this summer at Naval Air Station ALAMEDA just across the bay from San Francisco. Chief Sprung has been advised that his Squadron will perform this period of active duty for training from July 20 to August 4. This annual summer break is always something to look forward to -- and this year "liberty" in Frisco will be doubly so.

Fighter Squadron 673 - or VF 673 as it is generally referred to - consists of Fury's. Since these are single seat jet planes, only the pilots fly in them. However, a limited number of enlisted men in the Squadron get "fite orders" each month, and while on training duty, for which they receive "fite pay" in addition to their regular pay. These fite orders may be used on two-place jets, transport planes, or other aircraft available at the time to the Squadron.

The Naval Air Reserve WEEKEND WARRIORS program is open to young men 17 to 26 years of age without prior military service, and to Veterans of any military service. Only one weekend each month at Naval Air Station ATLANTA nets you four full days pay -- plus the summer cruise. This year it's Frisco -- last year it was Atlanta with liberty on weekend as just about any place you wanted to fly to -- two years ago New Orleans -- and so it goes. COME ABOARD now and get in your two weeks basic "booz" training (with full pay of course) before June 30 and be ready to fly with VF - 673 to the West Coast in July. Contact Jim Sprung at 837-3482 in Murphy for complete details.
