Democrats Will Hold Convention In Raleigh; June 16th Is The Date

Raleigh, March 1.—The Democratic state convention will be held in Raleigh on June 16.

By an overwhelming vote the state executive committee tonight selected the capital city for the convention after receiving heavy invitations from Charlotte and Sanford. The vote was announced 91 in favor of Raleigh, 17 for Charlotte and two for Sanford. Upon motion of Edgar W. Pharr of Charlotte, leader of the delegation from that city which invited the state convention, the selection was unanimous.

Before the committee set the convention date and selected the meeting place it heard Senator Joseph W. Bailey, of Raleigh, predict the defeat of President Hoover in November and call for the "most united democracy in this state and nation which we have seen in two decades."

Bailey, charging President Hoover with "supine neglect" during the greatest crisis this country has ever known, said that every legislative measure being enacted by a Democratic Congress for relief of the people of America should have been acted upon last year by a special session of Congress.

"As the time for an election approaches," Bailey said, "I note a restlessness throughout the state and nation lest by some peradventure which might arise to help him and the Republican party Herbert might be elected President again in November."

"Let me assure you," he asserted vigorously, "there is not a chance in the world of such a thing happening even with the aid and guidance of the Democratic party."

"This year, Bailey said, "is universally recognized as a Democratic year."

Hoover, Bailey continued, did not call Congress to meet between March 4, 1931, and the time "the Democratic Congress met in December," and failed to take any steps to remedy conditions "when banks were failing, commerce was collapsing and fear, hysteria and demoralization were overcoming the people of the United States for the first time in the nation's history."

"Hoover," he said, "will be judged by the victims of his supine neglect during the greatest crisis in American history."

Mrs. Palmer Jerman, of Raleigh, national Democratic committee woman from North Carolina spoke in the committee briefly and predicted a sweeping Democratic victory in this year's elections.

Resolutions expressing regret at the deaths, during the past two years, of two committee members, S. M. Gatis of Hillsboro, and W. L. Parsons, of Rockingham, were adopted. S. M. Gatis, Jr., was named to succeed his father and F. W. Bynum was elected to succeed Parsons.

Solicitor Clawson L. Williams of Sanford presented the invitation to the convention for his city.

J. L. Relaney, Mayor Charles E. Lambeth, A. L. Byrd, Col. Wade H. Harris and Paul C. Whitlock of Charlotte spoke in favor of holding the convention there and were supported by Walter Murphy of Salisbury, and C. W. Brawley of Durham.

Willis Smith, Raleigh, and T. W. Gwynn of Haywood county, and Mrs. Marshall Williams of Faison, urged that the meeting be held in Raleigh.

In addition to setting the date for the state convention the executive committee called for pre-meetings June 4, the date of the Democratic primary, and for the county conventions, June 11.

Committee Members Favor Roosevelt For Nomination

Raleigh, March 1.—A decided pro-Roosevelt sentiment flavored the meeting here tonight of the North Carolina Democratic executive committee.

A canvass of leading members of the committee indicated the New York governor has the post position as this state's choice for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Odus M. Mull, of Shelby, chairman of the committee, summed up the situation thus:

Roosevelt is easily in the lead now, but like a woman's hat, positions are subject to change in fashion.

Speaker Garner is a latent second choice.

Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 Democratic nominee, is in the position Jack Dempsey was in his fight with King Levinsky, at Chicago, "has been." Governor W. M. Murray is a candidate in "Oklahoma."

Little sentiment is found for the other with the exception of a sprinkling for Newton D. Baker, Mull said.

Mrs. Palmer Jerman, of Raleigh, national Democratic committee woman for North Carolina, said the majority of women she had discussed national politics with, are for Roosevelt. But she said she has not made up her mind whom she favors.

Tam C. Bowie, of West Jefferson, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the United States, said North Carolina was definitely on the Roosevelt ship.

From eastern to western counties of the state, the executive committee members expressed their sentiments for Roosevelt: "He looks to be the man who can win."

