

United Way Fund:

Many Agencies Benefit

Your Yancey County United Way contribution is helping to support the North Carolina United Way. You may wonder why citizens of Yancey should give $1,568 to support the state United Fund.

By contributing this share, our county benefits from important organizations which it would be impossible

Blood Donors Give 70 Pints

It was a fairly slow day at the bloodmobile last Friday, October 7, when it visited in Burnsville at the First Baptist Church. The quota was 100 pints of blood; only 70 pints were collected. Twelve persons who volunteered had to be rejected for various reasons of the 82 who offered to donate. Fifteen persons came in solely for the blood pressure check.

Although 12 persons who volunteered at this visit of the bloodmobile were 1st time donors, Yancey County boasts three people who are near or over the eight gallon mark. In addition to O.W. Deyton who was mentioned in last week's bloodmobile article, Harold Anglin is also well over the eight gallon level of blood donations. Arnold Higgins is another person very close to receiving his eight gallon pin. The Red Cross and other workers with the bloodmobile crew would like to thank everyone who gave blood at this visit of the unit to Burnsville.

for us to sustain on our own. The Epilepsy Association of North Carolina is a good example. Epilepsy is not a disease; it amounts to an electrical short-circuit in the brain which produces seizures. Automobile accidents are a major cause of epilepsy. About 1/4 of all epileptic seizures happen to young people under the age of 21. One child in 50 has epilepsy. Without the Epilepsy Association of North Carolina to turn to, epileptics and their families in Yancey County would not receive the benefits of advanced research and educational work.

Did you know that your United Way contributions help to support Florence Crittendon Services which assists single pregnant girls in North Carolina? Girls think, "it won't happen to me," but it does happen to 14,000 women in our state each year. Other needs you are helping to meet are adoption services through The Children's Home Society. You lighten the load of mental depression for adults and children through the North Carolina Mental Health Association. You help servicemen and their families through varied recreational and educational programs of the U.S.O. You combat VD and help its victims, young women and innocent babies, through the American Social Health Association, a national voluntary agency. You recognize and help answer the needs of elderly persons through the Council on Aging. Your support of the United Way makes all of these state services accessible to the people of Yancey County. Give generously when a volunteer asks for your donation. Or take the initiative of sending your contribution to the Yancey County United Way, c/o The Northwestern Bank, Burnsville, N.C. 28714.

New HUD Program May Help

The program offered by the Department of Housing and Urban Development (H.U.D.) may be able to help both tenants and landlords in Yancey County. The Section 8 (Existing Housing) Assistance Payments Program offers a monthly rent supplement check payable directly to the landlord if the renting family qualifies, according to family size and the annual income and if the housing unit meets standards set by H.U.D. The standards include indoor bath room facilities, hot and cold water, being completely wired and the unit being in good general repair.

In order to participate in the program landlords must agree to lease for a minimum of one year and must be willing to bring the unit, house, mobile home or apartment up to standard condition. In return the landlord receives a guaranteed portion of the rent, the remainder being the responsibility of the tenant. If the tenant vacates the unit without notice before expiration of the lease, the landlord can receive 80% of the guaranteed portion of the rent for sixty days or until the unit is re-rented which ever comes first.

Yancey County has 43 families receiving the assistance of this program at the present time with 27 more unit slots for the next twelve months projected. The program is administered by W.A.M.Y. Community Action, Inc. and Region D, Council of Governments. To find out if you qualify to receive rental assistance or to find out if your rental unit qualifies or just to learn more about the Section 8 Assistance Payment Program contact Mrs. Fender at the W.A.M.Y. Office located over Pollard's Drug Store on West Main Street or call her at 682-2610. Equal Opportunity Housing.
