

ASCS District Office Managers Guest Of Cherokee County Unit

Cherokee Scout & Clay County Progress, Thurs., Oct. 4, 1962

Office managers in district 11, met Friday Sept. 21, 1962, at the ASCS office in Murphy and Mr. J.H. Enloe, District Fieldman, as representative of the state office presided. These manager meetings are held each month in one of the counties in the Western District, (also meetings of the same nature are held in each district across the state). These meetings are very beneficial, as each ASCS program is discussed and needed advice is brought out by Mr. Enloe. This in turn helps us to have better knowledge in presenting the ASCS programs to the farmer.

The managers attending were: Frances Honeycutt from Henderson County, John Wynn, Macon County, Blanche Vines, Buncombe County, Clemlie Lovin, Swain County, Floyd Fisher, Jackson County, James Garland, Graham County, Ab Ferguson, Haywood County, Jewell Reid, Transylvania County, June Waldrop, Clay County, L.L. Kisselburg, Cherokee County and Mr. Enloe, State Office Representative.

After the business session Mr. Enloe and all managers toured The Copper Basin At Copperhill, Tenn., for the purpose of seeing land that was so eroded and also land that had been treated with conservation materials. This can show farmers that land which is eroded can be corrected and be of good use if conservation is used. This tour was definitely pointing out that the ACP program administered by all ASCS offices can solve many problems for the farmer, if he will only come to the ASCS office and request assistance.

California Educational System Studied By N. Carolina Group

ANDREWS - Percy B. Ferebee returned Saturday from San Francisco where, as a member of a seven member study committee (five from the Board of Trustees and two officers of the Consolidated University of N. C.), he had been to study the higher educational system of California. The committee was seeking information, in light of the recent request from the cities of Charlotte and Wilmington that the campuses of the University be established at these two cities, to help it determine what role the University of North Carolina should play in the development of higher education in the state, what should the University of North Carolina do about the expansion of its present campuses, and how should it allocate its functions between its present campuses and any future campuses that might be established. In view of California's tripartite system of education, consisting of the University of California with eight campuses, a state college system with sixteen campuses, and more than seventy two-year junior colleges, it was felt that in California the committee would be more apt to find the answers to the problems confronting North Carolina than in any other state. The committee found in California evidence of more experience and knowledge in dealing with the specific questions that face this state's higher educational system than was dreamed of by the most optimistic member of the committee.

University of California officials from the President down, and the state college system from the Chancellor down, and the junior colleges all furnished the committee with much written material and related to the committee their personal experience in solving problems similar to those now facing North Carolina and could not have been more cooperative and helpful.

The study committee will report to a special committee appointed by Governor Sanford, after which the special committee will make its recommendations to the full Board of Trustees of the Consolidated University.

Kill Alfalfa Weevils Now

Alfalfa weevil can destroy alfalfa stands in Cherokee County next year, says James M. Stewart, County Agricultural Agent. Weevils are now in all parts of the county. There is a very effective way to control this pest.

Fall treatment with granular heptachlor will effectively control weevils. Granular heptachlor broadcast evenly with a cyclone ceeder on the surface of fields between October 1, and November 15, at the rate of 30 pounds of 2 1/2 percent heptachlor will control the weevil. The control will be effective throughout the next season.

It is important that heptachlor be spread evenly over the alfalfa and at the right time. All alfalfa, both old and newly seeded must be treated to prevent destruction next year.

Farmers should contact their dealer now to make sure he has sufficient heptachlor. For additional information on alfalfa weevil control, contact the county agricultural agents office in Murphy.

DODGE PRESENTS THE DEPENDABLES FOR 1963!

1963 DODGE... BEAUTIFUL NEW ENTRY IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD

1963 DODGE DART... A FRESH NEW COMPACT IN THE LARGE ECONOMY SIZE

INTRODUCING THE 1963 DODGE

Now a complete new line of cars in the low-price field. The 1963 Dodge! People who see it just naturally get carried away. Reasons? 1. The looks: Great! 2. The price: Low! Wouldn't you rather own a Dodge than other low-priced cars? 3. The room: Big! Notice how the roofline sweeps straight back. That means ample headroom for the people in back, not just the ones in front. Seats? Your choice of models with sofa style, buckets or fold-down center arm rest. 4. The upkeep: Low! Dodge is rust-protected. The body unitized. The brakes self-adjusting. A major grease job lasts 32,000 miles, an oil change 4,000. 5. The feel behind the wheel: Like nothing else! Five strong engines to choose from. Smooth-going torsion-bar ride. Easy low-friction steering. Comfortable chair-high seats. Nylon, leather-grained vinyls. There are several hundred more reasons why you'll be carried away. Your Dodge Dealer has 'em all.

NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY! Your authorized Dodge Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first; on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts; torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings—provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Dodge Certified Car Care schedules. Factory approved remanufactured parts may be used for replacement.

INTRODUCING COMPACT '63 DART

At last. A compact that doesn't give anyone the sardine treatment. The 1963 Dodge Dart! Now everybody gets a fair shake on room. Note the roofline. It goes straight back. Result: Even rear-seat hat wearers are treated with deference. And so are those who like some action for a change. Dart's standard Six leaves run-of-the-mill compacts waiting and wheezing. Its optional engine (just a few bucks more) is the same way, only more so. Economical! Like you'd expect a compact to be! That's the whole idea. Dart's too roomy to be a compact, too darned thrifty to be anything else.

Few compacts cost less than Dart. None offers the value. A unitized body, for example, that's rust-protected. 32,000 miles between major grease jobs. Road-smoothing torsion-bar ride. An alternator. A high-speed starter for fast starts. Two series. Nine models, including two convertibles. See your Dodge Dealer.