Preceding their meeting here tonight the committee members were guests of Governor and Mrs. O. Max Gardner at a buffet supper at the executive mansion.

When talk drifted to national politics, Roosevelt in most every case was the first name to be mentioned.

GOVERNMENT SEED LOANS TO BE PLACED CAREFULLY

Though the maximum loan which will be made to any farmer out of the reconstruction fund set up by Congress amounts to $400, it is more likely that the amount will average around $75. Only 50 million dollars has been appropriated for this fund and further money will be dependent upon the sale of bonds issued for the purpose. The fund this year is not for farmers alone in the drought areas but for all the farmers in the United States, except in two states, who cannot get credit locally.

"This means," says Dean L. O. Schaub of State College, "that the county committees must scrutinize all applications very carefully and that further inspection of the applications will be made in Washington before any loan is approved. Then, too, no loan will be allowed for any increase in cash crops. Some increases will be allowed in truck crops grown for home use. The farmer growing over ten acres of cotton and three acres of tobacco last year must agree to reduce his acreage by 35 per cent of both crops this year and no man who did not grow the two crops last year will be given a loan to produce such crops this year."

Mr. Schaub wants it carefully kept in mind that these loans are not gifts but must be repaid at the rate of 5-1-2 per cent interest secured by a mortgage on the crop. The crops must be grown according to the advice and suggestion of the county agent.

"These farmers receiving loans in drought areas last year will be rated according to how they repaid the loans and this will, in a large measure, determine whether new loans will be made to them this year," said Mr. Schaub. He stated that machinery for making the loans is being organized readily and that as soon as the blanks are received from Washington, the county agents and committees will be ready to push the applications through.

Thomas Talley Dies After Third Operation On Leg

Thomas P. Talley, 72, died at his home just off the Wentworth road near Cavalry church Thursday morning about 3 o'clock. Death followed the third amputation of portions of his left leg. The first amputation, necessitated by gangrene, occurred about the middle of December, was made just above the ankle. The limb continued to be affected, and a second operation was necessary, though it was to no avail. The third amputation, made recently, removed the leg near the hip.

Mr. Talley is survived by his wife, and six children. There are three boys, Fred, Marshall and J. H. Talley; and three daughters, Miss Callie Talley, Mrs. Robert Jackson and Mrs. Roy Carter.

Will Plant Trees

A program is being arranged by the following local organizations for the planting of trees at the high school building on Friday, the 11th: Dolly Madison Book club, Parent-Teacher association, Garden club, American Legion and Eastern Star. The exercises will take place in the afternoon at 2:30 and the program will appear in the next issue of The Messenger.

Delicious ice cream, cake, sandwiches and coffee were served. The decorations, as well as refreshments, carried out the St. Patrick day idea.

The seventh grade, under the direction of Mrs. Kirby Reid, gave a most interesting program celebrating the bicentennial of George Washington in chapel Friday morning. The class opened the program by singing "The Star Spangled Banner," and "Father of the Land we Love." The bicentennial was explained by Helen Cooke. The papers which had been written on Washington were read. "Washington, the Man," by Leonard Powers, "Stories About Washington," by Bernice Gann, "Quotations by Him," by Sarah Martin, "His Rules of Conduct," by Deane Crews, "An Original Poem," by Georgette Griffin, "George Washington's Prayer," by Frances Landreth, "Lincoln's Tribute to Him," by William Turner. An interesting exhibit of posters, showing historical scenes in his life, a clay profile, silhouettes and booklets were shown. An amusing and well acted play "When Martha and George Returned," was given by four pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCollum and Miss Elizabeth Applewhite of Greensboro were guests of Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Reid Sunday.

Prize Offered In The Milk Campaign

Dr. Allen and Dr. Brooks offer prizes for the best milk poster submitted by school children in the milk poster contest. Dr. Allen is offering a silver cup for the best milk poster furnished by any pupil in the graded schools of a county, while Dr. Brooks is offering a silver cup for the best milk poster submitted by any high school pupil of the State.

Contestants for these State prizes must have their rhymes in the office of the State Board of Health not later than noon, April 30th. They must be original and not exceed six lines in length.

