Junaluska Highway Dedication Rescheduled For Nov. 25

ANDREWS - Andrews Mayor P. B. Ferebee announced today that the dedication of the new Junaluska Highway that has been scheduled for October 6, and was postponed on account of the arrival on that date, of President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson to North Carolina, has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 25.

The dedication will begin with ribbon cutting at 11:00 a.m. This will take place at the west end of the new road. The group will travel over the highway and then return to Junaluska Gap where ceremonies of the dedication will be held.

The committee handling the dedication has been advised that Honorable J. Melville Broughton, Jr., former chairman of the State Highway Commission and presently chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee will attend along with J. K. Vessey Regional Forester of Atlanta, Ga., Peter J. Hanlon, Supervisor of N. C. National Park,

Ted Jordan, 14th Division Highway Commissioner, Robbinsville, Merrill Evans, State Chairman of Highway Division, Chief State Highway Engineer Cameron Lee and Director of Highway, William Babcock, all of Raleigh.

Governor Terry Sanford and Governor Elect Dan Moore have been invited to attend.

In addition to the general public who is invited, special invitations were sent to mayors, members of Legislators and other public officials of surrounding counties and the invitations are extended to new date of November 25.

A luncheon at Berkshire International Cafeteria will follow dedication. The program will be completed by 3 p.m.

WAYNE WATSON, Bulldog quarterback, is brought down after picking up 20 yards in a third quarter play.

Bristol Named Chairman Of Fund Drive

ANDREWS - Dave Bristol of Andrews, who guided his Pacific Coast League San Diego Padres baseball club to a triple A championship this year, has been named Chairman of the Girl Scout Fund Drive scheduled to open Friday, Nov. 13, throughout Cherokee County.

The announcement was made by Mrs. O. A. Gregory who is president of the Pisgah Girl Scout Council.

Volunteer workers, under the leadership of Mr. Bristol will seek to raise money to continue and expand Scout activities for girls from seven to seventeen years old in this area.

"I have accepted the chairmanship of this campaign with pride," Mr. Bristol said, "because I know that the program offered to the Girl Scouts in our town will help them to become better citizens at home, in their community and in the world."

Mr. Bristol went on to explain that the funds contributed to this campaign will be used to bring better Scouting to more girls. The launching of the up-dated program for the Girl Scouts of the 'sixties requires additional training for the Girl Scout Adult volunteers in our council.

"Through Girl Scouting," Mr. Bristol affirmed, "Our girls can enjoy wholesome recreation, make new friends, learn practical skills, and develop healthy attitudes that will help determine the direction their lives will take."

"The theme of the finance campaign for our Girl Scouts is 'Service... A Girl Scout Promise.' Will you make a promise to help them serve?"

Franklin Upsets Bulldogs 24-21

By Red Schuyler

MURPHY - The upset minded Franklin Panthers came to town Friday night and took home a victory of 24-21 over the Murphy Bulldogs. It was nip and tuck game all the way with first Franklin in the lead and then Murphy. Franklin scored first and last thereby giving them the game.

Murphy won the toss and decided to receive. It was a short kick and went to Hill and as Hill was tackled the ball got away from him and a Franklin man recovered on the Murphy 46 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, Franklin lined up with the center the outside man and the other linemen were to the left of him, making the center an eligible pass receiver. Instead of centering the ball through his legs, the center passed the ball back to Larry Crawford with a underhanded shovel pass and before the Bulldogs could recover, Crawford scooted down the sidelines for a TD with the whole Franklin line leading interference.

In this day and time of the various T formations, this was a very unorthodox formation, but it paid off with six points with only 44 seconds of elapsed time. The try for extra point was no good and Franklin led 6-0.

Murphy came back and picked up four consecutive first downs that carried to the Franklin 2 yard line and from there Donnie Stiles plunged over to tie the score. Cole broke the tie by running the PAT with 6 minutes and 55 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

After an exchange of punts with seven minutes and six seconds remaining in the first half, Larry Crawford spotted Grant in the end zone and fired a pass that was beautifully handled by Grant and was good for another six points. The play covered fifteen yards. The try for PAT failed and Franklin led 12-7.

