Printmaking Class Offered

Artist and musician Judith Grenell is offering printmaking (etching and woodcut, primarily) at her studio on Blue Rock Road in Yancey County. The class, which is under the sponsorship of the Toe River Arts Council, will meet for ten weeks on Wednesdays, beginning February 6, from 1:30 to 4:30 and from 6:30 to 9:30. Participants may choose to attend either in the afternoon or in the evening.

Mrs. Grenell, who gave a series of piano concerts for the benefit of arts education this past autumn, is doubly talented. She studied at the Art Students' League in New York and in New Jersey where she lived for many years. Winner of awards in watercolor, oils and graphics, her works have appeared in many travelling shows and in galleries and museums across the United States. Before settling in Burnsville, she was on the faculty for ten years of the Ridgewood School of Art and lectured at Newark State College. With her husband Horace, she is currently teaching a class called "Listening to Music" through Mayland Technical Institute.

Materials for the printmaking class will be provided as part of the registration fee, which is $40 for ten weeks. The class is limited to six for each session. To register, call Mrs. Grenell at 675-5342 or write TRAC, P.O. Box 521, Spruce Pine, N.C. 28777.

Micaville 4-H Club Meeting

BY CARRIE WEAVER
Micaville 4-H Reporter
The Micaville 4-H Club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Gayle Haines on Saturday, January 19. Chris Haines was recognized for having spent the most time working on his project during the month of January. Each member received a Feb. calendar on which to keep track of their individual project activities.

Announcements were made concerning summer camp, cheerleading classes, and club sewing project for the spring fashion show.

Jeff Haines, president, gave a demonstration to the club on his Coin project. Another demonstration was given by Chris Haines. His project is photography.

The activity for the meeting was making pretzels and whole wheat bread. The next meeting will be Saturday, February 16. Club members will be participating in the 4-H Club Shrubbery Sale. Order your new plantings for Spring from a 4-H'er!

Guyers Pay Christmas Visit Here

Pat and Bunny Guyer, former residents of Burnsville, were in town the week after Christmas. They spent every available minute surprising friends and visiting with them and driving about the county noting changes and appreciating the things that have not changed.

They also visited Mars Hill, where Mr. Guyer graduated in 1967. They were pleased to be able to visit with their former landlady there and Mrs. Emory Robinson who kept the Guyer's son, Jon, when he was 4 years old.

Jon attended Mrs. Jess Styles' kindergarten when the family lived in Burnsville and went half through grade 5 at Burnsville Elementary. He is now 17 and a senior at Surry Central High School in Dobson, N.C. where he and his family now live.

Pat and Bunny were not able to see all their friends and send warmest greetings to all the people of Burnsville!

Help Available In Ancestor Search

BY MARJORIE S. RAY
(Editor's note: Ms. Ray will be writing a column for the Yancey Journal periodically to give and to seek information in her search for ancestors.)

There is a saying, "Do not live in the past" but it is good for us to look back and realize sacrifices that our forefathers made for us. We can learn humility, some inspirations and have pride in our heritage. We are indeed obligated to those that have gone on before us and made possible what we are today.

Anyone that is interested in researching for progenitors, I will be glad to help in any way that I can, free of charge. It is an interesting hobby and we should leave a history for our children. Although they may not be interested now, there will come a time when they will be. How I wish someone of my forefathers had left a history of the family...

Call me at 682-2831 and give me your ancestors' date of birth, name, where born and married, and I will help you get started on your search.

Here are a few people searching for ancestors:
McAllister, Mrs. Esther, 8630 Mooney Rd., Elk Grove, CA 95620 wants information of Elizabeth Stanley, born 6 March, 1815 in North Carolina; father was Martin Stanley.

Roy L. Ray Sr., Route 3, Box 362, Burnsville, will exc. information on Samuel Ray who was in North Carolina by 1770, migrated to Kentucky, thence to Alabama, Texas. His eldest son was Joseph Ray m Mary Fouts (Phouts).

Mrs. Mary E. Bennett, 800 W. Palm Ave., Orange, CA 92668 has free information from South Carolina Archives, Abbeville, Co. Will for William Harvick proved on 2 August 1824.

When writing for information use a stamped self-addressed envelope. Do not send all of your information the first time you write.

Busy Bee Club Hears Program On Meats

The Busy Bees Homemakers Club held its January meeting at the home of Loretta Robinson on Mine Branch Road, Newdale, on Wednesday, January 15. Ten members were present. Dorothy Hicks and Flora B. Roberson were hostesses.

Following the devotional, a business and planning session was held. The group discussed the Spring Fashion Show, and other planned activities. Mrs. Bea Neer then presented a very informative program on Meats, their nutritional values, the different cuts, purchasing and preparation.

Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month at noon at the home of Loretta Robinson, president. Any changes in meeting place or date of meeting will be announced! All homemakers of the area are invited to attend and to become members.

Council Plans Fashion Show In April

The County Council of the Homemakers Extension Club enjoyed a noon day luncheon at the home of Mary Ann Wampler, January 8. A membership drive for 1980 is underway, and anyone interested may call the Home Extension office, 682-6186.

Plans are being laid for a Spring Fashion Show in April. This will be open to the public and will include a luncheon and entertainment. Tickets will be sold in advance. More on this later.

A litter drive is being planned to clean up the highway, especially on East Main Street leading into town. We who like to have our countryside look beautiful hope to find a solution to this problem.

Happy Homemakers Make Plans

The Happy Homemakers Extension Club met with Mary Anne Wampler for their January meeting. There were 18 members and 2 guests present, to discuss their many activities.

Sandi Ray presided at her first meeting of the year as President, and Patti McCall gave devotions.

The Christmas gifts to a needy family were deeply appreciated.

Postage stamps are still being collected and are used for feeding the hungry children of Bangladesh.

All members are asked to bring their favorite recipes to the Extension office to be sent on to National.

An interesting Area Meeting is being planned for March with hair styles, clothing and grooming, fabric selections, latest sewing tips and shortcuts, and color and make-up included in the program.

A most informative program was presented by Mary Margaret Deyton on how to make Any-bodies into Who-bodies.

The club is planning a birthday party at the Haven Heights Home in February with refreshments and entertainment.

Can-Do Club Invites New Membership

Membership Drive Chairman, Linda Hensley, would like to encourage any working women who are interested in learning through an extension homemakers club to join the Can-Do Homemakers. Can-Do is a night club comprised mostly of women who work during the day. The women enjoy learning new crafts, learning homemaking hints through the programs provided by the N.C. Extension Service and just having good fellowship.

You are invited to visit the club at their next meeting January 17 at 7:30 p.m. at Sandra Orr's home on Old Green Mountain Road. For directions or for more information, please call Linda

Cheerleading Workshop Planned

A cheerleading workshop for anyone between the ages of 7 and 12 will be held Saturday, February 2, from 9:30 to 11:00 a.m. at East Yancey Middle School, according to Joyce A. Watts, Yancey County Extension Agent 4-H. The Mountain Heritage cheerleaders will be conducting this workshop, teaching the basics of cheerleading and possibly some advanced techniques. If other workshops are necessary, they will be scheduled at this workshop. Come out and learn how to really cheer for your favorite team!

Madison County 4-H Exchange Club is sponsoring a Disco Roller Skating Party on Thursday, January 31, from 7:30-9:30 p.m. at Riverside Roller Rink. The cost is $2.00. Anyone interested is welcome to attend. The Exchange Club is planning a trip to Wisconsin this summer.
