

Citizens Protest Proposed Trailer Park In E. Murphy

MURPHY - A group of property owners and residents on Mauney Street in Murphy met with the Town Board at the board's regular meeting Monday night, April 8, at the Murphy Power Board Building.

The Mauney Street group presented a petition to the board protesting "the building of a trailer court by Mrs. Lella Dickey at the end of Mauney Street."

The petition is as follows: "To The Town Board, Murphy, North Carolina: We, the undersigned property owners, protest the building of a trailer court by Mrs. Lella Dickey at the end of Mauney Street, inasmuch as the deeds of many of us have building restrictions in them, with which we have complied, we feel that a trailer court would damage us by making this a less desirable neighborhood, and thereby decrease the value of our property."

Further, we would like to ask you to consider the advisability of zoning this street for residential purposes.

W. T. Brown, Jr., Holland McSwain, Ollie McSwain, Wally Williams, Mrs. Wally Williams.

PASCHAL HUGHES

Hat Workshop

ANDREWS - A hat making workshop will be held at the Power Board Building at Murphy on Thursday (today) beginning at 10:00 a.m.

Mary Hensley, Home Economics Agent, Sylva, will be in charge. Bring sewing equipment and mold for hat you want to make.

Sweet Gum Masons Honor J. N. Bell

SWEET GUM - The Sweet Gum Masonic Lodge #543 held open house Sunday March 31 to honor their oldest member, Poley Bell, as he is familiarly called, was a resident of Cherokee County for a number of years. He served as deputy sheriff under the following sheriffs: Frank Bristol, W. P. Odom, Carl Townsend, and Zack Ramsey. During his service under Sheriff Ramsey, he and the late Bob Morrow captured three outlaws from Tennessee.

One of the outlaws, named Lee, was given a life sentence for the murder of his grandparents. Two other life termers accompanied him to Cherokee County where Mr. Bell and Morrow threw up a road block and forced their car into the Hanging Dog Creek at the Dockery Mill. They forced their arrest by having them wade out of the creek. Lee was dressed as a young lady, and it was thought that he had bought the clothes the day before in Murphy. Mr. Bell still has his clothes as souvenirs.

Worshipful Master Howard Orton and secretary Howard Dewese had charge of the program, Dan Locking, Grand Secretary of Georgia, was the guest speaker. He also presented Mr. Bell with a 50 year gold pin and an honorary certificate in behalf of his Lodge. Other speakers were the Rev. Thomas Trust and Rev. E. A. Harper.

The Eastern Star ladies served refreshments and Rev. Hoppen pronounced the closing prayer.

Pastors, teachers, and all V. B. S. helpers are urged to attend. Bring sandwiches or covered dish for a fellowship supper time together.

Sunrise Service

MURPHY - The Murphy churches are uniting in the annual sunrise Easter service at the eastern end of Sunset Cemetery.

Worship is to be at 6:30 Sunday morning, with the Rev. Hamilton C. Wither of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah bringing the message.

Others taking part in the service include Clark Benson, First Methodist Church minister, call to worship; George K. A. Haase, Free Methodist, invocation; Julian S. Suggs, minister of education, First Baptist, reading of Scripture; William J. Thompson, First Baptist, prayer; and Robert A. Potter, Presbyterian, benediction.

The assembly is to unite in the singing of Christian victory hymns: "All Hail The Power of Jesus Name," "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today," and the Doxology. All people in the community are urged to attend this meaningful community service this Easter.

Miss Addie Mae Cook of Dawson, Ga., is spending a week here in Murphy before leaving for Bryson City to become head of the Regional Library there. -M-