Murphy's next score came with 3 minutes and 59 seconds remaining in the first half. On a sustained drive that ended up in the end zone and with Cole's run for the extra point, Murphy took the lead 14-12.

Franklin scored again before the half ended, taking an

JERRY BARNETT AND MICHAEL ROBERTS (L-R), last two participants of the 60 boys from Murphy High School who ran a torch carrying marathon from the Tennessee line to Murphy and from the county line at Topton, turning into the Murphy Fairgrounds.

Education Marathon Run Ends At Murphy Fairgrounds

MURPHY - Saturday evening, November 7, sixty boys from Murphy High School participated in a marathon run from the Tennessee line to Murphy and from the county line at Topton to Murphy.

The purpose of the marathon was to create more interest in Education for American Education week with the theme "Education is the light of hope and freedom."

A rally at the Murphy fairgrounds climaxed the run with Mayor L. L. Mason presenting certificates to the runners.

The first runner left Topton at four o'clock with a torch to be carried one mile to the next runner, who in turn passed it on to the next runner until the torch reached the ball park.

The Highway Patrol and the Cherokee County Rescue Squad worked in connection with safety measure.

Luncheon To Kick Off Girl Scout Fund Drive

A kick off luncheon at the New Regal Hotel at 12:00 on Thursday will launch the annual fund-raising campaign of the Pisgah Girl Scout Council.

The campaign will be conducted in six counties of the Council under the leadership of Mr. J. O. Hoffer, Personnel Manager of Sealtest Food Products, Campaign Chairman. Comparable public events will open the drive in 15 other communities in Western North Carolina.

Scoutlets

Halloween is a week in the past, but we tip our hats, belatedly to the fine behavior of the area goblins. From all reports no real damage was done, just a few windows marked, and a couple of tires burr-ed. In fact, when two spooky looking little youngsters came to my house and asked "Trick or treat?" I replied, "Tricks." And they said "Ah, mister, we don't have any." Wasn't like that in my day...we'd have blown the house up.

Interested in a Siamese cat? Mrs. John Davidson of Murphy has three sealpoint, pure bred kittens left for sale. If you would like one call 837-2403.

We would like to welcome Mrs. Sue Dotson, new owner of the Tar Heel Restaurant back to town. We say back to town, for Mrs. Dotson worked for the restaurant when it operated under a different name sixteen years ago. Mrs. Dotson recently moved back to Murphy from Akron, Ohio, and took over ownership of the Tar Heel last Saturday, October 31. She purchased the restaurant from Bobby O'Dell.

A prominent Republican, we'd better not say who, called the Scout office last Thursday and told "strong Republican Sue Kilpatrick" that there was a big rumor going around in town and wanted to know if she knew anything about it. Sue, thinking she was on a hot news item, bit, and asked, "What rumor?" The caller said, "I hear the Democrats had an election around here day before yesterday and wondered if you knew anything about it?" How about that?

Our faces are a little red because, due to all the commotion around here during the Scout's Open House, we forgot to thank Virgil and Bobby O'Dell of the Family Restaurant, for supplying us coffee cups, coffee, and a 50 cup coffee maker. We are a little late, but thanks anyway, fellows.

Politics will be politics. And we'll be the first to agree that it pays to advertise. But "boos" to the people who have pasted campaign stickers on area road signs. These people don't seem to realize that covering up road signs makes driving conditions hazardous and confusing. "Course folks who live around here may know every crook and corner in the road but how about people who are in transit through our community? They may not know that a sharp curve lies ahead. So what do you say, next election let's keep the road signs clean.

Well, another Scout employee just bit the dust. Weaver Carringer, our composition man, done messed up and got hitched. Better retract that "messed up" and just say he got married... I gotta live too, you know. When I first came to Murphy, former Publisher Bab and I were the only two married Scout employees. Now, out of eight, the score stands at seven down and one to go. Bookkeeper Tommie Almond still remains single. Says she likes it that way.

ual fund-raising campaign of the Pisgah Girl Scout Council.

