Series In Full Swing

The Music in the Mountains chamber music series is in full swing with the complete complement of the Celso Chamber Players now in residence. With a woodwind quintet, a string quartet, a piano and harpsichord, music director Frank Ell is able to put together varied programs with many different combinations of instrumentation.

For the third concert, Ell has selected Piston's Trio for Woodwinds, a Haydn string quartet (Opus 33 No.2) and the Beethoven Quintet for Piano and Winds. This will be performed July 23 in Swannanoa, July 24 in Burnsville and July 28 in Hendersonville.

The Celso Chamber Players

The concert is then repeated on Sunday at 3:30 in the Presbyterian Church in Burnsville and on Thursday at 8:00 in Hendersonville in the Trinity Presbyterian Church, 900 Blyth Street.

The concert series is supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency and by contributions from individuals, corporations and foundations. Tickets are on sale at the door.

Cystic

Fibrosis

Campaign

Mrs. Judy Brown has been named "Kiss Your Baby" Campaign Chairperson for the Burnsville area according to George W. Little, State Campaign Chairperson, N.C. Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. The CF Foundation supports research in children's lung-damaging diseases such as asthma with lung damage, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, childhood emphysema, and cystic fibrosis, the most serious of all.

More than 6,000,000 American children suffer with one or more of these lung-damaging diseases of which there are 150,000 in North Carolina alone. Many of these youngsters are treated at the Duke CF Center which is supported by the foundation.

The signs of lung-damaging diseases are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing, excessive mucous, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite but poor weight gain, and clubbing of the fingertips. In addition to the above, cystic fibrosis signs may also include salty taste of the skin, persistent bulky diarrhea, and nasal polyps.
