The Hiwassee Lake water level is to remain high until July 4. TVA officials say they will begin dropping the water level at that time.

High water doesn't seem to be affecting the fishing. A look at this week's Scout proves that some nice ones are being caught from the area lakes.

W. T. Brown, Jr., has recently purchased a registered Angus bull from J. W. Stewart of Andrews.

A placement test for prospective Peace Corps volunteers will be held Saturday, May 9, at 8:30 a.m. in Room 4 of the Sylva Courthouse.

Camp grounds and concession facilities in the Smoky Mountains are now open for the season.

The Cherokee Democratic Woman's Club will have a supper Saturday night, May 9, at 6:30 p.m. in the Murphy Elementary School lunchroom.

Murphy School Band, under the direction of Ed Reynolds will present their spring concert Sunday, May 10, at 3:00 p.m. at Murphy Grammar school Auditorium. The public is invited to attend. No admission will be charged.

Harry Bagley, author of the Scout's "Cuz's Corner," was admitted today (Thursday) to Providence Hospital for surgery. Cuz will probably tell of this adventure in a later column.

For Movie Fans: The Murphy 64 Drive-In will be open full time beginning May 7. The Valley Drive-In will be open on weekends beginning Friday, May 8.

Last week at least three local golfers gave up the putter for rod and reel to try their luck on Hiwassee Lake. Their fishing was like their golfing, way over par. In fact they didn't catch any. As luck would have it, the motor quit, and these three anxious anglers had to row for 4 1/2 hours, walk for a mile, and hitchhike back to the boat dock. Maybe golf will be the game again this week.

It's just naturally bad luck to go on a trip with these fellows. Bill, Blaine, and George (Doc) also seem to have gotten lost on a hunting trip this past season.

Judge Hyde of Murphy was overheard giving some advice to those who are unfortunate to get lost in the mountains. "Keep in mind," said Judge Hyde, "that all rocks are pointed northeast and southwest. All you have to do is find out which end is which." Scoutlet Note: This excludes round rocks, of course.

Tri-County Ministers Take Stand On Vote Buying

ANDREWS - A strong stand against the selling and buying of votes was taken by the Tri-County Ministers' Association at its May meeting Tuesday, May 5.

In view of the coming primary and Federal election the ministers adopted a resolution declaring that such conduct blights the Christian witness of those within the church and "damages the cause of Jesus Christ."

The resolution reads as follows: "In light of the fact that this is an election year, and party primaries are soon to be held, the Tri-County Ministerial Association would hereby speak an emphatic word for clean elections.

"We strongly urge all political leaders of any party of faction within a party to refrain from all vote-buying. Most right-thinking people are agreed that it is a contemptible thing to sell one's vote; if so, it is likewise contemptible to buy another's vote.

This is a saying: 'The worst is the corruption of the best.' Surely if this order is to take the privileges of free and democratic government and besmirch them by the manipulation of votes through money.

"For those in the fellowship of the church to do so blights their Christian witness and damages the cause of Jesus Christ."

"We pray to our Father and plead to all of our tri-county area for honest elections."

The program upon the theme "The Minister and Christian Social and Community Action" was led by the Rev. Joe Law of the Hayesville Methodist circuit. The Rev. Sam Austin of Hayesville Presbyterian Church gave the devotional.

The Rev. Clark Benson of the Murphy First Methodist Church named the Rev. Joel T. Key, Jesse Bailey and Glenn Rhodes, as a committee to report at the June meeting.

Annual District One Home Demonstration Club Meeting Held

MURPHY - The annual meeting of District One Federation of Home Demonstration Clubs was held at the Murphy First Baptist Church, on Monday, April 29, with Cherokee County as host county.

Coffee hour was observed from 9:30 to 10:00 a.m. in the assembly room of the church and guests were registered in the vestibule prior to the formal opening of the meeting in the church sanctuary.

Mrs. Dock Sudderth played the organ during this period and the organ music set the tempo for the day's program with Mrs. Lloyd V. Black, District I Chairman presiding throughout the day.

Mrs. Carl West of the Valleytown Home Demonstration Club gave the devotional using as the thought "What is in Thy Hand." Her Biblical reference describing the home-maker was taken from Proverbs. She stressed that the home-maker makes the most of all that come her way and that the quality of the world we live in can be no better than the quality of the homes.

Mrs. S. J. Gernert recognized the guests. Mrs. Kenneth Johnson, State Co-ordinating Treasurer brought greetings from the State Executive Board.

James M. Stewart, Jr., Cherokee County Extension Chairman, introduced Dr. George Hyatt, Jr., Director of the North Carolina Extension Service, Raleigh, who spoke on the theme "Stand tall, Home-maker." Throughout his talk he challenged the women to assume leadership, stressing the fact that every club woman has some leadership ability and that leadership is developed.

He stressed that the role of the club women in the three counties of District I is to spread out through continued education, upgrading their own skills and getting out of the rut of complacency.

The parting thought he left was the verse from St. Matthew "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

Mrs. H. W. Miller, Burnsville, Western District Music Chairman, was recognized and announced and urged the club women to participate in the State Music Workshop in Greensboro in June.

Mr. C. H. Townson, Assistant Director of Nantahala Regional Library spoke briefly to the group about using library facilities, stating that each one keep open doors and that books are "open doors."

Members with 25 or more years in Home Demonstration Club work were recognized and presented with corsages. They are as follows: Clay County, Mrs. W. C. Anderson; Graham County, Mrs. Elva McClung and Mrs. J.F. Hyde; Cherokee County, Mrs. Ben Warner, Sr., and Mrs. Clyde McNabb.

Following lunch a member of each club from the three counties modeled an apron depicting some demonstration that they particularly enjoyed. This served primarily as an "attention getter" but it did show much originality and versatility.

Mrs. Henry Key, District III Federation Chairman from Horse Shoe, N. C. reported on the National Home Demonstration Council meeting held at Little Rock, Arkansas this past October.

In her discussion she injected some of her own philosophy. She said we should have humility and cherish it. We must give attention to our youth and their education. We need to be more discerning and have a basic for our faith and we must not forget discipline by applying it first to ourselves and lastly we must not become so engrossed in what is wrong that we undermine what is right.

Mrs. Callie C. Hardwick, Western District Home Economics Agent installed the new officers: chairman, Mrs. W. A. McGlamery, Clay County; second vice chairman, Mrs. C. L. Alverson, Cherokee County; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Hugh Allen, Graham County; historian, Mrs. Eula Miller, Clay County.