The campaign will be conducted in six counties of the Council under the leadership of Mr. J. O. Hoffer, Personnel Manager of Sealtest Food Products, Campaign Chairman. Comparable public events will open the drive in 15 other communities in Western North Carolina.

The Girl Scouts in Murphy who have given fifty-two years of service to home and community this week begin a campaign for funds from the community to support their program for 1965.

"Our Girl Scouts, and the adult volunteers who help them, are among our finest citizens," L. L. Mason, Jr., Mayor of Murphy, said today.

The campaign for funds to support the Girl Scouts program in our town is officially opened this week. The monies you contribute will be used to bring better Scouting to more girls in our area. The Girl Scout program of the 'sixties calls for additional training for the adult volunteers in Girl Scouting. We hope to increase the number of girls who belong, train more local volunteers to be troop leaders, expand opportunities beyond the troop for the girls who are already in troops.

The Girl Scouts' theme is "Service... A Girl Scout Promise." We all hope that the citizens of Murphy will help them keep this promise, by contributing to the fund drive of 1965.

In a time when the earth has been orbited and the atom smashed, Girl Scouts still cling to the old fashioned, but still important virtues of service and concern for their fellow man.

By giving generously to this year's Girl Scout Fund Drive in Murphy, you will be helping our girls become good Scouts today, and better citizens tomorrow.

Fires Creek Checking Station Opens Monday

MURPHY - The U. S Forest Service, working in cooperation with the North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission has announced that Representatives will be at the Fires Creek Checking Station on Monday, Nov. 16, at 4:00 a.m. to begin checking in the Hunters for the Annual Managed Deer Hunt.

State Formally Approves Murphy Industrial School

MURPHY - In a letter to Holland McSwain, superintendent of Murphy City Schools, the North Carolina State Board of Education, formally approved the establishment in Cherokee County of an extension unit of the Asheville Buncombe Technical Institute.

The new school, operating temporarily under the name of Tri-County Industrial Education Center, already has six classes in business education underway, with a total enrollment of 129 students. Classes now in progress are three basic typing classes, one advanced typing class, one bookkeeping class, and one shorthand class.

Mr. McSwain stated that additional courses will be available as soon as instructors and materials are acquired.

These business courses are available only to those who have completed high school.

Murphy Jaycees To Sponsor Toys For Tots

MURPHY - A "Toys for Tots" campaign sponsored by the Murphy Junior Chamber of Commerce, gets underway this week. The collected toys will be repainted and recon-ditioned for the needy children in this county.

Special "Toys for Tots" boxes have been placed in several Murphy business establishments for your convenience, or you may call any Jaycee and they will be happy to pick up the old toys.

Jaycee M.G. Curtis, chairman of this campaign, urges all of you to go through your children's toys and place any of which you might want to discard in the "Toys for Tots" boxes or call a member of the club.

"Remember, that there are many children in this area that could be made happy at Christmas with a repainted red wagon or a mended rag doll," Jaycee Curtis stated.

Andrews PTSA To Hold Open House

ANDREWS - The Andrews Parent - Teacher - Student Association will hold its regular meeting at the Andrews High School on Monday, November 16, at 7:30 p.m.

Open house will be held to give parents an opportunity to see the newly completed gymnasium and cafeteria.

President Joe El Khouri urges all parents, teachers, and interested friends to be present at this meeting.

Homemaking Class Tours Area Homes

MURPHY - Recently the fifth period Homemaking Class of Murphy High School, along with their teacher, Miss Jewell Garrett, visited several of the newly built homes in the Murphy area.

Mrs. Beryl Fulton, customers Relations Representative of the Murphy Power Board guided the girls through the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Rumpie, Mrs. Macy O'Dell, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gentry. The class was delighted with the new lighting techniques and modern arrangements of the houses they saw.

This tour was conducted as a part of the Housing Unit in the regular course of study of this class.

The tour was followed by summary of the features of the homes, and slides were shown of a "Home of Living Light" presented by Mrs. Fulton.