Dr. Parrott Offers Two
Silver Cups

Dr. J. M. Parrott of State Health Officer, is offering two silver cups as prizes for the best poster submitted by school children in the milk poster contest, an educational feature of the State-wide Milk-For-Health Campaign that is being conducted by the State Board of Health. Dr. Parrott considers that interest in the use of milk for health created through educational processes such as the poster and essay contests sponsored by the schools, is not only lasting, but will produce permanent results.

One of the cups offered is for the best milk poster made by a boy or girl in any graded school in the State and the other is for the best poster by any high school pupil in the State. Not more than five posters from each group may be submitted from any one county to the State Committee, but every school in every county is expected to enter the contest.

The Board of Health by April 25, 1932 and should be in sizes of either 14 by 22 inches or 22 by 28 inches. The chief requirement is that the message of the poster be brief, based on facts, not overstated, and that it make no unfair comparisons.

CHANGING FOOD HABITS AIDS DAIRY-FARMING

The change in diet of the American people during the past 20 years to where more fruit, vegetables and dairy products are consumed is causing a shift in production to meet these new demands and is especially having an effect on the dairy industry.

A. C. Kimrey, dairy extension specialist at State College, has been digging into these facts recently and reports a phenomenal shift to milk, butter and cheese during the last two decades. At the same time there has been a decline in the demand for meats. This increasing desire for dairy products, however, is having its effect in the keeping of more and better dairy cattle and is further resulting in the supply of meat to come as a by-product of the dairy industry.

In other words, the veal calves and unprofitable milk cows are sold by dairymen for beef purposes and when these cows especially are properly fattened, they furnish a nutritious and palatable meat at a comparatively low price. This is because the meat is coming as a by-product of the dairy industry.

Mr. Kimrey also makes the point that the milk cow is the most economical producer of human food in the animal kingdom. She can convert a 100 pounds of feed into more than any other class of domestic livestock. A good example, says Mr. Kimrey, is cheese. One gallon of 5 per cent milk will make one pound of cheese comparable with a pound of meat in food value and requires much less feed to produce.

"As the population of this country increases and the land for each person decreases, the dairy cow and her product will supply a larger per cent of our food than she now does," says Mr. Kimrey.

We wish to extend thanks to our many friends and neighbors for the kindnesses shown during the death of our husband and father, Jack Sherron. Mrs. Jack Sherron and Children.

It is estimated that the straw berry crop of Pender county will be about 50 per cent short this season due to excessive early blooming.

TAR HEELS HIT SMITH'S STAND

Delegation At Washington
Commits On His Statement

Washington, March 1.—Alfred E. Smith's declaration Saturday that he intended to fight for adoption of a liquor plank in the 1932 Democratic platform and force prohibition as a paramount issue in the presidential campaign was severely criticized today by members of the North Carolina delegation.

Senator Cameron Morrison, who is national Democratic committeeman and has such much weight in shaping national policies of his party, took exception to Smith's plan to bring to the front the wet and dry issue and predicted defeat for the 1928 Democratic nominee if he endeavored to write the so-called Raske-home rule plank in the platform at the Chicago convention.

"We will attend to Smith in due and orderly time, at present I do not desire to discuss the matter." Previously he had issued this statement:

"Prohibition is not a matter for the national party to decide. It is a state question and I do not expect to see Mr. Smith's views win in the convention."

Representative Hancock of the fifth North Carolina district displayed indifference toward Smith's remarks. "I am not concerned with Al Smith's opinion of his views or plans at this time," Hancock asserted. Senator Bailey is in Raleigh and could not be reached for a statement.

In commenting on Smith's speech before the National Democratic Club of New York, Representative Doughton of the eighth North Carolina district said:

"The same old Al—he does not think, study or dream about anything but liquor. I don't think prohibition will be a party issue. Woodrow Wilson said prohibition was not a political issue and it is not. Wets can't make dry wet and dry can't make wet dry. Smith has had his day in court and now should stand aside." When asked if he thought Smith would split the convention with his anti-prohibition activity, Doughton said:

"No one man is big enough to run the convention. We are going to nominate a strong candidate and we will sweep the country. No fanatic on liquor or any other question is going to prevent this victory."

