by a different judging team.

Cash awards totaling $1700 will be presented to winners of the two divisions at a luncheon meeting of the WNC Community Development Program committee on September 23 at 12 noon at the S & W Cafeteria at the Asheville Mall.

The beautification program is sponsored by the Western North Carolina Development Association and the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service. Aim is to encourage communities and groups to conduct organized clean-up programs or special beautification projects and to recognize those doing a particularly good job.
