FIRE RAZES BARN - A roaring fire that sent huge bellows of heavy, dark smoke several hundred feet into the air completely destroyed the cattle barn plus several outbuildings at Mission Farm near the Cherokee - Clay County line around 3:30 p.m. April 20, W. D. Townson of Murphy owns the farm. The fire was reproted by L. C. Loudermilk of the U. S. Forest Service who was spotting forest fires by airplane, It was estimated to 5 to 6,000 bales of hay were destroyed. All cattle were saved except for two calves, and one hog. Several pieces of farm machinery were lost, in addition to the cattle barn, a machinery shed, grain house and pig parlor were destroyed. The Murphy Fire Department saved a crib containing some $8,000 worth of corn, Mr. Townson said.

Andrews -- The Andrews High School graduating class of 1962 is going to have a real treat this year. A native of Andrews and a graduate of Andrews High School of 1932 Sara Ruth Posey Morgan, will address them at First Baptist Church May 28 at 8 p.m. Sara Ruth has had a most unusual experience in her career, She has developed her talents as very few have. Starting her working career after earning a B. S. degree at Asheville College, on to a M. S. degree from the Univer-Tennessee then two years study courses in Asheville University Law School. To complete her store of knowledge she went through a study course at Womans College, University of N. C. and from there to Case Institute of Technology at Cleveland,

After all these years of development and study, Sara Ruth, returned to Cherokee County and worked as bookkeeper and assistant cashier in Citizens Bank & Trust Company in Murphy, N. C. She went from there to become a teacher in the Uni-versity of N. C. Demonstration School in Chapel Hill, From there she went to the University of Tennessee as Teaching Fellow and is now associate professor, in the Department of Business Ad-ministration, Alabama

Pi Omega Pi member of Sigma Alpha Sigma; state chairman of Alabama Business Law Teachers Association in Teachers Association in Southeastern States; and secretary to official board of rallo Alabama, Methodist Church, In 1961, Sara Ruth, received certificate of

Citizons Work For Improved Phone Service

Hayesvine - Rising interest and support is being shown by Clay County people in their efforts to have service im-proved and rates lowered.

As a result of an appeal for contributions mailed to each subscriber just a few days ago, more than $75.00 has already been recieved. This money will be used to add to funds collected by other counties to defray legal costs of opposing the rate increase. Mayor Don Weaver expressed Hayesville's concern and disappointment at the vandalism of the Telephone Company's Booth on His-

's Booth on Hia-Street at McClure

He said that he felt juveniles represent with juvenile minds and done this rather than any-me's considered reprisal to-tered the Telephone Company.

Merit from Alabama Federation of Women's Clubs as one of the 10 outstanding women in Alabama,

So every step that Sara uth has taken has been upward, And Andrews is very proud of her. It is our belief that she can give the 1962 graduating class some very valuable advise. We are lucky that she can take the time from her busy schedule to talk to the 1962 graduates of Andrews High School.

TIMELY ADVICE: L. L. Kisselburg, county office manager writes "There is no better investment in any farming program than quality seed, and the use of the information on the seed tag is a good place

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: Who knows why Clay County is listed in the World Almanac with two cou inty seats, Hayes ville and Brasstown, why Cleveland County, N. C. has tow seats, Kings Mountain and Shelby, why Martin County, N. C. has two seats listed, Willimston and Hamilton, I'm at a loss because I have never heard of a county having more than one county seat, The answer is somewhere, do you have

SUMMER WEATHER: Our area has been blessed with beautiful weather this past week. It must be getting near summer because the flowers are blooming, girls are wearing shorts, trees are starting to bud, girls are wearing shorts, local merchants are displaying, seeds, lawnmowers, garden tools, girls are wearing shorts, yes sir, the good ole summerting the time to sit back, relax and enjoy the "Scenery."

BASEBALL SEASON: Roger Maris of the New York Yankees (they call themselves a baseball team) has said "Anyone expecting me to hit 61 homerums again must have rocks in his head." That explains why my head has felt unusually heavy this week.

DID YOU KNOW: The brown trout is a widely-distributed species in America, but it is not native to this country. Its original habitatwas in Europe, but now it may be taken fro many mountain streams in North Carolina. * * * There are over 11,000 different types of insects native to North Carolina, including over 2,000 types of flies.

BIG FISH SECRET: Don't tell anyone about this, try it for yourself and see the results, Big bass are nightfeed-ers, particularly in hot weather, if daytime angling in your ballwick is not satisfactory, give night fishing a whiri. Plugs work as well as live baits. Splashing and gurgling plugs seem to have more pulling power than silent travelers.

FREE CIRCUS TICKET: A Free Circus Ticket will be given to the first person clip-ping out this column and mail-ing it back to me with a one new subscription en-with it. This is for the Circus sponsored by the Cherokee County Rescus Squad, to be held on May 14. earliest postmark will de the winner.

15 Citizens Protest Sawmill In Their Residential Area citizens met in special ses-sion Monday night, April 23, with the Murphy Town Board protesting the construction and operation of a sawmill in their neighborhood.

The proposed sawmill is to be built by Cliff Radford on Glenwood street in East Murphy just inside the town

The home owners in the neighborhood bordering on the site of the proposed sawmill requested assistance from the town board in stopping the construction and operation of the sawmill.

Cliff Radford, whose home is located on GlenwoodStreet, proposes to build and opera the mill, Mr. Radford sold the adjoining building lots to some of the complainants.

The group brought to the attention of the town board that the operation of a saw-mill in their neighborhood would be determental to property values, create a hazard for small children, and be annoying to elderly people living

Several property owners pointed out that in their deeds from Radford, he specified certain restrictions preventing them from constructing sinesses or other buildings that might reduce the value of the property as a residential Mr. Radford was not present a the meeting.

The town board directed, by motion, that C. E. Johnson, town clerk, inform Mr. Rad-ford of the board's intention to adopt an ordinance pro-hibiting the future construction and operation of any business that might be hazardous to life or reduce value of property within a specified distance of a residence. residential area or within

The board further requested the assistance of the league of Municipalities and the town attorneys in drawing up the town ordinance.