Representative Lambeth of the seventh district, when asked for his comment on Smith's assertion that prohibition "should be a paramount issue said:

"I emphatically disagree with anybody who undertakes to paralyze prohibition in the 1932 campaign."

Representative Warren of the first district said "economics and not prohibition should be the paramount issue in the approaching presidential campaign."

Will Meet In Danbury Next Monday: Tobacco

J. A. Highfill, farmer and business man of Winston-Salem who is actively interested in the cooperative movement for farmers in this section, addressed an audience of farmers on the subject at Danbury Saturday. Notwithstanding the fact that the attendance was not large, the enthusiasm was strong among those farmers in attendance, and they promised to bring their neighbors out to the next meeting.

County Agent J. E. Trevaugh was present and offered to lead the movement in the county. This was given unanimous consent.

The next meeting of farmers looking to the completion of an organization will be held at Danbury on the 1st Monday in March. At this time it is hoped to have one or more good speakers present and farmers are urged to attend and bring their neighbors along.—Danbury Reporter, Feb. 24th.

AT BAPTIST CHURCH

(O. E. Ward, Pastor)

Services for Sunday, March 6th, Sunday school at 10 A. M.—classes for all ages. Morning worship at 11 o'clock, subject: "The Man Who Forgot." Evening service, 7:30, subject: "Christ's Vision of a Fallen Prince." Prayer services on Thursday evening at 7:30. Our lesson will be on Abraham. Everyone invited to attend either or all of these services. You will find in these days of wear and tear, toil and strain, the church a great benefit—try it.

Twenty-five farmers in the Putnam section of Moore county say they will plant lespedeza this season. Several will plant for the first time.

Woman's club? Minutes of January meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. J. C. Jarrett gave a reading, "Someone Has Lied."

After a brief business meeting, the program was completed by singing, "We Believe in the South."

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Holmes. The arrangement of kitchen utensils and equipment of the proper height for working surfaces was discussed, and a very helpful demonstration on cleaning windows, kitchen utensils and silverware was given.

The hostess also urged the women to make physical improvements around their home grounds.

Returning to the living room, the hostess conducted two contests, causing each one to put on her thinking cap. Mrs. Pitts and Mr. J. H. Stone were winners, each receiving very appropriate gifts.

The hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. King, served delicious sandwiches and hot coffee, followed by fruit. Miniature favors with helpful verses on each was given as favors to remind us of St. Valentine day had just passed.

After Mrs. John Vaughn invited the club to meet with her in March, we adjourned, each declaring that Mrs. Jarrett was a most charming hostess.

Sadler Club Meeting
(Miss Thelma Burton)

The Sadler Home Demonstration club met Wednesday, February 17th, at the home of Mrs. Ernest Snow.

Mrs. Frederick Daniel, vice-president, called the meeting to order. In keeping with the spirit of Washington, our patriotic song, "America," was heartily sung by the club. Mrs. Daniel then led in prayer.

The roll was called by the secretary, with nine members and three visitors answering with "The quality in a woman that attracts me most." The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Old and new business was discussed. Miss Holmes reminded us of the March short course to be held at Wentworth on March 22d, 23d and 24th. Mrs. George Jackson, Muriel McAlister and Thelma Burton were appointed as delegates to attend this course on different days.

A splendid paper, "Washington," was interestingly read by Mrs. George Jackson.

Miss Holmes then took charge of the meeting. She talked on home management and beautification of home grounds. The arrangement, placing and cleaning of kitchen utensils and equipment of proper height for convenience and labor saving and cleaning reagents were discussed and demonstrated.

Mrs. Snow then served delicious fruits, which were enjoyed by everyone present.

A short social hour of talking was spent. Then all sang "America the Beautiful," and repeated the club collect, which closed the meeting.

The club adjourned after a most enjoyable meeting to meet March 16th with Muriel McAlister.
